BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 2.—Discussions are taking place with representatives of the United States, soviet Russia, the British dominions, and other united nations on the various aspects of postwar problems, Lord Cranborne, colonial secretary and spokesman for the government, told the house of lords today.

However, he emphasized that the discussions are in the confidential stage and said there were overwhelming reasons why the British government could not make a general or unilateral declaration of policy at the present time, altho the government sympathized with the desire to see progress in the formulation of a postwar policy.

Lords Make Suggestions.

The debate in the house of lords brought forth these suggestions which the peers see as affecting or necessary in a postwar settlement:

1. There must be some surrender of sovereign rights by the smaller nations. No international organization could succeed unless "it worked in close coöperation with the United States."
2. The peace settlement must be based on the fundamental aims of the Atlantic charter, but when the war is over it will be time enough for the inclusion of those principles in a legal document.
3. The first step in reconstruction must be relief of starving populations and crippled economy.
4. There must be long term control of German police, education, and finances.

Lord Addison declared that an agreement between Russia and the United States on the principle of military occupation of Germany should be reached in advance of a postwar settlement.

Welcomes Help of Russia.

Lord Cranborne singled out the soviet union for specific mention with these words:

"We are in close touch with Russia, which is playing a big part in the winning of the war and has an equally great part in winning the peace."

He also welcomed China's participation "in the task of a world settlement."

Referring to the Atlantic charter Cranborne said the British government considered itself pledged to carry out the articles of that document. However, he said the application of its principles must be a matter not for the British government alone, but, when peace comes, the joint task of all the nations which have adhered to it.

Anything said now, Cranborne declared, not only would be useless, but more likely to do more harm than good. The moral disaster which overtook Woodrow Wilson's 14 points, he said, was because it was a mistake to anticipate the terms of a peace treaty.

Discuss Relief Measures.

Looking to postwar relief, allied agricultural experts and other representatives in London already are surveying requirements for after the war, when it is expected there will be multitudes of homeless and penniless people in Europe, Cranborne said.

To Lord Addison, who suggested that smaller nations must surrender some rights and that Germany be put under postwar control, Cranborne replied that it is essential that after the war the forces of order be stronger than the forces of disorder if peace is to be preserved.

REDS' AIMS FOR SECURITY

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

MOSCOW, June 2.—The Memorial day speech of American Undersecretary of State Welles was received favorably here and emphasis was given to his passages about the united nations plans for postwar security.

It is Russia's declared aim to bring back under soviet power the republics of Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Karelia, Bessarabia, White Russia, and the Ukraine which are now largely under Nazi domination. These territories are regarded as of strategic importance to the soviet union.

The door to direct negotiations has never been closed against Russia's ally Poland. Stalin has pledged the resurrection of a strong independent Polish state.

Baby Seized to Get Ransom, Died in a Fall

Marquette, Mich., June 2 [Special].—Ross Heath, 15 years old, of Chicago, kidnaped Baby Gloria Jean Nault for ransom—an idea he got from a radio program — and accidentally killed her when he stumbled and fell upon her, he said in his written confession released by state police late today as he was arraigned in court.

The boy, a roamer who has spent most of his life with circuses, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of kidnaping and was held under $25,000 bond for trial at the September term of the Circuit court. Maximum punishment for the charge in Michigan is life imprisonment.

Death Upset Plans.

The crime, termed by authorities the most heinous in upper peninsula police annals, was committed Sunday night as the two months old infant lay sleeping on the back seat of a car parked in front of a tavern at New Swanzy, 20 miles from here, where her parents had stopped for a few minutes.

Heath said his ransom plans went awry when he fell upon the baby as he was running from the scene. Ascertaining that the child was dead, he said he stripped off her clothes in the hope of misleading police into believing "an animal got her."

Read Book After Crime.

He placed the nude and bruised little body in the cab of a truck a quarter of a mile from the tavern, he related, then went home and read a book for a while before going to bed. He was seized yesterday noon after state police, with the aid of a bloodhound, had tracked him by the prints made by the cowboy boots he wore.

The parents of the baby are Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Nault who live on a farm near New Swanzy. Nault is employed as a miner in nearby ore mines. They have five other children, the eldest of whom—Mae Alice, 16—is employed in the kitchen at the tavern where they had stopped.

Excerpts of Confession.

Excerpts from Heath's confession follow:

Q.—Are you willing to answer questions regarding the kidnaping and killing of a two month old child by the name of Gloria Jean Nault, in the village of Gwinn, Forsythe township, Mich.? A.—Yes.

Q.—Why do you wish to answer these questions? A.—My conscience bothers me and I want to clear it up.

Q.—Will you start at the time of 5 p. m. on May 31, 1942, and tell us your actions and movements in detail as near as you can remember, while in the vicinity of Gwinn, Mich., Forsythe township? A.—Yes.

Story of Kidnaping.

Q.—O. K., you may start. A.—Well, we started supper at about 5 p. m. at Leo Beauchamp's [where the boy was living and working] in New Swanzy, near Gwinn, finished supper about 6 p. m. I took a pair of tires into Gwinn and tried to sell them to Bernard. He didn't want to buy them, so I brought them back home. I then cleaned up and changed my clothes. I was wearing my high top English riding boots. After I got my clothes changed I went back to Gwinn, directly to the Hiawatha Gardens, and stayed until 10:15 p. m. I then walked down the road toward New Swanzy until I came to the Kes Ke Bo tavern. I noticed a black sedan. I walked up to this car. I seen a baby in it in the back seat wrapped up in a pink blan-

Suspend WPA; Pick Berries, Workers Told

East St. Louis, Ill., June 2 [Special].—All WPA projects in three southern Illinois counties—Jefferson, Marion and Washington—were closed down tonight, taking 600 persons off the government dole to make them available for private employment as strawberry pickers.

WPA workers who refuse jobs in private employment, it was said, will face classification as ineligible to receive future WPA aid or direct relief.

In announcing the action, James A. Carruthers, district WPA director, said the same procedure would be followed in other counties if farm harvest emergencies arise.

May Act for Other Crops.

Altho his present order is to remain effective only until the strawberry season ends, Carruthers indicated that similar action would be taken for other crops over which harvesting problems have become acute in many Illinois counties because of the many laborers who have gone to war or war production jobs.

Carruthers' admission that a strawberry harvest emergency exists in the three counties was considered by some farmers an understatement of the situation inasmuch as a large part of the strawberry crop is reported already to have spoiled in the fields because of a shortage of pickers. Some growers expressed the opinion the WPA shutdown would have been extremely valuable a week ago but had come too late.

Farmers told of WPA laborers who had been asked to leave nonessential projects and pick strawberries had revolted against doing that kind of work. WPA officials had promised the growers all the help they needed and told WPA workers they would get their dole jobs back when the harvest was in.

Resent Going to Fields.

However, instances were reported of WPA laborers staging a near riot in refusing to go into the fields, and of others deliberately sabotaging carefully nurtured vines because they did not like to pick berries. Some WPA workers wouldn't go to the fields in the truck sent for them because the vehicle had only benches instead of permanent seats.

Strawberry pickers in the three counties receive an average of 3 cents for each quart of berries picked. Pickers are expected to pick 100 boxes a day, but exceptional workers can pick more than 200 boxes a day, which would pay them more than $6 a day. The average WPA pay in the three counties has been $52 a month for 120 hours.

The shutdown order released from WPA projects 225 men in Marion county, 225 in Jefferson and 25 in Washington county. Names of released WPA workers available for jobs in the fields are available at United States Employment service headquarters at Mount Vernon and Centralia, and at county WPA offices in Salem, Nashville and Mount Vernon, Carruthers said.

O. K. PLAN TO ALLOW ALIMONY DEDUCTION FOR INCOME TAXES

Washington, D. C., June 2 (AP).—The house ways and means committee decided today, informed sources said, that henceforth alimony should be taxed as income to the recipient and should be deductible from a man's taxable income. Under present law, a man paying alimony must include it in his taxable income.

The committee also was reported to have decided to provide for deduction of expenses incurred in production of nontrade or nonbusiness income. Existing law permits taxpayers to deduct expenses incurred in connection with a trade or business.

No action was taken on a treasury proposal that charitable or educational institutions be taxed on that part of their income devoted to activities unrelated to their primary activities.

ARMY WILL ISSUE GAS MASKS FOR HAWAIIAN BABIES

HONOLULU, T. H., June 2.—The first gas masks for children up to three years will be issued by the Army Chemical Warfare service Thursday to mothers in the seaward sections of Honolulu, which would be evacuated in the event of an attempted invasion, it was announced today.

Col. George F. Unmacht, Hawaiian department chemical officer, said mothers drawing the masks must turn in an empty screwtop bottle of two to four ounce capacity for each mask taken. These will replace the three ounce bottles containing sodium phenolate, which the army is issuing with each mask. Col. Unmacht said it is impossible to purchase these bottles here in large quantity.

The infants' masks—called "bunny masks," because they have ears resembling rabbits—were manufactured here under army supervision.

Death Spares Sailor; Brother Killed at Home

Tragedy and sorrow that came with the attack on Pearl Harbor passed over the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Nuter, 4241 Augusta boulevard, last December. They had one son there, John E. Nuter, fireman, first class, in the navy.

For months the Nuter family worried over the safety of their sailor son. Their anxiety came to an end last week when they received a letter from him assuring them he was safe, in good health, and gaining weight. The mother was still talking about the good news yesterday as the youngest of her three sons, James, 4 years old, finished his lunch.

Warned by Father.

The boy stepped out on the back porch and saw Leonard Sokolowski, 10, 4245 Augusta boulevard, playing with a .22 caliber rifle.

James' father had warned him not to play with Leonard when the neighbor boy had the gun. So James merely watched him.

Leonard aimed the rifle at the rain pipe of the Nuter home. He pulled the trigger, but the gun failed to fire. The second time he tried, the gun was discharged and the bullet struck James in the forehead.

Neighbors rushed him to the Franklin Boulevard hospital, where Dr. C. R. Chouinard performed an emergency operation. Two hours later the boy died.

Shot Out Windows Before.

The dead boy's father said:

"I warned the Sokolowskis not to let Leonard play with that gun. Once before he shot out a window in our home. I told Mike [Leonard's father] that some day he'd kill somebody."

Capt. George Homer of the Austin police station said that the Sokolowski boy told him that his parents had hidden the rifle from him after telling him he could not use it until he was older. Yesterday he found the gun in the pantry, he said.

The Sokolowski boy was released in the custody of his parents.

WORKERS ON U.S. PROJECT LOOT SWANK STORES

Protest Wage Scale; Troops Called.

NASSAU, Bahamas, June 1 (AP).—[Delayed by Censor.]—Unskilled laborers on a large American project rioted in Nassau yesterday, smashing store windows and looting fashionable stores.

Two of the rioters were killed and others were wounded before police and troops restored partial order. Rioting continued tonight in the suburbs, however. A police station, a fire engine, and an ambulance in the outskirts were burned.

The demonstrators were protesting wages of 4 shillings [approximately 80 cents] a day for unskilled labor on the project, and the riot occurred after the Bahamian government informed labor leaders the scale had been fixed by agreement of British and United States governments.

Surge Thru Fashionable Street.

Laborers began marching into the city Monday morning. Their numbers increased as they approached the shops of fashionable Bay street, which skirts the harbor and contains most of this tourist city's swank stores.

Show windows were smashed and widespread looting of liquors, expensive English fabrics and rare perfumes was reported. Local police were unable to quell the disturbance, and British garrison troops were summoned. There were several casualties among police and troops, but the government did not immediately make public their number.

W. L. Heape, acting governor in the absence of the duke of Windsor, proclaimed a curfew from 8 p. m. to 6 a. m.

Riot Reported Quelled.

Washington, D. C., June 2 (AP).—The state department received word tonight that labor disturbances in Nassau, Bahamas, which started yesterday, continued until the arrival of military police at noon today but that "no further rioting was anticipated."

The department issued the following statement:

"The American consul at Nassau, John W. Dye, reported to the state department that laborers from the local airfield had struck for higher wages and rioted. The rioters smashed automobiles and shop windows and looted freely on Bay street."

The duke of Windsor, who is governor of the Bahamas, left Washington today to return to Nassau, less than 24 hours after his arrival. He and the duchess came here yesterday.

The duchess, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. D. Buchanan Merryman, drove to Baltimore late today for a physical checkup and then on to Timonium, Md., to spend several days with her uncle, Henry M. Warfield, and his wife.

HERE'S SUMMARY OF NEWS FROM BATTLE FRONTS

Latest war developments:

German armored forces in Libya are attempting to break thru two gaps in the British line south of Tobruk, Cairo reported. Gen. Auchinleck admitted that some of the German tanks had broken thru, altho many more were destroyed by British troops and planes.

Reds Switch Drive.

The Russians have transferred their offensive to the northwestern front between Moscow and Leningrad, hoping to offset plans for a German drive in that direction. Six German counterattacks were said to have failed.

For the third time in four nights the royal air force bombers attacked targets in Germany. The roar of the returning planes was heard in England for more than an hour shortly before dawn today. The previous night 1,036 RAF planes dropped 6,000,000 pounds of bombs on the great munitions factories at Essen, Duisberg, and Oberhausen. Railroads and shipping were attacked yesterday by daylight.

Bomb Japs in Timor.

Allied flyers destroyed Japanese barracks, warehouses, and motor transport in a raid on the Island of Timor, and also hit enemy bases on Florida Island.

In China the Japanese are attempting a pincer movement from three directions against the Chinese in Chekiang and Kwangtung provinces, Chungking reported. In the Chekiang sector the Chinese closed in on the elongated Japanese flanks and recaptured five towns.

Germans Find New Red Tank Hard to Smash

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 2.—Among the new weapons which the Russians have introduced this spring is an antenna bomb. This missile has a long rod projecting from its nose which, upon contact, explodes the bomb, spraying fragments in all directions.

According to a Swedish volunteer who has returned from the Svir river front, this bomb is one of the most effective employed by the Russians in their war against Finland. He said its concussion has a radius of more than 200 yards.

Bertil Svashnstrom, correspondent of Stockholm-Tigningen who has visited the battlefields of Kerch and Kharkov, told of the new soviet weapons which have won the respect of the Germans.

Grenades Hurled Five Miles.

The Reds' new 25 ton tank, he said, is so cleverly armored that anti-tank guns find it difficult to hit a vulnerable spot because the armor of the tank is placed at unusual angles.

Another Russian weapon which the German soldiers confess they fear is a 5 inch trench mortar which hurls grenades up to five miles.

On the Kharkov battlefields Svahnstrom saw two new British tanks. These machines had arrived via Murmansk recently. The Swedish newspaper man said that there is no doubt Russia is getting British help of high quality.

Nazis Dread Soviet Tanks Most.

German soldiers told him the soviets' most dreaded weapon is their enormous numbers of tanks. After inspecting the battlefields east of the Donetz river, he related that the Russians had superiority in numbers and equipment when they moved against the Germans.

Svahnstrom said the Russians' artillery has nothing remarkable in the line of weapons and that their antiaircraft weapons were ineffective.

BRITISH STRIKE AGAIN AT NAZIS IN BIG AIR RAID

Planes Return from Night Assault.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, June 3 (Wednesday)—(AP).—Striking again in its pulverizing offensive against Germany after thunderous attacks on Cologne and Essen, royal air force bombers raided German targets during the night. Returning bombers began to cross the coast before dawn and the roar of their motors continued for more than an hour, suggesting to listeners that another large force had struck at Germany.

The British struck for the third time in four nights, but details as to the objectives in the latest of the series of all-out raids were not immediately announced. Britain meanwhile underwent a night attack by a small number of German aircraft which raided several places in southeast England.

LONDON, June 2 (AP).—A mighty aerial corps of British bombers and fighter planes, 1,036 of them, cast down fire and explosives with terrible effect upon the German Krupp munitions center of Essen and its war plant environs last night in a second great raid on Germany in 48 hours—an assault which was proclaimed as only a token of what is to come from the combined air forces of Great Britain and the United States.

Thousands of tons of bombs were dropped upon the Krupp and Rhein metal plants. If, as would seem obvious from the weight of the attack, the damage caused at Essen was as great as in Saturday night's 1,250 plane raid on Cologne, persons familiar with German production believed that a good sized percentage of Germany's war industry could now be marked down as crippled.

Again today the RAF sprang back to the assault, going over the channel in great force in one of the biggest daylight aerial offensives.

Attack from Low Levels.

There were large scale sweeps over Dieppe, and the Gravelines, Hardelote, and Pas de Calais areas of northern France. German troops and gun posts were attacked from low levels. Railroads were blasted and offshore shipping was attacked. The air ministry said the RAF lost nine fighters and shot down three enemy planes.

An air raid alarm sounded in London late tonight but the all-clear followed shortly. A single German raider approached the city before veering away. The last night attack on London was Nov. 1, 1941.

The raid on Essen, however, overshadowed all else and brought cheer to all England.

Great Production Triangle.

The communique of the air ministry identified the industrial Ruhr generally, "including Essen," as the theater of the assault and while the Germans did not mention Essen they did report Duisberg and Oberhausen as among those raided. With Essen these cities form a great production triangle in the Ruhr.

While the main force of the British attack was being centered on the Essen area, other squadrons smashed at the enemy's airdromes over great areas of Germany, France, and the Low Countries to pin down its fighter plane defense.

British losses—35 planes—were nine fewer than the 44 of Saturday night—still far below the 10 per cent losses which military authorities generally agree can be afforded by a successful air smash.

Claim 59 Planes Downed.

BERLIN, June 2 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—British bombers attacked several localities in western Germany, including Duisberg and Oberhausen, last night and 59 were shot down during yesterday and last night, the German high command said today.

The German air force was said to have raided Ipswich, a port in southern England, and to have repeated an attack on Canterbury with heavy caliber bombs.

NATION-WIDE GAS RATION PROGRAM 'READY'—NELSON

May Enlist President to Help Stem Protests.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production board, told reporters this afternoon that authorities are ready to announce a nation-wide gasoline rationing program. He said the announcement might be made next Tuesday—the next regular meeting of the board.

"I didn't ask the members to vote on adoption of the ration program," he said. "Today we heard all aspects of the problem of conserving the country's dwindling rubber supplies."

Asked whether final decision will be left to President Roosevelt, Nelson said it might be, but added: "Or he may ask us to make it—we're ready either way."

Propagandist Called In.

President Roosevelt's regular press conference is set for Friday. A conjecture that the President will be called upon to help sell the rationing program to America's 30 million motorists was based on the fact that Archibald MacLeish, the administration's chief propagandist, attended the WPB meeting by invitation.

The WPB, the Office of Price Administration, and the Office of Defense Transportation have been worried by growing opposition to gas rationing in the western states, particularly in the petroleum producing regions of Illinois, Oklahoma, and Texas.

"There's plenty of gasoline in the country," said Nelson. "It just isn't in the right places, as far as the east coast shortage is concerned.

Rubber Shortage Everywhere.

"But there isn't enough rubber anywhere in the country. The present motor fuel ration in the eastern states is to conserve a regional shortage of petroleum. The nation-wide gas ration is not to save gasoline, but to save rubber."

Unverified were reports that authorities have decided how much gasoline will be allowed to individual motorists under the nation-wide program. Nelson's statement denied any formal decision on this important detail.

In the gas rationing section of OPA it was said that the amounts of gas to be allotted ordinary motorists have not been determined. Under the May 16 to July 1 temporary order in operation in 17 eastern states and the District of Columbia, passenger cars not used for business receive an average of three gallons a week.

CONGRESS READY TO DECLARE WAR ON BALKAN FOES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—The United States will be formally at war with six nations shortly after noon tomorrow, when congress acts on a special message from President Roosevelt calling for declarations of war against Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania. Existence of a state of war has already been proclaimed against Japan, Germany and Italy.

The senate was not in session when the President's message reached Capitol Hill today so that immediate action could not be taken. It was made the first order of business in both houses tomorrow and is expected to receive unanimous approval.

The declarations against Bulgaria, Rumania, and Hungary answer those which the Nazi masters of the three nations have dictated against the United States. Their first effect will be the application of enemy alien restrictions to approximately 150,000 nationals of the countries named.

The message was indorsed on all congressional fronts.

FIRST RATE MEN, MACHINES SPELL VICTORY—DRUM

New York, June 2 [Special].—The war will be won by a combination of "first rate men and first rate machines," Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commanding general of the eastern defense command and first army, said today at Columbia university, where he received an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

"If you ask me what will win this war," he told Columbia alumni at a luncheon, "I shall reply that second rate men and first rate machines cannot beat the axis, first rate men and second rate machines may beat the axis, but first rate men and first rate machines will very definitely give us victory.

"In the Polish campaign and the campaign against the Low Countries and France, the machines may appear more important than the soldier. But the Russian campaign has from the very beginning shown the importance of the individual man and organized groups of men. Not brutish man power, but men well trained, well equipped and who know what they are doing.

"Likewise in the far east, the Japanese conquest of the Philippines and the Indies reveals what a few men with modern machines can accomplish. But the warfare in Malaya, Burma, and China shows the importance of the individual fighting soldier."

ARGENTINE PRESS GAG AN 'ERROR'; MINISTER SORRY

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 2.—The government back paddled today on its order to the press forbidding it to publish accounts of congressional debates on foreign affairs, Minister of the Interior Miguel Culaciati having informed a committee of senators that it was a "lamentable error."

All that the government intended, said Culaciati, was to warn the press that the state of siege is still in force and that all comments on foreign affairs, therefore, are prohibited, but that it was not the government's intention to prevent the press from printing anything said on the floor. The error, he added, occurred in the drafting of the police order to the newspapers.

40 FAMILIES, ONE AIR CADET! ARMY CALLS ON COUNTY

That's Ratio to Raise a Force of 2 Million.

Before any high school senior makes up his mind about joining a particular branch of the armed forces the army aviation cadet examination board hopes he will give first consideration to a career in army aviation as a pilot, navigator, or bombardier.

"We want to see every high school graduate before he chooses an army career," said Maj. Floyd M. Showalter, president of the board, yesterday as he sat in the board's offices in the United States courthouse [loop postoffice].

"He needn't be a brilliant student, nor a mathematical shark. If he is intelligent, of good character, and able to pass our physical requirements we will soon be able to tell if he can be trained to win a commission as an army flyer."

Seek 20,000 in County.

In its drive for 20,000 cadets from Cook county by Dec. 31, the board is concentrating on high school seniors graduating this month, all high school graduates not over 26, students in civilian pilot training courses, and college men.

"To build an air force of 2,000,000 men," said Maj. Showalter "one out of every 12 families in Cook county must provide a member. And one out of every 40 families must provide an aviation cadet."

In four weeks the number of qualified applicants has increased four times, due largely to the opening of enlistments to men with high school diplomas. Now the army air cadet examiners, in coöperation with the Chicago board of education, is starting a campaign in the 37 public high schools.

Invite Grads to See Film.

All of the male seniors who will be graduated June 26 will be invited to attend showings of a film, "Winning Your Wings." It was prepared by MGM for the army air force and stars Jimmy Stewart, now a flying officer. At each showing an air force officer will be on hand to answer questions.

Qualified seniors who wish to continue their schooling are recruited for the enlisted reserve.

★ TRIBUNE CURBS MILEAGE—BUT NOT DELIVERIES

Stringent Rubber Saving Approved by ODT.

In full coöperation with the Office of Defense Transportation, THE TRIBUNE has chosen the more stringent of two plans to save rubber.

The ODT offered one plan to save rubber by cutting the mileage traveled by newspaper delivery trucks by 25 per cent, in addition to restricting the paper to four deliveries each 24 hours. The other, the one elected by this newspaper, cuts the mileage traveled by rubber tired vehicles by 40 per cent, but permits the paper to make any number of deliveries.

Many Changes Necessary.

THE TRIBUNE chose this method because it saves more rubber and it makes it possible to print and circulate the news just as often as before. There had to be many adjustments—many of them exceedingly costly in so vast an enterprise where a million items are delivered each day to a million customers—to effect a 40 per cent saving in delivery mileage.

To deliver the same number of papers each day by slower methods than those built up over many years—in THE TRIBUNE's case the use of a fleet of 68 motor trucks that long has established records for efficiency and quick service—a saving in time had to be made somewhere. This has been done by speeding up press runs, by rearranging deadlines, and by reducing the time spent in mechanical operations such as engraving, composing, stereotyping, etc., along the entire production line.

That meant all time consuming operations such as the preparation and printing of color cartoons and color back pages have had to be omitted while the details of the speeding of production are being worked out.

Color Advertising Continues.

THE TRIBUNE will continue to publish color advertising, which can be prepared in advance. A method of presenting the weekly feature, "Beautiful Children in Color," which heretofore has run on Saturdays, probably in the Sunday TRIBUNE, will be announced later.

A saving of 40 per cent in mileage, with June, 1941, as a base period, means that THE TRIBUNE rubber borne vehicles will have to be operated about 62,000 fewer miles each month.

A special fleet of horses and wagons already has been put in service. Barns out of which these horse drawn vehicles will operate are being established in various parts of the city. More wagon routes are being added each day. Suburban trains also are being used. If these measures should prove insufficient to insure a 40 per cent reduction in mileage street cars and elevated trains are available.

WOMEN'S ARMY OFFICER COURSE DEADLINE NEARS

Applications for entrance into the first officers' training school of the women's army auxiliary corps must be submitted to the Chicago recruiting headquarters, 515 South Franklin street, by 9 p. m. tomorrow, according to Lieut. Col. Edward Shaifer, officer in charge of the station.

Candidates must submit birth certificates, high school graduation certificates, proof that they have passed the required physical examination, and, if noncitizens by birth, proof that they have become American citizens.

Successful candidates will be sent to Fort Des Moines, Ia., about the middle of July for eight weeks of training as WAAC officers. Col. Shaifer announced that, tho the number of applicants had fallen off in the last few days, he expected a total of 3,000 applications at the Chicago office before the deadline tomorrow night.

BLIND MAN DIES AFTER FALL.

A fall in his home at 3238 Wentworth avenue May 26 resulted yesterday in the death of Joseph Smith, 65 years old, colored, who was blind.

PROUD RELATIVES OF SERVICE MEN BUY TRIBUNE PINS

Young and Old Aid USO by 5,000 Purchases.

Thousands of proud little emblems glistened on the lapels of fathers, mothers, sweethearts, and family members of men in the armed forces here yesterday.

They could be seen sparkling in the sun and the radiance of smiles as throngs of men, women, and children left THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE's public service bureau at Madison and Dearborn streets. The little badges were the service pins for families of men in the army, navy, and marine corps, which went on sale Monday in the loop bureau and in Tribune Tower for the benefit of the United Service Organizations.

Sales Reach 5,000 Peak.

The demand for the little red, white, and blue pins reached a peak yesterday as more than 5,000 mail orders and sales swamped the bureau. The pins bearing the insignia of the three branches of the service—plus a fourth for flyers—designate the relationship of the wearer to a man in the armed forces.

Entire families, old men and women who ventured downtown to buy the pins personally, scores of beaming children, and fresh faced young girls crowded the bureau.

Altho the pins come in 20 different combinations for fathers, sons, husbands, brothers, or sweethearts of men in the armed forces, there were numerous requests for pins for grandmothers, uncles, aunts, and friends. Those for sons and brothers in the army had the greatest sale.

One man stuffed his pocket with 25 pins for sons in the army and five for brothers. He was Alfred Heinke, 2619 Iowa street, an ex-service men. "I'm a block captain and I'm going to give one to every mother in my block who has a son in the service," he explained proudly. "I think they are a wonderful idea."

Emblem of Mother's Pride.

A sweet faced elderly woman, wearing a Grand Army of the Republic medal, waited patiently to purchase three "sons in the army" pins and one pin for a sweetheart. "I have only one son in the army but I'm buying pins for my husband, myself, my son's girl, and a friend," she said. "The men of my family fought in the Civil war and my husband was in the Spanish-American war. I am proud to be able to wear a pin showing that my son is serving in this one."

Limping from a wound in the left knee, which he received with Gen. Miles' expeditionary force in Puerto Rico, a 75 year old Spanish-American war veteran, Charles Mann, 4953 Montana street, purchased pins for his entire family in tribute to his enlisted son at Camp Forest, Tenn.

"Leon is a chip off the old block," he chuckled. "He went right in there and enlisted like his old man."

A letter that caused speculation came from a girl asking for one sweetheart pin each for the army, navy, marines, and airmen. "Every one must do her own part in this war," she asserted in a graceful hand. "As you can see, I'm going to do mine on a grand scale."

A Chicago boy, who has been serving as flight officer with the American Eagle squadron in Britain, is the first American named to command an RAF unit, a report from London disclosed yesterday. Anderson received his private pilot's license at Glenview airport prior to going to France in April, 1940, his mother said yesterday. While in France he served as the only American officer in the famous 1st regiment of France in the French Foreign Legion.

MAYWOOD KIN OF BATAAN MEN DONATE BLOOD

More than 100 members of the Bataan clan of Maywood each donated a pint of blood to the Red Cross Blood Donor center, 624 South Michigan avenue, yesterday and Monday. Members of the clan are relatives of men killed or captured with Company B, 192d tank battalion, on Bataan peninsula.

"I know our boys will benefit from our contributions to the center," Mrs. Anna Mahr, 408 South 13th avenue, Maywood, said yesterday as she sipped a cup of coffee after making her donation. Mrs. Mahr's son, Walter, is a staff sergeant with the battalion. "I think buying war bonds and stamps and making contributions to the blood donor center are about the most direct aid we can give."

According to James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross, more than 1,000 residents of Proviso township have donated blood to the center since it opened Feb. 2.

The body of Carl Benson, a stone cutter, was taken from a pool in a quarry on Richard street in Joliet yesterday. The pockets of his suit were filled with stones. Benson, 50 years old, formerly lived at 125 Parks avenue, Waukesha, Wis. He had been missing several days.

NAVAL AVIATION ENLISTMENTS IN MAY SET RECORD

An overwhelming response to the new navy policy of enlisting young men with only a high school education for training as aviators was reported yesterday by Lieut. Carl G. Olson, senior member of the naval aviation cadet selection board. He announced that May set an all-time record for naval aviation enlistments.

In May the board accepted 268 cadets. The previous high was 193 in February. Of the May cadets, 109 were high school graduates and 159 college men. Under the new regulations every young man 18 thru 26 years of age and unmarried is eligible.

"Young men of this area, eager to get a chance at navy flight training," said Lieut. Olson, "literally stormed our office all last month to make this splendid showing. We look for June graduates to set a new record and more records after that. Let the boys come—we'll take care of them."

The board office is room 302 in the Board of Trade building.

DEMOCRATS URGE DOWNSTATER FOR U. S. COURT POST

Friends Campaign for Justice Shaw.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] is being importuned, it was learned yesterday, to submit to President Roosevelt the name of a country Democrat from northern Illinois, rather than a Chicagoan, for the Woodward vacancy on the United States District court. Justice Elwyn R. Shaw of Freeport, defeated for reëlection to the Illinois Supreme court on Monday, is the latest candidate to be brought forth openly for the post.

Coincident with this information, it was revealed that Shaw's friends, anticipating the Republican landslide which elected his opponent, Judge William J. Fulton [R., Sycamore], have been working quietly in Shaw's behalf for several weeks.

The leader of the Shaw-for-federal-judge forces is Attorney John P. Devine of Dixon, former speaker of the Illinois house of representatives, who yesterday stated the case for the retiring justice.

Devine Speaks for Shaw.

"We Democrats in northern Illinois feel," he said, "that since Chicagoans already fill most of the places in the federal court, a lawyer from outside the city should have the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Charles E. Woodward. Judge Woodward was practicing law in Ottawa when he was appointed to the bench, so the post can properly be considered a downstate one. A downstater ought to succeed him."

Devine pointed to Shaw's nine years in the Illinois Supreme court as ample training for the federal bench, and said a number of other Democratic leaders in the district shared this feeling. He had nothing to say concerning a campaign in his own behalf, which was reported to be gaining headway even as he was boosting Shaw's qualifications. Devine was for 20 years a member of the Illinois house and served as minority floor leader before being elevated to the speakership. His practice and acquaintance are both extensive.

Other northern Illinois names suggested to Sen. Lucas include Attorneys B. J. Knight, Rockford, and Jacob Cantlin of Rock Falls, it was reported.

Chicagoans in Running.

Should the attitude of the downstaters be ignored and the vacancy filled by a Chicagoan, reports were that one of half a dozen lawyers might be considered. Among them is former Sen. James M. Slattery, who was said to be an active candidate. Others mentioned were the Schwartz brothers—either Charles K., former chairman of the state tax commission, or Judge Ulysses S. of the Superior court. Another judge mentioned was Roger J. Kiley of the Appellate court. If Mayor Kelly were consulted, Kiley's friends think he would have good chance for the green light.

One of Sen. Lucas' friends, in discussing the vacancy yesterday, said that he had heard all of three persons discussed as possibilities for the Woodward vacancy, but personally doubted if it would be filled in advance of the November election.

G.O.P. WINS SUPREME COURT

Final returns in the three Republican victories chalked up in Monday's Illinois Supreme court election became available yesterday. They showed the party resurgent downstate, as well as overturning the Democratic majority of the court which now becomes Republican by 5 to 2.

In the 1st district, far down in southern Illinois, the closest of the three races was decided in favor of State Senator Charles H. Thompson [R., Harrisburg], who defeated Justice Paul Farthing [D., Belleville], by 2,298 votes. The vote was Thompson, 55,822; Farthting, 53, 524.

Justice June C. Smith [R., Centralia] was reëlected by 12,550 votes in the 2d district, over Judge Dick H. Mudge [D., Edwardsville] who polled 35,790 votes to 48,340 for Smith. Thus Smith repeated his performance of 15 months ago when the district elected him to a vacancy on the court. He now has a nine year term before him.

The 6th district election in northern Illinois was a walkaway for Judge William J. Fulton [R., Sycamore], victor over Justice Elwyn R. Shaw [D., Freeport] by 22,692 votes. Republicans now have majorities in both houses of the legislature and hold every elective state office except that of secretary of state, in which the incumbent is Edward J. Hughes, Democrat.

VICTORY PERILED BY SMEAR PLOT, HOUSE WARNED

Rep. Taber Denounces 'Foreign' Band.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

Rep. Taber.

Washington, D. C., June 2.—The smear campaign against certain members of congress by the so-called Union for Democratic Action was characterized as an anti-defense program in a house floor speech today by Rep. John Taber [R., N. Y.], ranking minority member of the appropriations committee.

Taber never has been known as one of the noninterventionists who supposedly are the targets of the smear campaign. In March, 1941, he was praised on the floor by Rep. Clarence Cannon [D., Mo.], chairman of the appropriations committee, for his coöperation as leader of the minority in drafting and supporting the lend-lease bill and other war preparation measures.

Opponent of Waste.

Yet, Taber noted, he has been selected for ousting from the house by the smearers. He attributed this to the fact that he has been a consistent critic of waste in the WPA, the NYA, and the CCC.

"This is a case of a small group of dangerous radicals who are endeavoring to put over upon the United States an experiment in government which would be disastrous to the welfare of the people of the United States and would impede and impair the war effort," he told house members.

Leaders of Smear Group.

Officers of the Union for Democratic Action are Frank Kingdon, Reinheld Niebuhr, Albert S. Coolidge, Thomas R. Amlie, and James Loeb Jr., Taber said. The first four are viewed as radicals. He also named as members of the union George Backer and Dorothy Schiff Backer, owners, and Morris Ernst, counsel, of the New York Post, which initiated an assault upon the character of Sen. David I. Walsh [D., Mass.].

"There had been no disunity in this nation until this little band of foreign-minded reactionaries started out with this attempt to purge those who have had the courage and the character to vote their convictions and really support the war effort," said Taber.

Leads Willkie Candidate by 45,000 Votes.

Gov. Wilson.

Des Moines, Ia., June 2 [Special].—Gov. George A. Wilson received more than a majority of all votes cast for the Republican nomination for United States senator, it was revealed today by virtually complete figures on yesterday's primary.

Wilson's nomination in the four cornered race was never in doubt. Under Iowa law a primary candidate must receive more than 35 per cent of the total vote, the choice otherwise devolving upon a convention.

Returns from all but 23 of Iowa's 2,463 precincts gave Wilson 121,125 votes. Mark G. Thornburg, secretary of agriculture, was runner-up with 75,627. In the campaign Thornburg sought to capitalize a blessing from Wendell Willkie and a prewar stand "against isolation."

Two Others Far Behind.

Two other candidates were far behind. James I. Dolliver of Fort Dodge, a nephew of the late Sen. Jonathan P. Dolliver, had 29,840 votes and G. Scott Davies of Des Moines had 7,351.

Gov. Wilson won despite attacks on supporters of Wilson by the Des Moines Register, which pointed out that Thornburg's campaign literature stated he was against isolationism and "indorsed Willkie's brand of Republicanism as certain to bring Republican victory in 1942 and 1944."

Wherever was raised the matter of "isolation" before the attack on Pearl Harbor, Iowa voters appeared to have rolled it flat as a pancake. Efforts to liquidate three of Iowa's nine congressmen because they were noninterventionist before Dec. 7 were repulsed decisively by the voters.

Democrats Pick Herring.

Sen. Clyde L. Herring, a strong New Dealer, had a walkaway for the Democratic renomination. With less than a dozen precincts missing, he had polled 61,798 to 17,807 for Ernest J. Seemann of Waterloo.

National interest was attracted to the Wilson-Thornburg contest by Willkie's presence in the background and what many Republican chiefs called "interference and ax grinding for the 1944 national convention."

Willkie became an element in the fight last winter, when in Des Moines he termed Thornburg the best posted man on agriculture he had met. This annointment was capitalized in the campaign literature of Thornburg.

Some Republicans criticized this as meddling by outsiders and called it an attempt to place Iowa Republicans under the domination of Willkie.

Want War Pressed to Victory.

Gov. Wilson's friends expounded the view that the one big task before America today is to win the war and to win it as quickly and decisively as possible.

Soon after his inauguration in 1939, the governor began making speeches that the immediate duty was to build up a national defense "of a magnitude to uphold American institutions of freedom."

Among many Republicans, the victory of Gov. Wilson over Thornburg is interpreted as a rebuke to "meddling" by outsiders.

Lieut. Gov. Bourke B. Hickenlooper won the Republican nomination for governor, receiving 184,641 votes, as against 45,327 for Secretary of State Earl G. Miller.

Nelson G. Kraschel, former governor, defeated A. E. Augustine for the Democratic nomination, 50,003 votes to 28,511 votes.

BUSINESS MAN WINS OVER REP. PATRICK IN ALABAMA ELECTION

Birmingham, Ala., June 2 (AP).—Rep. Luther Patrick conceded defeat in his bid for reëlection to congress tonight as John Newsome, a business man, moved ahead of the incumbent in unofficial returns from the Democratic runoff in the 9th Alabama district.

Returns from 218 of the district's 248 boxes, all unofficial, in the Democratic primary, gave Newsome 15,169 votes; Patrick, 12,676.

Patrick has served six years in congress.

AD ASKS DRAFT OF WILLKIE FOR N. Y. GOVERNOR

New York, June 2 (AP).—An advertisement proposing that Wendell L. Willkie be drafted to run for governor of New York on the Republican, Democratic and American Labor party tickets has been placed in the Herald-Tribune by Sydney S. Baron, public relations counsel.

Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential candidate, commented "it is all new to me."

NAVY TO GET 100 ADDED FIGHTING SHIPS THIS YEAR

Washington, D. C., June 2 (AP).—The navy informed congress today that approximately 100 more fighting ships would be put into commission this year, ready to take battle stations or guard shipping lanes between this nation and its troops and allies.

The progress report on construction of naval vessels was furnished, in executive session, by Rear Adm. A. H. Van Keuren, chief of the navy bureau of ships, to the house naval committee and was made public by chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.] with the admiral's permission.

Vinson served notice, too, that tomorrow he would introduce another measure for a major increase in the number of aircraft carriers, thus carrying out, he said, the navy's plan to "build and build" that type of ship and obtain an "overwhelming" aerial punch.

Vinson described the committee as "well satisfied" with the progress report. Simultaneously he announced committee approval of a $1,100,000,000 measure authorizing additional construction of 500,000 tons of auxiliary vessels, such as tenders and supply ships.

The Georgian emphasized that the approximately 100 ships to be commissioned during the next seven months did not include those which had been put thru their trial runs and accepted by the navy thru May 31.

Coast Guard Maximum Age Raised from 35 to 55

The coast guard yesterday raised the age limit for enlistment on active duty from 35 to 55 years, according to an announcement by Lieut. A. C. Stewart, in charge of recruiting, and started on a program to triple the number of recruits. Raising the age limit, Lieut. Stewart said, will enable the service to accept highly trained specialists who had been rejected because of their age.

Frank Zieman, 615 North Wells street, told police last night he had been robbed of $900 hidden in his room. He blamed a boyhood acquaintance who had visited him from California.

TORPEDO BLASTS COLLAPSE SHIP LIKE ACCORDION

Four More Vessels Sunk in U. S. Waters.

The submarine sinking of four more ships in American waters was made public yesterday One of the vessels, an American freighter, was sunk in the Gulf of Mexico. The others were an American motorship sunk in the Caribbean sea and a British and a Panamanian merchantman, both sunk in the Atlantic. The ship sunk in the Gulf was the 14th sent to the bottom there since May 6. The attacks brought to 213 the number of vessels sunk in American waters since Pearl Harbor, with 1,341 known dead, 1,432 missing and believed lost, and 6,884 rescued. Details of the new attacks follow:

ATTACKED BY 2 U-BOATS

A Gulf Port, June 2.—Two submarines which fired torpedoes almost simultaneously from opposite sides sank an American merchant vessel May 20 in the Gulf of Mexico, survivors said in accounts made public today.

The explosions caused the ship to collapse like an accordion, survivors said. Its stern and bow flew apart and the vessel plunged swiftly to the bottom. Two crew members are known to have lost their lives, three were rescued, and 39 are missing.

Two of the survivors, John G. Traubal of Gibbsboro, N. J., and Rolf Helland of Philadelphia, Pa., were rescued after a week on a life raft without food or water. The third, Joseph Shackelford of Severn, Va., was picked up and taken to a Mexican port.

Two Blown Overboard.

Traubal and Helland were asleep at the time of the torpedoing and the blasts blew both overboard. They said nine other crew members jumped into the sea and all except one of the nine were dragged down by oil from the sinking ship.

The two and one other man managed to swim thru the oil to the raft. The weight of the three threatened to sink the raft, they said, and the third man left it and swam to a piece of wreckage and disappeared. They said they saw the submarines come to the surface, signal to each other with blinker lights, and then move off.

8 KILLED ON U. S. SHIP

An Eastern United States Port, June 2.—Eight members of a crew of 67 aboard a large American motor ship were killed the night of May 17 when their vessel was sunk in the Caribbean sea northwest of Trinidad, it was announced today.

Survivors said enemy torpedoes exploded ammunition in the ship. Those who escaped left the sinking vessel in two lifeboats and two rafts.

Arrival of the survivors from a Panamanian merchant ship sunk in the Atlantic also was disclosed here. All except one of the crew of 45 were rescued. Survivors said the ship was torpedoed on May 20.

IN OPEN BOATS 8 DAYS

An Atlantic Port, June 2 (AP).—Capt. Angus Shaw and his crew of 61 have landed at an Atlantic port without the loss of a man, sailing eight days in open lifeboats after their freighter was sunk by two torpedoes in the North Atlantic.

Three lifeboats cleared the freighter, a British ship, five minutes after the first torpedo struck.

"I'd give the teeth out of my head [they're of the store variety] if they'd give me something to hunt those submarines with," Capt. Shaw snapped.

The lifeboats became separated during a storm, but so sure were they of their course that the survivors in one boat, meeting an outward bound vessel, declined to be picked up.

Two planes spotted Capt. Shaw's boat late on the seventh day and at dawn other planes appeared, one of which dropped supplies.

"I'm glad he was not dropping bombs, because he was an expert," Shaw said. "The first package was 10 yards from the bow and the second was almost in the same spot."

GERMAN PUPPET EDITOR SLAIN IN A PARIS STREET

VICHY, France, June 2 (AP).—Albert Clement, collaborationist editor of the French Popular party's newspaper Le Cri du Peuple, was killed by an assassin's bullets and his wife was wounded on a busy street in central Paris tonight.

A bicyclist opened fire on the Clements as they were walking in the Rue Vivienne, near the Bourse. The first shots wounded Mme. Clement and a passer-by. Then Clement was killed by two more shots before the assassin pedaled away.

Clement was chief editor of the second largest collaborationist paper in France, headed by Jacques Doriot, former Communist who turned to Fascism after a trip to Moscow with expenses paid by the Russian government. He was the third collaborationist editor struck down by French assassins' bullets. The others were Pierre Laval, who at the time of the attack on him was publishing his own paper, Le Moniteur, at Clermont-Ferrand, and Marcel Deat, editor of L'Oeuvre. Both Laval and Deat recovered. Laval is now head of the Vichy government.

Airman, Shot Down Over Norway, Escapes Nazis

LONDON, June 2 (AP).—Wing Commander D. C. T. Bennett, former superintendent of the Atlantic ferry organization who led the first trans-Atlantic formation flight of American made bombers, has arrived in Britain after escaping from Norway where he was captured by the Germans. Bennett, a native of Australia, and four other members of a bomber crew were shot down near Trondheim last month.

7 NAVAL FLYERS DIE, 1 ESCAPES AS PLANE CRASHES AND BURNS

San Francisco, Cal., June 2 (AP).—A navy bomber of the Catalina type crashed near Half Moon bay today, killing seven of its crew of eight.

The only survivor was Ensign G. H. Apitz, 22 years old, of Henderson, Minn.

The plane hit a tree on a hilltop, sheared a wing, and was destroyed by fire.

How Apitz escaped death he could not tell. Badly burned, cut, bruised, and suffering shock, he managed to walk eight or ten miles in the darkness until he reached Half Moon bay, 20 miles south of San Francisco.

Army Plane Missing.

Chambersburg, Pa., June 2 (AP).—A passenger on a plane unreported since it left the Middletown, Pa., army depot last night for Louisville, Ky., was found in a dazed condition on a road 18 miles from here today. The plane was believed to have crashed in that vicinity.

The passenger, picked up by a trucker, was identified by army officials as Second Lieut. Henry Alexander Salm of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., suffering from shock. He was unable to give a coherent account of what happened. The pilot on the missing plane was First Lieut. John C. Femenella, address unknown.

Two Planes Crash.

Charleston, W. Va., June 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—State police early today reported they had been informed that at least one pilot was killed late last night in the crash of two airplanes near the Charleston Municipal airport at Institute. Police said the craft were believed to be from the Parkersburg Cadet Flying school. The Cooke mortuary at Nitro reported it had one body burned beyond recognition.

Killed in Forced Landing.

Charlotte, N. C., June 2 (AP).—Second Lieut. Emerson R. Gross of Madison, S. D., was killed today when his P-40 pursuit plane crashed in an attempted forced landing at Fort Mill, S. C.

CHEER CHURCHILL AS HE PROMISES 'NEW AIR PHASE'

LONDON, June 2.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's statement in the house of commons today gave further impetus to the wave of optimism which developed upon the report of the success of the Cologne raid, and added signs of early and large scale American participation in what the prime minister described as a "new phase in our offensive."

Both Churchill's description of the "mammoth air raid on Cologne" and last night's attack on Essen evoked tremendous cheers.

He assured members of parliament that the government is "more than satisfied with developments of the Libyan battle."

JAP BARRACKS IN TIMOR BLASTED BY ALLIED BOMBS

Warehouses and Trucks Are Destroyed.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, June 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Allied bombers destroyed Japanese warehouses, barracks and road transports in heavy attacks yesterday on Timor and Florida Islands, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Other offensive units bombed and strafed the Japanese airdrome at Rabaul, New Britain, the communique said.

In the attack on Japanese-held Dutch Timor, the allied airmen chose a new target, the town of Atamboea on Timor's north coast near the island's center. Barracks were demolished and extensive fires left raging. Ten miles south of Atamboea another barracks and road transport were taken under fire, the communique said.

One allied raider failed to return from that operation.

On Florida Island in the Solomon group northeast of Australia, a large warehouse was destroyed and other enemy installations were set afire. All the allied bombers returned.

Curtin Defies Japs to Land.

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 2—(AP).—Heartened by the growing strength of the united nations' forces on Australian soil, Prime Minister John Curtin today dared the Japanese to try an invasion of the commonwealth.

"I defy the enemy to land large forces in Australia," he said in a speech which launched Australia's second liberty loan. The goal is $113,400,000; the first was $157,140,000.

"The enemy is being desperately driven to shortages in essential supplies which show themselves more directly in the forces of the axis powers than with the forces of the united nations. And thus time runs against the axis in every theater."

Claim Solomon Islands.

TOKIO, June 2 [from Japanese broadcasts]—(AP).—A Japanese landing party occupied Tulagi Island in the southeastern section of the Solomon Islands last month and thus put the entire Solomon Islands area into Japanese hands, Domei news agency reported today. Domei also reported that the Japanese took Shortland Island in the Solomons.

SEVERAL STREETS NOMINATED FOR MacARTHUR NAME

Ald. Joseph S. Gillespie [29th], chairman of a special subcommittee charged with considering proposals to honor Gen. Douglas MacArthur by naming a street for him, and Ald. Bryan Hartnett [12th], chairman of the council street committee, yesterday received a load of mail recommending possible streets. Hartnett received three letters recommending that Pulaski road, which was formerly Crawford avenue, be renamed MacArthur road.

One letter signed "Residents on Augusta boulevard, 5500 block," suggested that that street be renamed MacArthur boulevard. Some citizens suggested the Outer drive be renamed for the general.

Would Change La Guardia Field.

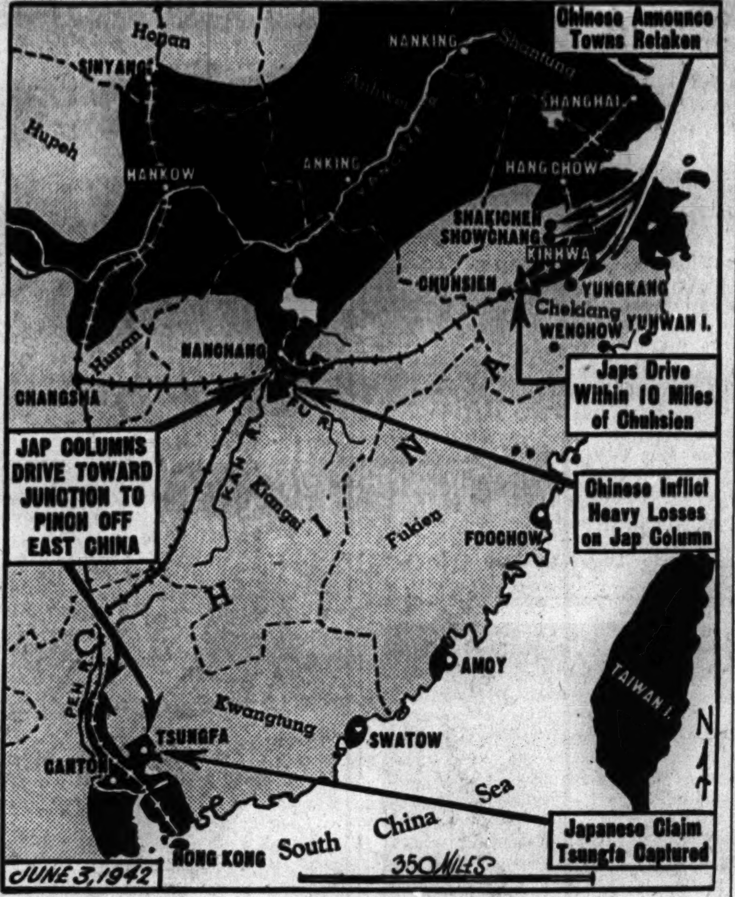
New York, June 2 [Special].—The name of La Guardia field would be changed to MacArthur field in honor of Gen. Douglas MacArthur under the terms of a bill introduced in the city council today by Councilman James A. Phillips.

The measure was construed as a slap at the mayor's action last week in vetoing a council bill that would have changed the name of the East River drive to MacArthur drive. The mayor's veto message said the change would be premature.

Connecticut High Court Bans All Birth Control

Hartford, Conn., June 2 (AP).—The Connecticut Supreme court ruled in a 3 to 2 decision today that it was illegal for a physician to prescribe the use of contraceptives even if he believed a married woman's life might be jeopardized by pregnancy. Thus, for the second time in two years, the court upheld Connecticut's 62 year old law making birth control a criminal offense. The case arose from a request for a declaratory judgment by Dr. Wilder Tileston of the Yale medical faculty.

Gigantic Jap Pincers Drive in China



Map locates points of gigantic pincers movement begun by Jap invaders to cut off eastern China from the rest of the country. Captions tell developments reported yesterday from the fighting areas.

CHINESE BATTLE JAP PINCER DRIVE ON THREE FRONTS

New Offensives Cost Heavy Losses.

CHUNGKING, June 2 (AP).—Fierce fighting raged on three fronts in China today as the Japanese started two new offensives and continued to make progress in the third thru the coastal province of Chekiang.

A Japanese thrust from Nanchang in Kiangsi province, which adjoins Chekiang on the west, was aimed south and east along the Kiangsi-Chekiang railway and at a possible junction with the columns coming from the east. With two claws the Japanese thus were attempting to pinch off a large piece of eastern China.

Also menacing was the northward Japanese drive from the Canton area in the south China province of Kwangtung. This was following the Canton-Hankow railway, with another column driving thru the mountains country east of the railway.

Recapture Five Towns.

Along the railway the invaders were approaching Hengkong.

Chinese troops resisted stubbornly and inflicted heavy casualties everywhere, but scored their chief successes in the Chekiang theater as they closed in on the elongated flanks of the Japanese and recaptured five towns.

The Chinese communique said these were Showchang, 25 miles northwest of Kinhwa, the provincial capital which they have lost; Yungkang, 35 miles southeast of Kinhwa, and Paishapu, and Kenglouchen, points south of Showchang. Shakichen, north of Showchang, also was retaken.

The regulars and home militia which joined in these attacks were said to have put Japanese remnants to flight and to have captured large quantities of supplies.

But the Japanese were admitted to be within 10 miles of Chuhsien, 45 miles west of Kinhwa, and apparently one of the main Japanese objectives. Ever since Tokio was bombed the Japanese have suspected this place of being used as an air base. They bombed it repeatedly before starting their overland drive from Hangchow, 150 miles northeast.

One Japanese column was said to have been repulsed on the approaches to Chuhsien and 500 of its men killed and wounded.

A special ceremony will be held July 4 in Chungking when the American volunteer group is reorganized as the United States air corps in the China war theater. Brig. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, who organized the group, will remain in command.

Japs Report Town Taken.

TOKIO, June 2 [from Japanese broadcast]—(AP).—The Japanese army's new offensive in Kwangtung province has captured Tsungfa, strategic city 50 miles northeast of Canton, and swept on several miles to the north and northeast, the Domei news agency reported today.

AUSTRALIA PROTECTS SOLDIERS WITH NEW ANTI-FLU VACCINE

[By wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

CANBERRA, Australia, June 2.—Thousands of troops in Victoria province have been inoculated against influenza with a vaccine which has proved satisfactory, Army Minister Francis M. Forde disclosed today. Final results will decide whether the treatment will be extended to troops thruout Australia. The vaccine was said to have effected a 12 month protection.

The vaccine, developed by Dr. F. M. Burnet, assistant director of the Hall Research institute, was composed of the main viruses known to cause influenza. By special progress Dr. Burnet obtained an attenuated virus introduced into the body thru the normal channels of infection by spraying the nose and throat.

Soon after the inoculation a small proportion of the men showed mild symptoms of a cold, which soon passed. Three weeks later blood of the inoculated men was found to contain protective bodies against influenza.

ARDOR FOR YOUNG WOMEN FIGURES IN IL DUCE'S DECLINE

Dictator Loses Sway Over Italian People.

[Richard G. Massock, back in the United States following five months' internment in Italy after serving as chief of the former Rome bureau of Wide World, discloses the factors in Mussolini's decline in this article.]

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK.

Premier Mussolini.

New York, June 2 [Wide World].—Benito Mussolini, once the world's No. 1 dictator, is dwindling in power, prestige, and performance, with his place in history much less secure than it seemed a dozen years ago.

That is the definite impression of observers who came back from Italy on the repatriation ship Drottningholm.

The duce of fascism is losing—if he has not already lost—his sway over the Italian people. His ill-fated foreign policy made him a subordinate of Hitler, whose mastery of Europe has encompassed Germany's anti-German ally, Italy.

Unlike the ancient dictators of Rome, Mussolini can give his people neither bread nor circuses. In the grim blackout of war, the modern dictator is slipping.

Decline a Gradual Thing.

This does not mean that a revolution, either of the popular or palace variety, is stalking the man who rose to power 20 years ago on the political ruins of the first World war.

Mussolini's decline is a gradual thing. In majority opinion, defeat of the axis powers would swamp him into oblivion. A victory of Germany would leave him only a sort of pathetic district leader under Nazi orders.

First outstanding evidence of Mussolini's growing unpopularity among Italians came last autumn, when the duce made his pep tour of Bologna and nearby cities. Social unrest had reached such disturbing proportions that Mussolini's Fascist underlings no longer could hide it from him.

Mussolini went to Bologna, former hotbed of socialism, to show himself to the workers and charm them into renewed loyalty with his dynamic, theatrical personality. He intended going on to Milan for the same purpose.

Pep Tour Turns Into Flop.

The Bologna pep tour was a flop. Mussolini never went to Milan.

Persons who witnessed the Bologna fiasco reported the crowds apathetic if not openly hostile toward the man who had plunged them into the war with its body pinching sacrifices for an impoverished people.

"How about food for our babies?" women asked the strutting dictator. Unable to answer their demand, he was conveniently called back to Rome for "important affairs of state."

Since then, Mussolini has made few public appearances.

When Fascist practice required that he utter his declaration of war against the United States from the balcony of his Venice palace in Rome, there was no enthusiastic cheering from the crowd that had been maneuvered into the square below.

Installs Women in Villa.

Mussolini's addiction to the company of young women favorites has been blamed for part of his political decline. His affairs with two sisters, whom he installed in a villa on the outskirts of Rome, were common gossip for several years.

Now it is whispered in Rome that he has replaced the sisters in his affections with a movie actress.

TYPEWRITER BAN LIFTED TO ALLOW TRADED IN SALE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—The Office of Price Administration today relaxed rationing restrictions on typewriters to permit purchases by certain groups who have suffered more than others from the freeze order of March 6.

Declared eligible to obtain certain used machines without rationing certificates are: [1] persons who buy or otherwise acquire a business or manufacturing concern for the purpose of continuing the enterprise at the same location, and [2] persons who have traded in typewriters to manufacturers or dealers and have failed to obtain new machines because of the freeze order.

Under the original order, purchasers of the assets of a business were not permitted to buy the typewriters used in that business. To obtain a delivery after a trade-in, the deal must have been consummated before March 6.

Simultaneously the War Production board authorized typewriter manufacturers to continue their present production rates thru June and July.

The WPB today also removed its prohibition against the use of wool in carpets, draperies, and upholstery for nonmilitary use, permitting manufacturers to use up to 25 per cent of the amount of coarse wool they used for such purposes in 1941.

ATTACKS SCHEME TO LET ENGLAND RUN COAL MINES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 2.—Sir John Wardlaw-Milne, Conservative member of parliament, today charged that for Laborites "to bring about state ownership of coal mines during the war would be a distinct breach of faith and would do immense harm to throw such a bombshell into the cockpit of politics now."

In an article on the coal problem in the Evening Standard he said that the fuel shortage is due partly to transfer of miners from the pits to the army, resulting in lower production. Absenteeism in one district alone represents a loss of three million tons a year, he said.

Sir Stafford Cripps, lord privy seal, announced that a white paper on the coal situation will be published tomorrow. The political correspondent of the News Chronicle said that if its fuel plan is rejected in the house of commons the cabinet would regard such action as a vote of "no confidence" in the government.

I ESCAPED FROM HONG KONG
Six weeks a Jap prisoner after Hong Kong's fall, the author witnessed tortures, rape and wanton murders
IN the Post, out today, is an eye-witness account of the wanton torture of British officers and soldiers, the rape of Englishwomen by Jap soldiers, the bayoneting of helpless civilian prisoners. This Dutch-born U. S. citizen brings you an unhappy picture of what went on during and after the siege, as seen by him and scores of other Americans and English in a Hong Kong hotel, turned by war into a fortress-refuge of horror. The first part of his story begins today.

RUSSIANS ATTACK IN NORTHWEST TO UPSET NAZI PLAN

Claim 1,850 of Foe Killed; 1,500 Wounded.

MOSCOW, June 2—(AP).—The Russian armies, applying "Kharkov tactics" to the deep northwestern areas, attacked sharply today in several sectors with the object of upsetting German offensive plans from that direction.

Vigorous altho localized actions in two sectors of the Kalinin front, which runs west from Kalinin to the Valdai hills in the direction of the German garrisons of Rzhev and Veliki Luki, were reported to have resulted in at least 1,850 German dead and 1,500 wounded.

On what is known here as the "northwestern front," extending from the Valdai hills north around Lake Ilmen to the Leningrad front, the Russians were said to have maintained pressure which forestalled any "adventurous plans" of the Germans.

With the Russians thus improving their positions and drawing the enemy into costly counteraction in these regions, the southern sectors of Kerch, Kharkov, and Izyum-Barvenkova were comparatively quiet.

[A Stockholm dispatch, not confirmed elsewhere, said the Germans, in a new stab intended to regain lost ground, had reoccupied Tamilovska, a town eight miles northeast of Kharkov.

Report Timoshenko Wounded.

LONDON, June 2 (AP).—Reuters [British] news agency, in a Stockholm dispatch today quoted Swedish press reports as saying Marshal Semeon Timoshenko, Russian commander in the Ukraine, suffered minor wounds when a German dive bomber attacked the automobile in which he was inspecting the lines south of Kharkov in recent fighting.

Germans Outline the Front.

BERLIN, June 2 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The period of "straightening out" the front lines on the long German-Russian battlefield has practically ended, military quarters said today as the high command reported only local action on the eastern war zone.

These military circles outlined the present front as follows:

From Taganrog, on the Sea of Azov, up the Donetz river, to the east of Kursk, east of Orel, and northward on a line from Vyazma to Lake Ilmen to Volkhov and Leningrad.

CONVOY'S 5 DAY FIGHT WITH SUBS AND PLANES TOLD

LONDON, June 2 (AP).—Battered for five days and nights in the strange, unending light of the Arctic's midnight sun by U-boats and at least 100 German planes, a big United States-British supply convoy was disclosed today to have reached a Russian port with an indicated loss of only half a dozen ships.

The result was announced by the British admiralty in a communique which told of the perils of the Arctic convoy route to Murmansk and Archangel, where never at this time of year is there any protecting darkness and where the breaking of the Arctic ice restricts maneuverability.

German claims to have sunk 18 of the ships were termed "an exaggeration of over 175 per cent."

German dive bombers, torpedoplanes, and level-flying bombers assaulted the convoy almost without pause from the evening of May 25 until May 30. Three planes were reported definitely shot down.

TALK OF ARMY TAKING OVER BIG HOTELS REVIVED

Speculation that the army air force or some other branch of the war department might take over one or more of the downtown Michigan avenue hotels was revived yesterday after it was reported that negotiations concerning the Auditorium hotel, theater, and office building were still under discussion.

Last month it was reported that the expanding air force would buy or lease large Michigan avenue hotels near Grant park to quarter recruits for the ground forces. The plan was then said to have been dropped for fear of dislocating too much of the city's life.

Following revival of the reports yesterday John Goodridge, manager of the Auditorium, said that plans have been made to sell the hotel furnishings at public auction. The army, which has surveyed the Auditorium, said it did not need the personal property, Goodridge explained.

FRANK PARKER, EX-GENERAL, ON DEFENSE COUNCIL

Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, United States army, retired, former Chicago business executive, yesterday was appointed executive secretary of the Illinois State Council of Defense. Gov. Dwight Green, chairman of the council, said Gen. Parker would succeed Claud A. Welles, who resigned. Gen. Parker, a graduate of West Point in 1894, formerly served as commanding officer of the 6th corps area and of the Philippines department. Following his retirement from the army he served for several years as an executive of Goldblatt Brothers' department stores.

UMW TO AVOID SPLIT WITH CIO ON 3 CONDITIONS

Ask Debt Settlement, AFL Parleys.

Washington, D. C., June 2 (AP).—The United Mine Workers avoided an open break with the CIO today, but laid down three conditions as the price of continued affiliation.

The miners' policy committee, in effect, placed the separation question on the CIO table by declaring it would make no more per capita tax payments in cash until, first, the CIO acknowledged a debt of $1,665,000 to the miners; second, entered unity conferences with the AFL and gave the miners representation, and, third, ceased attacks upon the UMW, its leaders and its organization efforts.

The miners' decision will be considered by the CIO executive board at sessions starting tomorrow and by the UMW's biennial convention in Atlantic City next October.

While both sides acknowledged relations were badly strained, the threads of nominal affiliation still existed in view of the miners' decision to refrain from any affirmative withdrawal action.

Eight Dissenters.

A spokesman for the UMW said eight members of the policy committee of about 235 dissented from the adoption of the report on CIO relationship. He identified only three of these. They were Patrick Fagan, district 5 president, Pittsburgh; C. F. Davis, district 31 president, Fairmont, W. Va., and Martin Wagner, international board member for district 50. Wagner, a Lewis appointee, was the only member of the miners board who voted last week against the removal of Philip Murray as vice president of the miners.

Local Officers Quit.

Cleveland, O., June 2 (AP).—Officers and stewards of seven locals in distract 50 of the United Mine Workers voted tonight to end all connections with the UMW.

In resolutions denouncing John L. Lewis, UMW president, they asked Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, to set up a new international union to replace district 50, which enrolls gas, coke, chemical, and allied workers.

The locals claim a membership of 1,300 in 14 plants making chemicals and paints.

WIFE CHIDES DRINKER; SHOT.

Mrs. Helen Bleming, 26 years old, 7736 Muskegon avenue, was shot in the left hip yesterday by her husband, John, 30, a laborer, during a quarrel over his drinking. He was locked up by Grand Crossing police, and she was taken to the South Shore hospital.

WAR PLANT SHUT AS 350 PROTEST NEGRO WORKERS

3,000 Men at Detroit Factory Idle.

Detroit, Mich., June 2 [Special].—Refusal of several hundred members of a United Automobile Workers CIO local to work with 20 Negroes sent into the plant at the request of international union officials led to the closing at noon today of the Chrysler corporation's Dodge truck plant, employing 3,000 men and busy on war work.

From 400 to 500 white employés of the plant held a protest meeting during their lunch hour in front of the plant manager's office demanding removal of the Negroes from the factory. At the end of the lunch period about 350 men refused to return to their machines and the company, unable to continue production, announced a shut down for the rest of the day.

Will Reopen When Men Return.

"We will open up tomorrow morning if men are there to do the work," a company spokesman said tonight.

Morris Field, assistant director of the Chrysler department of the international UAW-CIO, said he has sent representations to protesting members of the local urging that no further protest be made against the presence of the Negroes.

"The local will have to accept the Negroes," Field asserted. "The UAW and CIO policy calls for equal treatment of Negroes, and so does the American constitution. The union will abide by that policy."

Negroes Entitled to Transfers.

The 20 Negroes were formerly employed at the Dodge Motor plant and were entitled to transfer to the truck plant by seniority under the transfer program worked out last fall for transferring workers from nondefense to defense jobs, J. Lawrence Duncan, local representative of the Negro employment branch of the War Production board, said.

The 20 Negroes showed up at the truck plant this morning and worked until noon while a buzz of discontent mounted among many of their white union co-workers. A demonstration against the Negroes took place inside the plant prior to the outdoor protest meeting, it was said. Threats were made by workers to throw the Negroes out of the factory, but fighting was averted.

STRIKE SHUTS WAR PLANT

Tacoma, Wash., June 2 (AP).—More than 1,000 workers at the St. Paul and Tacoma lumber plant here and at three of its logging camps walked out today on strike, closing the plant, which was working on defense contracts.

The strike was called by the CIO International Woodworkers of America. Freeman L. Cochran, secretary, said the union demanded a wage increase of $1 a day and vacations with pay. He said conferences on wages began in September, when the union asked an increase of $1.20 a day. The demand later was reduced to $1. Plant officials made no immediate comment.

The new strike followed the return to work of more than 2,000 door and plywood workers at six factories here.

AXIS FORCES HIT AT 2 LOOPHOLES IN LIBYAN TRAP

British Bar Retreat; U. S. Tanks Cut Up Foe.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 2 (AP). — The Libyan battle raged on today around two thin gaps in the desert line from El Gazala to Bir Hacheim, with the dwindling ranks of the axis' African corps lashing out in an effort to split the British fortified positions.

Already having lost some 260 tanks, or half their original striking strength, the sizeable German armored forces remaining east of the British line had been reorganized and were trying to drive out the British forces stationed between them and the narrow lanes of escape, which are 15 miles apart.

Another Nazi mechanized force, which has moved westward — and rearward—thru the two gaps, was reported to have pushed to a position 20 miles west of the line, where it was regrouping with the axis forces previously there.

British Hit Back Harder.

The 8th army of Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, composed of Britons, South Africans, Indians, and "Free French," had suffered severe losses, too. But it had given more than it had taken from the three armored and two motorized divisions which German Marshal Erwin Rommel used in his vain attempt to seize Tobruk.

[The Germans claimed annihilation of a British unit, capture of 3,000 prisoners, including a brigadier, and destruction of 101 tanks and 124 guns. The Italians spoke vaguely of a "pincers movement" near El Ualeb, where, they said, British resistance was broken and 2,000 prisoners taken.]

The British said the American "General Grant" tank, armed with a 75 mm. [3 inch] gun, a 37 mm. [1½ inch] anti-tank weapon, and a machine gun, was being used with great success. This is the United States army's M-3 medium tank, a 28 ton land cruiser now getting its first battlefield test.

"The enemy succeeded in withdrawing many of his tanks and much transport" thru two gaps he blasted in British mine fields laid out for 50 miles between coastal El Gazala and the waterhole of Bir Hacheim at the southern extremity of the main British positions, Auchinleck said in a communique.

Destroy Trapped Tanks.

"A large number of his tanks and many motor transport vehicles, however, remain on the wrong side of this barrier. These are still being ceaselessly harried and destroyed . . ."

The British commander wired a lengthy review of the battle—the fiercest ever fought in Africa—to Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The communique disclosed that the Germans on the opening night of their offensive, May 26, attempted to land a sea borne coöperating force north of Acroma, some 15 miles from Tobruk, but the royal navy drove off the flotilla.

Auchinleck's control over the battlefield, the capture of two of Rommel's large tank repair units, and the performance of new British heavy anti-tank guns and the American 28 ton tanks all were factors of great cheer to the Britons.

Control of the battlefield enabled the 8th army to salvage a large proportion of the damaged vehicles, using perhaps the United States troops who are in Egypt for that purpose.

Increased duststorms restricted the royal air force, which rules the desert skies by a 5 to 3 margin, but it continued to harass the enemy.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT SHIES FROM TREATY TO PAY DEBTS TO U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 2.—The British government asked the house of commons today to guarantee that its appreciation of the financial and economic assistance which the United States has given Britain in the war will not lead this country into signing any such unwise treaties as that providing for payment of the British debt to America in the last war.

J. J. C. Henderson, Conservative, had recommended that the government express appreciation to the United States, Canada, and other dominions for their contributions to the war effort. Sir Stafford Cripps, leader of the house, answered that the prime minister had voiced England's gratitude on several occasions and therefore no formal reaffirmation was required.

Sir Stanley Reed, Conservative, asked if Cripps would not reconsider the matter as "easement of our financial position is almost entirely due to assistance from the United States and Canada." He said that totally inadequate appreciation had been expressed for "this magnificent contribution."

PAY ROLL SAVINGS WAR BOND DRIVE WILL OPEN TODAY

An intensified campaign to meet Chicago's June sales quota of more than $41,000,000 in war bonds and stamps will start today. Eight hundred business men, organized into 100 teams, plan to contact every employer in the city to push the pay roll savings plan.

Norman B. Collins, state war savings administrator, said the object is to persuade every employé in the city to invest 10 per cent of his earnings. A similar campaign will be undertaken thruout the state, he said.

In Chicago, nearly 3,600 plants are operating under the pay roll deduction plan but the average employés participation is only 70 per cent and the average investment 5 per cent, Collins said. Edward B. Smith, deputy administrator of the War Savings staff, is in charge of the campaign.

Plans for selling war bonds and stamps in theater lobbies were discussed at a meeting of the Cook County branch of the Allied Theaters of Illinois.

Harry Bridges Gets Writ, Freed on $3,000 Bond

(Picture on back page.)

U. S. NOT TO PUSH FOR LEND-LEASE AID REPAYMENT

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—The United States will not press for payment or return of lend-lease supplies at the end of the war because such a policy might work economic hardship on nations sharing in the 48 billion dollar aid program and indirectly affect America's economic welfare.

This was announced by the state department today as Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Chinese Foreign Minister T. V. Soong signed the master agreement which already had been concluded with Britain and has been extended to Russia and other recipients of lend-lease aid.

The agreement was described officially as "on the principles of applying mutual aid in the prosecution of the war against aggression." It includes provisions for balancing mutual benefits of lend-lease, reducing international tariff barriers after the war, formation of an economic union of allied and other favored nations and implementing the eight points of the Atlantic charter, drafted by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill in their historic sea conference last Aug. 14.

Fails to Define Settlement.

"The agreement does not attempt at this stage to foresee or to define precise and detailed terms of settlement," the state department said in announcing the Chinese-American agreement. "It lays down certain broad principles designed to prevent any narrowly conceived settlement which might have a disastrous effect on the economic welfare of our own people and the Chinese people."

The terms of the agreement made it clear that this government at present feels that any pressing for returns or payments would constitute a "narrowly conceived settlement." It is provided that settlement shall not be broached until after the war.

"In the final determination of the benefits to be provided by the United States to the government of the Republic of China, full cognizance shall be taken of all property, services, information, facilities, or other benefits or considerations provided by the government of the Republic of China subsequent to March 11, 1941, and accepted or acknowledged by the President on behalf of the United States of America."

Altho the agreement mentioned that the United States shall continue to supply defense information to China as well as receive such information, the agreement does not say specifically that cognizance shall be taken of American information.

Recall World War Charges.

It was recalled that during the World war the United States allowed the British and French to deduct from the loans advanced those nations many services and supplies such as passenger fares for carrying American troops under the French or British flag to the war zone and for billeting American troops between training camps and the battle fronts.

To the end that the economy of receipients of lend-lease aid and this country shall not be upset, the state department said the final article of the agreement was drafted. This article provides:

"The terms and conditions shall be such as not to burden commerce between the two countries, but to promote mutually advantageous economic relations between them and the betterment of world-wide economic relations."

BEGINS ON BRITISH SIDE, ENDS BATTLE UNDER NAZI GUNS

Tells of Fierce Episode in Fight for Libya.

BY HAROLD DENNY.

[Correspondent of the New York Times, who was captured in Libya six months ago and has just returned to the United States.]

New York, June 2.—The war in Libya has resolved into a battle of fleets of tanks but if it should happen to turn out a decisive victory for the British it will be almost as sweet to this correspondent as it will be to the deafened, smoke grimed Britons who have fought so long for their fortress of Tobruk.

For on a field near Tobruk, just over six months ago, this correspondent was one of a long column of exhausted men trapped in the sudden sweep by Field Marshal Erwin Rommel that destroyed a British brigade and left us survivors lying exhausted on the sand, guarded by German machine guns.

There were nine of us unarmed noncombatants, eight war correspondents and one United States army military observer, who had gone out to see a tank battle close up. In one lurid sequence we were actually between German guns and the British tanks on which they were firing at a range of 200 yards..

Watched Enemy Attack.

By the fact of our capture we had an experience such as I believe has never before happened to a war correspondent, to start out covering a battle with one army and finish it behind the scenes of the opposing army, actually watching the enemy launch an attack, and come out with direct quotes from the opposing general, in this case the famous Marshal Rommel.

The military observer, Lieut. Col. Michael Buckley Jr., and I have just reached the United States on the Drottningholm, free, because the United States government strove persistently, tactfully, and firmly to liberate us.

But to begin at the beginning:

The other correspondents and I had traveled in Libya as a self-contained party, carrying our own rations and water, in British army trucks with British army drivers.

Tagging along after the divisional commander on a tour of forward elements after the tank fighting had begun, we reached a South African infantry brigade on the morning of Nov. 22 in a field strewn with blackened German, Italian, and British tanks.

Bullet Rips Trouser.

One element of the brigade was then heavily engaged in an attack that it finally had to break off. As we watched the action ground bullets spattered among us and one went thru a fold of my trouser leg.

We correspondents decided that our only course was to stay where we were, with protecting troops about us. So we dug slit trenches in the sand.

The Germans renewed the attack at 3 p. m. from the rear. Rommel had brought his main body of 80 to 100 tanks to within about 1,000 yards of the rear side of the rough oblong the brigade occupied, where they lay hull down behind a low fold in the ground.

As nearly as we could see, they were deployed in a line at intervals of about 20 yards. Behind them was artillery, including 75 millimeter field guns and 105 millimeter howitzers. Behind them also lay the infantry, who had arrived in carrier cars, waiting to come in and mop up after the tanks and artillery had crushed the British opposition.

British Shy on Artillery.

The British artillery, which had hurried from place to place all morning to meet the shifting attack, pulled out and raced to the rear to face the Germans. But there was not nearly enough artillery to meet the attack. At the same time the tanks' machine guns swept the brigade oblong with a blanket of fire.

The exposed British gunners fought until they or their guns or both were destroyed. One young lieutenant commanding a mortar battery, or which only one gun remained serviceable, his arm torn off by a German shell, ordered his men to their slit trenches, shouting: "I'm finished. Clear out of here, all of you. I'll serve the gun." He continued to fire until another shell killed him.

We correspondents could catch only occasional glimpses of this, for we dared raise our heads only at long intervals for a quick peek. The German machine gun fire was so intense and so low that the bullets seemed to weave a roof over our heads and now and then one pinged into the side of the trench. Shells bursting near peppered us with dust and pebbles.

Tanks in Flying Wedge.

Then the firing suddenly slackened. We heard some one shout, "Those are German tanks." We half sat up and looked out and there, marching thru from the rear, came the tanks in a sort of flying wedge.

They were 20 or 30 yards apart and looked like a war poster of a tank attack. They were no longer firing, but from the open turret of each an officer looked out, watching all around him for any sign of opposition, a pistol or a tommy-gun ready in his hand.

One tank bore down on an Irish Catholic chaplain who was reading the burial service over a dead South African Negro. The chaplain motioned the tank to stop, but it came on and he jumped down into the grave with the dead man while the tank passed over him. "Glory to God, it was terrible," he said describing it later.

One South African officer, as we learned later, found himself looking into a pistol held by a German officer with whom he had attended Cape Town university.

"Glad You're Out."

"I'm glad you're out of this alive," the German said as he recognized him and motioned him to the rear.

Three tanks rolled serenely in on our own little group. We sat up, our hands in the air. The tank stopped and its commander motioned us to the rear with his pistol. A few yards farther back an officer, leaning out of the top of an armored car, signaled to us to do double time.

As we trotted, holding our hands awkwardly in the air and feeling more silly than frightened, we passed bodies sprawled over the edge of trenches and wounded men being helped along by their comrades. A long row of dead men lay where the field hospital had been.

Meanwhile, further forward and out of our view, the brigade staff, including the general, was being captured by three other tanks. With them was Col. Buckley. Like the other survivors, they had been driven into slit trenches.

Rides German Tank.

The tanks bore down in a little V formation, and to their left marched four more, almost hub to hub. As the South African brigade commander stood up the commander of the leading tank recognized him as a senior staff officer and motioned him to get on the tank.

Some British cannon and machine guns were still in action, firing on the tank. The brigadier had to clamber around from side to side of the turret to avoid being killed by his own guns.

The other officers were rounded up and herded with the rest of us toward the rear. A handful managed to escape, including the brigade major. But except for these the brigade had been entirely destroyed.

HOUSE CHEERS QUEZON VOW TO FIGHT TO FINISH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippine commonwealth, returned to the halls of congress today, a proud and embattled chief of his people, appealing to this nation to keep President Roosevelt's pledge to establish and protect the independence of the islands after the war.

Addressing the house for more than an hour, the scholarly looking Filipino president reviewed the courage and gallantry of American and Filipino troops in the defense of Bataan and Corregidor. The islands, he said, will stand by the United States until final victory "no matter what sufferings and sacrifices this war may impose."

Quezon served in the house as resident commissioner of the Philippines for seven years before being elected first president of the island commonwealth. He made his dramatic appearance before packed galleries on the same spot where he launched his fight for Philippine independence 32 years ago.

At the end of his speech he stood beaming as the chamber, including many of his old colleagues, gave him a standing ovation. Later he shook hands with the members and other dignitaries who filed by him.

MANDEL BROTHERS'

BOY, 15, SAYS HE KIDNAPED BABY TO GET RANSOM

Calls Death an Accident When He Tripped.

ket. I took the baby out. I walked with the baby in my arms toward the back of the tavern.

I heard a car drive up and heard some voices and things. I was running then and I ducked thru a hole in a high board fence and cut over toward an alley. While in the alley I took some of the baby's clothes off, I think the blanket and its rubber pants. I threw these down near a rain barrel and kept on running. I went toward the woods, and when I got down to the woods I tore the rest of the baby's clothes off. I was there a couple of minutes, just long enough to take the rest of the clothing off. I then started running with the naked baby toward a pickup truck that was parked alongside of a big house. I opened the door on the truck and laid the baby inside.

Found Child Was Dead.

Q.—When did you discover that the baby was dead? A.—After I was running and fell on top of it.

Q.—When did this happen? A.—Just after I had taken the baby and had left the car.

Q.—How did you discover that it was dead? A.—It didn't move, it stopped crying.

Q.—Will you tell me why you tore the clothing off of the baby in the alley? A.—To fool the police.

Q.—Will you describe to us, just how you took those clothes off the baby? A.—I just kind-of peeled them off.

Q.—At any time did you bother this child in a sexual manner? A.—No, I didn't.

Q.—In your judgment, how old do you think this baby was? A.—Two months.

Q.—Why did you take this baby? A.—To get a little extra dough.

Q.—Were you going to kidnap her for money. A.—Yes.

Idea from Radio.

Q. How did you plan on getting money by taking this child? A. By putting her somewhere and taking a ransom note back to the car.

Q. What caused you to change your plans? A. Because I killed her, the baby.

Q. Where did you get the idea, to take this child? A. Out of the radio.

Q. When did you first think of this kidnaping? A. I just got the idea, when I saw the baby.

Heath's mother, Mrs. Ruth Heath, 4701 Malden street, Chicago, arrived here this afternoon. She is a former circus giantess 6 feet 4½ inches tall. Heath's father, who was a circus magician, died four years ago.

She at first would not consent to her son waiving preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace John Siegel, refusing to believe he had committed the crime. She criticized police for "getting him to sign a confession just because his footprints were found near the scene."

But after state police had taken her to a private room where she was shown the confession and had talked with her son, she emerged crying and immediately went before the justice where the preliminary hearing was waived.

Says Son Is 15.

From the justice court, Heath was immediately taken before Circuit Judge Frank A. Bell. There Mrs. Heath was placed on the witness stand and asked about her son. She said he was born in Marland, Okla., on March 29, 1927. Young Heath had said he was 16; that he was born in 1926. She said she never before had had trouble with him.

Informed that the defendant did not have counsel, Judge Bell appointed John J. Walsh, city attorney of Marquette, to act for him.

6 NEW TRUSTEES NAMED TO BOARD OF HEALTH BODY

Six new trustees have been appointed to the board of the Public Health institute, according to an announcement of Joseph H. King, president, yesterday.

They are James A. Cunningham of the People's Gas Light and Coke company, Fred G. Gurley of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway company, C. J. Whipple of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett and company, Hughston M. McBain of Marshall Field and company, James Simpson Jr., and Donald P. Welles.

The institute, which was organized by public spirited citizens of Chicago in 1920, is the largest self supporting venereal disease clinic in the world. It cares for men and women at the lowest possible fees consistent with good medical attention, King explained.

CZECH RABBI ONE OF 181 ALIENS TO BECOME CITIZENS

Solomon Rosenberg, 4654 North Monticello avenue, a rabbi 27 years old, was among 181 aliens who took the oath of citizenship in the federal District court of Judge William H. Holly yesterday. Naturalization courts had been suspended for 60 days prior to the judicial election of Monday.

Rabbi Rosenberg, a citizen of Czecho-Slovakia, where his parents still live and his father is a rabbi, came to the United States in 1938. Today he will apply for a chaplain's commission in the army.

Steals Judge Tremko's Car; Jailed in Wisconsin

Capt. George Teeling of the stolen automobile detail was notified yesterday by police of Edgerton, Wis., that Edward Breen, 31 years old, 3023 Walnut street, has been jailed there for 110 days to work out a fine for the theft on Sunday of the automobile of Municipal Judge Michael J. Tremko. Breen and another man took the judge's car from a west side garage where Breen worked, Capt. Teeling said.

NEIGHBORS HERE SAY HEATH WAS A NORMAL BOY

Liked Outdoors, Sports, Caused No Trouble.

Chicago teachers, relatives and friends of Ross Heath, held in the death of baby Gloria Jean Nault, agreed yesterday that the strapping 6 foot youth was a normal boy in every respect.

In an effort to frame a background for the 15 year old boy, a reporter canvassed the neighborhood surrounding 4701 Malden street, where he had passed the last four years.

Briefly, his history was this:

His parents were circus people and he was born into the nomadic existence of the big top, a life he lived until his father, a magician, died four years ago.

Pursued Normal Life.

At that time his mother, Mrs. Ruth Heath, a 6 foot 4½ inch giantess in the circus, decided to settle down and she and Ross moved in with her sister, Mrs. Eva Maas at the Malden street address.

Ross, according to the information gleaned, altho slightly restless at the lack of travel, engaged in the normal pursuits of boyhood—he was a Bcy Scout, 2d class; liked sports, and enjoyed parties.

He enrolled in the Stockton elementary school, 4430 Beacon street, and was an industrious tho far from brilliant student, according to Miss Herta Giffey, the principal.

He was graduated from Stockton last January.

Mother Paid His Board.

His aunt, Mrs. Maas, obviously shaken at the tragedy, was unable to offer any explanation for his present plight.

"Ross ran away from here shortly after he got out of school and he took $15 of his mother's with him. She forgave him, tho, when he wrote and she's been sending the farm people he lived with board and room money every week.

"We have a baby boy, Charles Jr., now 11 months old," the aunt continued, "and Ross was always gentle and kind to him. And he loved dogs and horses—spent all his money riding horses."

CHICAGO DRAFT DODGER GETS 5 YEAR SENTENCE

Riley Campbell, 26 years old, colored, was sentenced to five years in prison on a charge of draft evasion by Judge John P. Barnes in federal court yesterday. John Kiely, assistant United States district attorney, said Campbell declared he was born in Egypt but a birth certificate was produced showing his birthplace to have been Chicago. Campbell lives at 3031 Prairie avenue.

Mose Russom, 34, also colored, 4327 Vincennes avenue, was placed on probation for one year by Federal Judge John P. Barnes on a charge of failing to register for the draft. Russom originally was sentenced to five years in prison.

STEPFATHER HELD IN RAPE, SLAYING OF SCHOOLGIRL

Police Hide Suspect to Balk Lynching.

New Orleans, La., June 2 [Special].—George Rushing, convicted sex criminal, was taken to an unnamed Louisiana city for safekeeping by Hammond police today following the death in a hospital here of his 14 year old stepdaughter, Hazel Leblanc, who was raped and battered with an ax in the Rushing home early yesterday.

Crowds in Hammond and thruout the adjoining territory have expressed a determination to lynch Rushing if he can be found. State police and sheriff's deputies are patroling the streets and keeping watchful eyes on the crowds.

Struck with Ax 13 Times.

Rushing has told police he was asleep at the time of the attack on the girl. Awakened by the girl's screams, he rushed to her room and found her missing, he said. He then went to the front yard and discovered her there, semi-conscious and covered with blood, he asserted. Beside her was a hand ax belonging to Rushing with which she had apparently been struck on the head 12 or 13 times.

Hazel went to a theater with a young man Sunday night, Rushing said, returning about 10:30 p. m. He said he did not know the name of her escort. In the house at the time of the rape were three other children, one of them a 3 year old boy who was sleeping in a bed with Rushing.

Served Two Year Term.

Records from Brookhaven, Miss., show that Rushing pleaded guilty there in January, 1933, to an attack on a minor girl. He was sentenced to two years in a Mississippi penitentiary and was later transferred to the Mississippi State Hospital for the Insane, according to the records. He was released in December, 1934.

Hazel was a student in the Hammond High school.

Thief Flees, Dons Pajamas, but Police Are Not Fooled

A quick change of clothing by Robert Warner, 17 years old, 6240 South Kedzie avenue, didn't fool Policemen John Hunt and Leroy Hallen yesterday. They saw him in a stolen car, gave chase, and fired six shots at him. He clambered up a rear fire escape to his home and a few minutes later when Hallen and Hunt knocked on his door, he greeted them in pajamas. They took him to the Chicago Lawn station where he confessed stealing three cars, all for joy riding.

How a
CURIOUS DRY GOODS MERCHANT
helped make Bowman Milk your best food at its best

Back in the 17th century, there lived in Delft, Holland, a dry goods merchant named Antony van Leewenhoek. Tremendously curious, he wanted to see more of little things—such as a bee's sting—than he could see with his eye alone.

Patiently, stubbornly, he learned to grind lenses. As he made better lenses, he saw more and more of little things until, one day, he placed a drop of rainwater before his glass and—to his astonishment—saw tiny "animalcules" swimming in it! He had discovered bacteria!

The pasteurization of milk is one effect of that discovery. Bowman does it with the most efficient equipment. But that isn't all. With lenses far more powerful than Leewenhoek dreamed of, with the skill of a staff larger than any other dairy company in Chicago, Bowman Milk is tested 10 times. Bowman Milk is always richer, always purer, always better-tasting than the official standard for fine milk.

FIRE INSURANCE FIRMS TO COVER U. S. WAR DAMAGE

Jones Reveals Agreement and Rates.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—Arrangements have been completed by the War Damage corporation with the private fire insurance industry to write insurance policies in coöperation with the government for the protection of property against enemy attack, Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones announced today in disclosing the rates of the new insurance for which any one may apply.

Fire insurance companies have been named as fiduciary agents for the WDC and they will issue policies for a 12 month period thru local fire insurance agents or brokers who will be paid a commission of 3½ per cent for the premiums they collect from applicants.

Blanket Protection Expires.

"It will be necessary for every one who wants protection against enemy attacks to make his application as soon as the necessary blanks are available," said Jones, "because the blanket protection now in force will expire by law June 30. Any one wanting the protection should contact his local fire insurance agent or broker.

All property in the United States is currently insured against war damage by a temporary War Damage corporation with a capitalization of 100 million dollars. The new corporation of the same name will have a capitalization of 1 billion dollars, as provided by congress.

Covers Buildings and Contents.

Under the rates announced by Jones, urban and rural dwellings and farm buildings, including contents, may be insured at the rate of 10 cents per $100 of insurance, and growing crops may be insured at the rate of 5 cents per $100.

No coinsurance is required on dwellings and farm buildings but on all other property, including commercial and industrial structures, private insurance must be obtained on at least 50 per cent of the property value.

Jones said an effort has been made to provide rates as low as possible and that they will be geographically uniform—that is, they will be the same in Illinois as in New York or California.

Schedule of Rates.

Rates in addition to those specified above are as follows [in cents per $100 of insurance]:

	On fire resistive construction.	On ordinary construction.	On non-classified.
Churches, hospitals, public buildings	10	15
Apartments, office buildings, warehouses	15	20
Manufacturing plants, wharves, bridges	20	30
Railroads and public utilities			30
Rolling stock			30
Roadbeds and trackage			10
Property in transit			03
Movable property of contractor [with 100% coinsur. mandatory]			25
Vessels under construction	25	37½
Vessels devoted to storage or industrial use	50	75
Ferries, commercial hulls, storage cargo, pleasure craft	50	75
Pleasure watercraft and pleasure aircraft [when not in use]			25

The insurance does not cover damages resulting from blackout, sabotage, capture, seizure, pillage, looting, use and occupancy, rent, rental value, or other indirect loss or consequential damage.

Neither will protection be given money, jewels, securities, and certain collectors' items. On some items there is a maximum insurable value.

The insurance companies will assume 10 per cent of all losses in excess of net premiums collected after expense, with a maximum aggregate loss to them of 20 million dollars. In case of a profit, the insurance companies may retain a corresponding percentage of the net profits, up to 20 million dollars, the remainder going to the WDC. The fiduciary agents will be paid 3½ per cent of premiums collected, with a minimum of 50 cents per policy and a miximum of $700. The producers—insurance agents and brokers—will be paid a commission of 5 per cent of premiums with a minimum of $1 and a maximum of $1,000 per policy.

Found by Daughter

GEORGE MILDENBERGER.

After a separation of 27 years, George Mildenberger, 1452 Congress street, and his daughter, Mrs. Ledora Dunkley, Thermopolis, Wyo., are about to be reunited. Mildenberger left his daughter, a son, Peter Robert, and his wife in Boise, Idaho, in 1915 while he went to find work in Chicago. Until a letter from Mrs. Dunkley reached him thru the veterans' administration in Washington just a few days ago, he had not been able to find them.

Mrs. Dunkley appealed to Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, Wyo., in April to help her find her father. She gave Fort Worden, Wash., as his last known address. Yesterday a letter from Mildenberger to his daughter was forwarded by the senator's office.

Mildenberger said yesterday that he hopes to see his daughter within the next month. She was four years old when he last saw her and her name then was "Medora" not "Ledora" as indicated in her letter. Mildenberger has married again.

U. S. SEIZES 600 PATENTS HELD BY AXIS COMPANIES

Many Airplane Devices Wanted by Army.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—Six hundred German and Italian patents were seized by the Office of Alien Property Custodian today. They included about a hundred owned and exclusively controled heretofore by Junkers and Arado, two large German manufacturers of airplanes.

"The U. S. army was particularly interested in Junkers' design features for cargo planes becoming available to American manufacturers," said Forbes Campbell, special assistant to the custodian, referring to plans to supply military outposts by air freight. "The army was also anxious to make available to American manufacturers certain German patents for aircraft instruments included in this seizure."

Bosch Patents Involved.

Others in the seizure were patents owned by Robert Bosch covering electrical equipment, motor fuel injectors, engine ignitions, and others in the fields of radio and television as well as in aircraft instruments.

Several of the seized patents related to the electron microscope currently of importance in certain scientific research.

With today's action, the Office of Allen Property Custodian has taken over approximately 3,000 of the 61,000 enemy patents registered in this country. The most important previous seizures covered processes for making synthetic rubber, high test motor fuel, and magnesium. The custodian is acting under authority of a Presidential directive of April 21.

Others Being Studied.

"The others are being scrutinized for use of any of value to us," said Campbell. "Any American manufacturer who needs one of these patents can apply to the custodian or to the War Production board.

"Licenses for use of some of these patents are now owned in America and this ownership will be protected altho the policy, of necessity a variable one, has not been determined on how royalties rates will be fixed. The custodian will collect the royalties."

W-G-N ANNOUNCER TO BE FEATURED IN SCREEN ROLE

Charles Victor, W-G-N announcer and master of ceremonies, left last night for Hollywood and the start of a career in the movies. Victor has been given a leave of absence to be featured with Rita Hayworth and Victor Mature in the new RKO movie, "Red Hot and Blue." Freddy Martin's and Les Brown's orchestras also will be in the film.

Victor's chance at movie making came while he was conducting his Chicago at Night interview programs in front of the Chicago theater. Ken Whelen, an RKO producer, paused to watch Victor conduct the show. He liked Victor's voice, appearance, and personality and promised him a chance in pictures.

Play Winsom, cash prize listener participation game, will start a new series on W-G-N at 7:30 p. m. tonight. The show has been aired previously on WBBM.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has cited W-G-N for its public service in presenting programs devoted to fire prevention. Special recognition was given to W-G-N for "its successful use of a mobile transmitter to build messages publicizing fire prevention." W-G-N was the only station in the midwest cited.

BAR REPORTERS FROM U. S. BOAT MEETING SHIPS

New York, June 2 (AP).—Harry M. Durning, collector of customs for the port of New York, today announced the wartime end of a 50 year newspaper privilege—the right to ride on the customs cutter to quarantine to meet ships coming to New York.

The practice stemmed from the days when New York obtained its principal foreign news from ships arriving from Europe. A century ago newspapers employed their own rowboats to meet sailing packets from abroad.

Durning said the decision had been made in Washington, D. C., and that newspaper men and photographers would be barred from the cutter which carries immigration officials, naval intelligence officers, and port authorities to waiting ships. The reason was not announced.

'GOON' BEATINGS JUST SCUFFLES, BORRELLI CLAIMS

Repudiates Confession; Absolves Keeshin.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

Two "little scuffles" and "a little fight" was Bruce [Bud] Borrelli's description yesterday of the furious maulings he administered to three employés of the Keeshin Motor Express company last November and which, the victims testified, left them battered and near insensibility.

Borrelli testified as a surprise witness in his own behalf before Judge Julius Miner in the Criminal court where he is on trial without a jury on a conspiracy indictment. His testimony followed two major defeats for the defense.

Earlier in the day Judge Miner admitted as evidence a grand jury statement Borrelli made Jan. 15, confessing the sluggings and asserting they were ordered by John L. Keeshin, president of the Keeshin company, as the aftermath of a brief strike by truck loaders. It is this statement that supports the state's conspiracy charge, because the victims, Stanley Misius, Nick Wassell, and John Milich, only established assault and battery when they identified Borrelli as their assailant.

Fails to Get Direct Verdict.

Later, Defense Attorney William Scott Stewart sought unsuccessfully to obtain a directed verdict of not guilty by knocking out the nine counts of the indictment.

Assistant State's Attorneys Richard Austin and Alexander Napoli agreed to dismissal of the last three counts and Judge Miner in addition struck out the first two. Four were allowed to stand, however, and conviction is possible on any one of them.

The trial is expected to end today, with Judge Miner entering his finding of guilt or innocence at conclusion of arguments which will follow the closing testimony. Stewart indicated he will close with character witnesses.

Whatever the effect of Borrelli's testimony upon his own case, it was regarded as having virtually wrecked state hopes of convicting Keeshin of conspiracy in the slugging last Jan. 6 of John Gottlieb, president of the Pioneer Motor service. Borrelli also is a defendant in the case which has been set for trial June 15.

Absolves Keeshin of Plot.

Borrelli admitted the Gottlieb slugging in the same grand jury confession that covered the attacks upon Misius, Wassell, and Milich. Yesterday he repudiated the grand jury testimony, absolved Keeshin of any plot or orders to slug the men, and asserted previous testimony had been falsified to the specifications of the prosecution.

Borrelli scuttled the state's case against Keeshin in the sluggings now at issue by refusing to testify as a state witness last Tuesday. And Borrelli admittedly is the only witness who could link Keeshin to a conspiracy.

On the stand yesterday Borrelli asserted Keeshin had hired him as an investigator and guard. He said he was told by other workers that Misius, Wassell, and Milich had records or had been accused of offenses at the Keeshin company and that it was in his rôle as investigator that he sought them out.

Pleads Self-Defense.

The beatings, Borrelli testified, were strictly in self-defense. All three of the victims started to fight him when he asked them about their alleged misdeeds, he asserted. Wassell, he declared, went so far as to strike him on the head with a lunch pail. This was too much, even for the peace loving Borrelli. So they had a "little scuffle" and after Wassell had regained his senses, Borrelli reluctantly discharged him and told him to get out.

It was almost as bad with Milich who, the witness said regretfully, used strong language when asked about his personal history. This time there was a "little fight." Borelli's blows cut Milich's lips, swelled an ear, closed both eyes, and smashed four false teeth from an upper plate.

Misius also used strong language and was said to have actually swung a fist. The gentle Borrelli so battered him that Mrs. Misius didn't recognize her husband when he finally reached home, the victim has testified. This, said Borrelli, was a "little scuffle." All three victims said they were beaten to the ground without warning for their part in a 25 minute strike.

Favors "Honest Day's Work."

Borrelli stumbled thru an exhaustive cross examination by Assistant Prosecutor Austin, giving his impressions of the duties of an investigator, and admitting he didn't keep regular hours at Keeshin's, but adding his conscience compelled him to do an honest day's work for an honest day's pay.

Meanwhile, in the Circuit court yesterday, a $500,000 damage suit against Borrelli and Keeshin by Misius, Wassell, Milich, and two other Keeshin employés was continued indefinitely. It was at first thought Borrelli had defaulted and Judge Walter La Buy was about to enter judgment in the suit, which contains a malice count that would have put Borrelli in jail if he failed to pay, when it was found the defendant never had been served with notice of the suit.

LEAVES TO GET ACCUSED SLAYER.

Detective Peter DeJulio of the Racine station left yesterday for Chino, Cal., to take custody of Edward Golombrewski, 19 years old, who is under indictment for the slaying of Stanley Chlopek in front of a tavern at 1814 Division street last July 13.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Triubne. Today's question was submitted by Mrs. Betty Peterson, 640 Waiola avenue, La Grange.]

THE QUESTION.

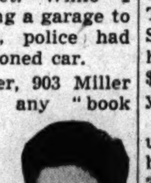
What have you learned or accomplished by the trial and error method?

WHERE ASKED.

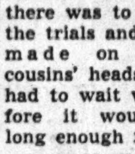
Engineering building, Wells street and Wacker drive.

THE ANSWERS.

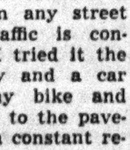
Dorothy Brixey, cashier, 4115 West 147th street—There are many things I have learned about a car in that manner. The latest thing I learned was not to leave a car with a flat tire in the middle of the street. While I was calling a garage to repair it, police had taken it in as an abandoned car.



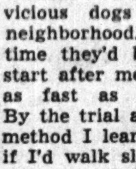
Paul Madaffari, barber, 903 Miller street—Before I had any "book learning" in the barber business I learned almost everything there was to know by the trials and errors I made on all my cousins' heads. I often had to wait weeks before it would grow long enough for more practice.



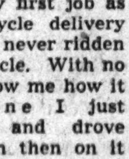
Ruth M. Pabst, teletype operator, 7043 Green street—Just one attempt and one error proved to me that I wasn't a good idea to ride a bicycle on any street where traffic is congested. I tried it the other day and a car struck my bike and threw me to the pavement. My bruises are a constant reminder of the lesson I learned.



Thomas W. Campion, messenger clerk, 6015 South Winchester avenue—There were several vicious dogs in our neighborhood. Every time they'd bark and start after me I'd run as fast as I could. By the trial and error method I learned that if I'd walk slowly the dogs weren't half as interested.



Robert Scott, motorcycle delivery boy, 3907 Sheridan road—When I accepted my first job as a motorcycle delivery boy I had never ridden a motorcycle. With no one to show me how it was done I just mounted and drove off. From then on it was a series of trials and errors until I had become an expert.



Luella M. George, typist, 5700 Sangamon street—Almost everything I've learned about sewing has been by that method. One of my most recent lessons was in cutting material. As I didn't pin the pattern to the material, I cut two sets of sleeves and ran out of material for the rest of the dress.

TAVERN BEATING VICTIM BLAMES JUKE BOX AGENT

Tony Waite, 59 years old, was beaten yesterday in his son's tavern at 6410 South Ashland avenue by a man whom he described as a representative of a juke box company. Waite, who was taken to the Holy Cross hospital, ascribed the attack to his refusal to do further business with the man.

Waite and his son, Peter, had been complaining that the company collectors were taking more than the agreed 50-50 share of the receipts, and a week ago when the representative appeared, the elder Waite forced him to remove the machine, a record player.

Yesterday the agent returned, according to Waite, and without warning punched him on the face with brass knuckles. Both the Waites told Chicago Lawn police they did not know the name of the company he represented.

VOTE TO INDICT VET ACCUSED IN JOB SALE FRAUD

The grand jury yesterday was reported to have voted four true bills against Sam Marshak, 49 years old, 2634 Iowa street, on charges of operating a confidence game. Fifteen witnesses reportedly testified that they paid him from $25 to $50 on his promises to get them jobs in the Buick airplane engine plant. Marshak is a Democratic precinct captain and World war veteran.

DUB PLENOCRATS FAILURE IN THIS LAND OF PLENTY

Witnesses Tell of Their Farming Woes.

Officials of the Universal Order of Plenocrats, self styled salesmen of "the divinely inspired science of plenty," brought just the opposite to farmers and investors alike when they attempted to run more than a score of midwestern farms, government witnesses testified in the federal District court yesterday.

Five men associated with the order are on trial in the court of Judge William H. Holly charged with violations of the securities and exchange act and using the mails to defraud. Thomas B. Hart, assistant United States district attorney, said the UOP had defrauded investors of more than $290,000 by promising a 30 per cent yearly return on their money.

A few of the investors ["contributors," the UOP called them] got back their original investment plus 30 per cent, but most lost all their money or a great part of it, the witnesses testified.

Missourian Tells Story.

Charles D. Smith, 69 year old Niangua, Mo., farmer, contributed an example of the organization's "scientific farming."

After the Federal Land bank foreclosed Smith's 260 acre farm, C. Franklin Davis, secretary treasurer of the UOP, bought the farm from the bank and kept Smith as tenant.

"Davis came to me and said he had a vision," Smith told the court yesterday. "The vision told him 'Some shall reap 30 fold and some 60 fold and some 100 fold.'"

"You're going to reap 30 fold on this farm?" the Missouri farmer said he asked Davis.

"'Yes,'" he said Davis answered. "'I had a vision.'"

Davis bought the farm and realized a yearly profit of $37.50 on the UOP's $7,500 investment, Smith said. Last year the farm again went into bankruptcy and Smith is running it for the receiver.

Apples Wormy, Another Says.

Another government witness, Frank Loucks, 60, testified wormy apples was the only product of his Chesterton, Ind., farm after the UOP took over.

Don Farrell, 55 year old Princeton, Ill., farmer, said he had to plow under most of his tomatoes, horseradish, cabbage, beans, and potatoes after the UOP rented the farm for $1,100.

"You couldn't tell the vegetables from the weeds," Farrell said. "The agricultural expert ran the farm from a hotel."

Besides Davis, other defendants are Justus Chancellor Sr., Chicago attorney and general counsel for the UOP; the Rev. Fred E. Bennett, Seattle, Wash., board member; C. H. Carter of Chicago, former president, and C. E. Oldenburg of Milwaukee, Wis., president. The officers were indicted two years ago. Davis served six months in jail in 1939 for violating an injunction which prohibited the sale or issue of membership certificates.

WE'RE GOING BACK TO BATAAN!

VOICES FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

Returns from the Illinois judicial election and the Iowa primary are a conclusive demonstration that the people of the middle west are determined to resist all encroachments by the New York Communists and the returned expatriates who are working together against the welfare of this country.

In Iowa the senatorial candidate who sought to make himself the tail to the kite of Mr. Willkie's internationalism came off a bad second in the Republican primary. Total votes cast by the Republicans more than doubled those in the Democratic primary. In Illinois all three contested elections for justices of the Supreme court resulted in Republican victories, involving the defeat of sitting Democratic justices in two of the three districts.

The Illinois returns will properly be regarded as an indication of increasing Republican sentiment in this state, but not as a Republican political victory. The people of Illinois want neither a Republican Supreme court nor a Democratic Supreme court. They want an honest, capable, and nonpolitical court.

Normally Justices Shaw and Farthing would have been reëlected. Illinois voters ignore party lines in judicial contests, as a rule, and the two justices had the advantages of incumbency and creditable records on the bench to aid their candidacies. But in this election the voters of their districts felt that they could not allow a result that could be hailed as a New Deal victory. Hence two excellent judges had to be retired. Fortunately the candidates who defeated them, Judge Fulton and State Sen. Thompson, did so by virtue of records which give assurance that the caliber of the court will not suffer by the change.

The only difference between this and other sections of the country is that in this area Americanism is less diluted than elsewhere by the propaganda of alien interests who wish to see this nation suffer as a cat's-paw for others.

The hyphenates of the east are in the minority, as here, but they are more vocal. They naturally cannot comprehend such a whole souled patriotism as is found in the middle west. They affect to see in it a lack of enthusiasm for the war. They need not disturb themselves. The middle west does not indulge in hysteria, but instead is backing the war effort with every ounce of the solid energy of which it is capable. It is determined, moreover, that the war shall be fought for the protection of American interests, and that it shall not be made a screen for loathsome encroachments on the very domestic institutions for which we are told we are fighting.

THE SUPREME COURT ON STERILIZATION.

The Supreme court has declared invalid an Oklahoma statute authorizing the sterilization of habitual criminals. All of the judges agreed on the verdict, but two of them, Chief Justice Stone and Mr. Justice Jackson, were dissatisfied with the reasoning of Mr. Justice Douglas and wrote concurring opinions.

American citizens generally will share the belief that the Douglas opinion was inadequate. The case was that of a man named Skinner, who had twice been convicted of robbery with a gun before he was tried and convicted of chicken stealing. The Oklahoma trial court thereupon found that he was an habitual criminal and ordered that he be sterilized as such. Mr. Douglas said that if Skinner had merely embezzled the chickens the crime, under Oklahoma law, would not have counted as a third strike. Mr. Douglas argued that if men are to be prevented from having offspring by reason of chicken stealing, no form of chicken stealing should be excluded from the calculation.

It seems probable that Mr. Douglas let it go at that because of a reluctance to decide against a legislature. In common sense, the only excuse which Oklahoma can have had for passing such a law is the high probability that the children of felons become felons in their turn. No doubt some of them do, but there is precious little evidence to suggest that ordinary criminality is inherited. If it were, a lot of eminently respectable citizens today would not be at large. Indeed, there must be precious few good citizens walking the earth today who have not had a felon among their ancestors.

Mr. Justice Jackson went to the heart of the matter when he said that among the things "a legislatively represented majority" may not do is "to conduct biological experiments at the expense of the dignity, the personality, and natural powers of a minority—even those who have been guilty of what the majority defines as crimes."

Chief Justice Stone made much the same point but with greater effect when he said that Skinner had been given no opportunity to show that his was not the type of case which would justify resort to sterilization. Skinner, accordingly, had been denied due process of law. This opinion has the great merit—absent in the reasoning of Mr. Douglas—of presenting the essential wrong in the Oklahoma statute in constitutional terms. The constitution does not forbid ill-conceived legislation as such, but it does forbid certain kinds of folly and stupidity. It is the highest duty of the judge in our system of government to make these invasions of constitutional rights abundantly clear, so that they shall not be repeated.

THE FINAL HOUR OF CORREGIDOR.

It fell to a young army radio man to describe the final hour of Corregidor's agony. He tapped out a series of broken messages on May 5 while the rock fortress in Manila bay was being shelled by siege guns and pounded from the air, and while the Japanese landing forces were beating down the last of the defenders.

The young man who sent Corregidor's last messages to the outside world had little literary talent, perhaps, but nevertheless his account is literature. The fire and noise and terror and hopelessness of the last minutes of the long, heroic, and unavailing defense burned their way into his story.

"They are not near yet. We are waiting for God only knows what. . . . They are throwing men and shells at us and we may not be able to stand it. They have been shelling us faster than you can count. . . ." A pause, then this: "We've got about 55 minutes and I feel sick at my stomach. They [his comrades] are around now smashing rifles. They bring in the wounded every minute. We will be waiting for you guys to help. This is the only thing, I guess, that can be done. . . .

"Gen. Wainwright is a right guy and we are willing to go on for him, but shells were dropping all night, faster than hell. Damage terrific. Too much to take. They have got us all around and from skies. Men here all feeling bad, because of terrific nervous strain of siege. Corregidor used to be a nice place, but it's haunted now."

A few minutes later: "Just made broadcast to Manila to arrange meeting for surrender. I can't say much. Can't think at all. I can hardly think. . . . The jig is up. Every one is bawling like a baby. They are piling dead and wounded in our tunnel. Arm's weak from pounding key; long hours, no rest, short rations, tired.

"I know now how a mouse feels, caught in a trap waiting for some one to come along and finish it. . . . Message. My love to pa, Joe, Sue, all my family, and friends. Hope they'll be there when I come home. Tell Joe [a brother in the coast artillery] to give 'em hell for us. God bless you and keep you."

Thus in its last moment Corregidor's message to the great new army springing up at home was to "give them hell for us." The Corregidor garrison knew that the manhood of America would be coming to take up the fight. The endless divisions would come, too late to save Corregidor, but not too late to take it back, and not too late for the final victory. The men of Corregidor who knew the bitter taste of defeat had faith at the last in that.

The words of an obscure soldier on a blasted rock 8,000 miles from home dedicate this nation to its task. We're going back to Bataan!

THE ENEMY WITHIN OUR GATES.

In ordering the deportation of Harry Bridges as an alien plotter against the republic Attorney General Biddle has laid down a policy which the administration cannot in good conscience confine to Bridges alone.

Bridges is subject to deportation because of his connections with the Communist party and with the Communist-dominated Marine Workers' Industrial union. So also is every other alien in the United States who has been affiliated with the Communist party or with the numerous unions that the Communists have dominated and made a part of their machinery for the overthrow of our government.

The Communists and their fellow travelers, including some recent recruits to the latter group whose community of interest with the Reds consists of joint participation in the smear campaign against pro-American statesmen, are already beginning to howl that Bridges is a victim of discrimination. The reverse is true. The only discrimination that can exist is the potential discrimination against the people of the United States and in favor of all the other alien Communists.

Mr. Henning, THE TRIBUNE's Washington correspondent, reports that Mr. Biddle and the department of justice are considering such discrimination, in flat violation of the mandate of congress. The Bridges deportation, he finds, is to be regarded as a test case, and pending its disposition by the Supreme court a year or two hence no action is to be taken against other equally guilty aliens.

Such a course, if Mr. Biddle should follow it, would flout his oath of office. A conscientious official does not wait until a law has been held constitutional to enforce it. The presumption is that a law is constitutional unless the courts hold otherwise, and duty requires that it be enforced without delay.

The cry has already been raised on behalf of Bridges that he has been placed in double jeopardy, since deportation proceedings against him were once dismissed; and that the amendment of the immigration laws by congress, under which the second deportation action was taken, was an ex post facto law aimed particularly at him. Neither contention has any merit, as Mr. Biddle establishes in decision on the case.

Residence of an alien in this country is not a right, but a privilege. The privilege can be withdrawn, or the conditions under which it may be enjoyed changed, whenever congress wishes to do so. Deportation is not a criminal prosecution, but an administrative proceeding by the executive department of the government. Thus, as Mr. Biddle says, the principle of double jeopardy does not apply.

In his decision Mr. Biddle calls attention to another section of the deportation act, which declares that the giving, lending, or promising of money to any subversive organization shall constitute affiliation with it. This gives additional substance to the findings of the Dies committee that thousands of New Deal employés have been contributors to and supporters of a variety of Communist front organizations, some of which are mentioned in the Bridges decision.

Consistency on the part of the administration demands that it follow its action in the Bridges case by separating these fellow travelers from the government pay roll. Many of them, it is true, are citizens, not subject to deportation, but their presence on the public pay rolls is a continuing scandal. Nothing could do more than the dismissal of the fellow travelers to reassure the people of the United States that the wide control which the government has assumed over every detail of business is actually for the purpose of winning the war, and that the war is not being used as a smoke screen behind which to destroy our economic system and republican institutions.

WHEN CAR USE DROPS.

[New Haven (Conn.) Register.]

The $5 annual car use tax which was imposed in the last federal tax bill amounted only to about $2 for the first payment, which had to be made last February. The stamp for the full 12 months beginning with the new fiscal year, a little more than a month from now, will cost the full amount. When the congress imposed the levy, it expected the tax to produce approximately $150,000,000.

If car use, or indeed ownership, is to be affected as some of the current proposals suggest, the owners of the some 30,000,000 motor vehicles will not be the only ones to feel the jolt. The treasury will feel it, too. This is only one of many cases in which new regulatory plans must be weighed in the light of their consequences farther along the line, but it is one of the easiest ones to visualize.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

NAMES YOU WONDER ABOUT.

The Gold Coast: A slang borrowing from African geography. This is an old name for a stretch of the West African coast under the great bosom of the Dark Continent, sandwiched between the Ivory Coast and the Slave Coast. These names were invented by explorers, mariners, and traders, Portuguese at first and then English, about 400 years ago. Its use in Chicago arose from the writings of flip reporters, and is not particularly old. We doubt if it was current before 1915.

Passavant Hospital: Named in memory of the Rev. William A. Passavant, a Lutheran clergyman, editor, and philanthropist, who founded its forerunner, called the Emergency hospital, in 1865. He also founded hospitals in Pittsburgh, Milwaukee, and Jacksonville, Ill. He died in 1894. Dr. Passavant was a Pennsylvanian of German ancestry; the family name, however, is of French origin.

Bughouse Square: So called in Chicago idiom because any crackpot can air his eccentric theories there, in normal times, without being "moved on" as a public nuisance by the police. In other words, a shrine of free speech and amateur oratory for lowly philosophers unable to hire a hall. We have always understood that there was a stipulation to this effect in the will of the city father who gave the property to the public—Walter L. Newberry, no doubt. The great days of Bughouse Square were during the last war and its aftermath of "wobblies," when numerous seedy gents stood around talking and waiting for the revolution to begin. . . Many Chicagoans of this generation do not know that the formal name for this small park is Washington Square.

Schicklgruber: Hitler is called by this derisive name so often that an explanation may be in order. His father was the illegitimate son of Maria Anna Schicklgruber, who married Johann Hiedler, generally believed to have been her seducer. Hitler père bore the name of his mother until he was 40, when he legally adopted the name of his maternal grandmother. Adolf Hitler was born 12 years after the change of name. [An analogy: Napoleon Bonaparte's foes often gave his name its Italian spelling, Buonaparte, and pronunciation.]

RECURRENT MIRACLE.

The boy watched patiently . . . the willow bough
  Was like a slender reed, its bark a glove
Of silk. The old man whittled deftly: "Now,
  Son, try it!" Then the mourning of a dove
Was hushed, a tiny voice grew reticent
  Beneath a fern, white petals ceased to fall,
And angels listened for an incident
  Of earth—a willow whistle's thin sweet call.

Young lips pursed gently (if a willow could Sound like a flute?) and then the note soared high;
  A clipper ship, I think, sailed swiftly by,
And old enchantment fell upon the wood.
  Once more the years will mark a south wind blowing
  On far trails where a whistling boy is going.

An Old Trouper's Last Hotel.

"Charon," said St. Peter to the ancient ferryman, "you know that old register of mine is getting rather cumbersome. With all those original signatures of the men and women who passed me, it's really the greatest autograph collection on record, but Gabriel insists on using a newfangled card system; he wants all of the inmates classified according to their profession.

"That's O. K. for the ordinary mortal, like a butcher, a baker, or a candlestick maker, but here comes a fellow like John Barrymore. How are we to classify him?

"He started as an illustrator and painter, then followed his family tradition by going on the stage. He played in serious drama and light comedy, starred in a half dozen stage successes, even did "Richard III." and "Hamlet." He became a star of the moving picture world and almost to the last was listed as a well-beloved comedian on the radio. How would you classify him, Charon?"

"That's easy," replied Charon, "just write, John Barrymore, artist." Max of the 2d Gallery.

Parade in the Loop.

O, isn't it grand when the boys march by, when the boys march by, when the boys march by; there's a catch in our throat and a tear in our eye, and we try to pretend that we smile as we sigh when our boys go marching by. But won't it be grand when our boys return, when our boys return, when our boys return. O, the joy to our hearts and the hopes that will burn; we'll forget all the ache, and the void, and the yearn when our boys march by on return. The Odd One.

THE SACRIFICIAL SKINK.

(A Brookfield Ballad.)

He's not well known, but I should think
You'd want to meet the modest skink.
He's just a lizard, small and shy,
But well rewards a thoughtful eye,
For when pursued by enemies
He sheds his tail with greatest ease
And leaves it wriggling to divert
Those who would serve him for dessert.
When he's won safety by this ruse
He grows another tail to use,
So think of him and be content,
Tho taxes take your last red cent.

If I send another, maybe I'll spoil my record. Do you think I ought to take a chance?

A FAT FREE DIET AND ULTRAVIOLET IN PSORIASIS.

SOME of these days let us hope we will discover a short, easy method of banishing psoriasis. Up to now, while the patient can be helped for a time, the pathway to recovery is tortuous and far from smooth.

We are all familiar with the characteristic blemishes, the round or oval patches of dry, silvery scales which may appear on the scalp, elbows, or in fact any part of the skin.

Fortunately the disorder is without the slightest effect upon general health. There is little itching and every body function may be at par, with no sign of an organic defect.

The cause has eluded the most persistent search. In many cases, however, the eruption will vanish subsequent to a change in environment, particularly if the patient is exposed to sunlight. For example, at the beginning of summer, the cuticle may be generously covered with plaques. But, after the season is over, a clear, soft epidermis may be present.

There is reason to believe that most of these victims have some weakness in the machinery which digests fats. Using a nonfat diet, therefore, will bring complete relief, provided oily materials are excluded from the menus scrupulously. Probably more cases have been arrested in this fashion than thru the application of ointments, salves, and drugs of all sorts.

The improvement which may follow the taking of arsenic as a medicine is explained on the ground that the chemical has a marked influence upon metabolism. A few individuals have observed a lessening of symptoms after a diarrhea of infectious origin eliminated from the alimentary tract toxins which interfered with normal absorption.

Recently attention has been called to the striking results which occasionally follow the ingestion of large doses of vitamin D. Here, again, it is quite possible that the vitamin may neutralize or modify a noxious chemical within the intestinal tube. The percentage of cures is not high—5 out of 25. This would scarcely justify general adoption of the plan. In this connection it should be pointed out that the malady comes and goes. Spontaneous remissions may occur.

The ailment is not known in tropical or subtropical countries. It is unheard of among animals. This brings us back to the suggestion offered by numerous investigators—namely, that light starvation is responsible. Despite the reasonableness of this theory it seems almost certain that the basic general "starter" is an upset in the chemical solution of food.

For abatement of the acute manifestations a simple ointment that contains 2 to 5 per cent ammoniated mercury and a very small amount of salicylic acid will be helpful. The scales will soften, peel readily, and some healing will be accomplished. More powerful preparations, employed by skilled dermatologists, include chrysarobin and tar.

Probably more lasting relief comes from the use of Old Sol. During dull days, an ultraviolet lamp will supply an effective substitute.

HANDS OFF!

S. P. writes: Why is it considered dangerous to squeeze pimples?

REPLY.

This procedure may force bacteria and pus into lymph spaces or tiny capillaries. The veins in the region of the mouth and nose can carry infection directly into large blood vessels within the skull.

A GOOD SORT.

K. R. W. writes: Are lactic acid bacilli considered beneficial?

REPLY.

Yes. They play a definite rôle in repelling noxious germs within the alimentary tract.

COLON DISORDER.

F. W. E. writes: Are spastic and mucous colitis the same?

REPLY.

Some writers use the terms interchangeably. A victim of mucous colitis usually exhibits spasms of the bowel at intervals.

WHAT THE BOYS THINK OF USO.

Fort Douglas, Utah, May 28.—I understand the folks back home are being asked to contribute to the USO and I thought perhaps you might want to know how a Chicago boy feels towards the USO and just how all the boys here regard it.

When I first arrived in Salt Lake City the USO had not been opened, and we spent our spare time just walking around the "Loop,"—and the "Loop," in Salt Lake City is a far cry from the "Loop," in Chicago.

We still take our evening stroll around town and along "Main street," but we usually end up at the USO. As soon as we enter the door we are cordially greeted by a smiling hostess and made to feel right at home. If we want to dance, we dance; if we want to read, we read; if we feel like having a game of cards or playing checkers or ping-pong, all we have to do is just help ourselves. Somebody always will ask if we would like a cup of coffee and some sandwiches and, of course, we never say no.

I believe the USO is doing a wonderful job here and I know I am expressing the views of all my buddies when I say that I hope they will be able to keep up their good work. SERGT. A. P.

Roosevelt Field, Mineola, N. Y., May 27.—I am a private in the army air corps, I have time on my hands, so I am writing this letter to inform you of the feeling of pride and interest we soldiers are building up in the United Service Organizations.

My thoughts are sometimes on the gloomy side, and when I feel that way, I head for the USO. We have civilians to talk to—women, who remind me somewhat of Mom, and young girls of our own age to play games and dance with.

I'm for it 100 per cent and I always shall be. It's great. It's home and it's fun. A CHICAGO SOLDIER.

Chicago, May 29.—On asking my soldier son his opinion of the USO, I was told, "You can bet money that the USO is the most appreciated thing in the army, navy, or marine corps, except a furlough. Give generously. We'll really love everybody more for it. We regard it as a substitute for home." M. MILLER.

AUTONOMY FOR RHINELAND STATES.

Chicago, May 25.—In the peace negotiations following the last war the pope suggested that Austria, Bavaria, and the Rhineland countries be given autonomy. Clemenceau blocked this proposal. It no doubt will be made again, and another statesman will perhaps oppose it. Any student of history knows that the culture of these groups is opposed to the militaristic culture of the Prussian group. Had the pope's suggestion been carried out there would have been a strong bloc now against Hitler.

The culture in the region in question is Catholic and the approach to the problem must be made by some one who understands Catholic culture. M. V. D.

ARMY SAFETY RAZORS.

Fort Sill, Okla., May 28.—Seems to me there is a phony note in the rationing of safety razors.

The men all bring their own razor to camp. Most of the men do not care for the G. I. model and would throw it away if it wasn't needed for inspection. They use the G. I. toothbrush to clean parts of their rifles. It can also be used as a shoe polish dauber. PVT. B. W.

HOW THE CITY CAN SAVE TIRES.

Chicago, May 27.—Can any motorist or trucker who is forced to drive along Cermak road from Ashland boulevard to Canal street do anything but subject his tires and car to the hardest kind of wear and tear? This stretch of busy thorofare is in such a deplorable condition that it is impossible to avoid the holes and bumps, and the depreciation on any car, each time it traverses this stretch of neglected street, is out of all proportion to the distance covered.

It would seem a patriotic necessity to pave, repair, or at least improve the condition of this street in order to conserve both tires and automobiles so desperately needed in the nation's war effort. C. BLETHAL.

HELPING ALONG GREASE COLLECTION.

Chicago, May 27.—My trip to our butcher shop with grease I had saved was a revelation.

Force of habit prompted my saying, "What, only 4 cents a pound?" The clerk then answered that it wasn't the price the public received for the grease that was important, but the good the grease would do in our war production effort. He explained just how much glycerin could be made from a pound of fat, and the importance of glycerin in the manufacture of munitions.

If all butcher shops were as well informed and made this special effort, housewives would be more inclined to help. ELEANOR STAGGS.

RATIONING AND ROTTING RUBBER.

Chicago, May 26.—Rationing of gasoline is completely unnecessary in the midwest. At best it is a political sop to the eastern states. At worst it is unwarranted regimentation and another evidence of the Communists now in power.

I can quote the best authorities to the effect that the average tire life is three to four years. Under present conditions this would be considerably increased. If a car has good tires now, the tires will rot away faster than they can be used if driving is restricted further. The same applies to old tires also. Thus gasoline rationing cannot conserve rubber; instead, it will waste rubber. JAMES T. MCCALGEN.

WAR SONGS.

Chicago, May 30.—What is the matter with our song writers of today? So far we have not got one single war song that appeals. Today, Memorial day, it was nice to play the old songs of World War I., which, fortunately, I have saved. F.

KIEPURA ON W-G-N.

Chicago, May 29.—May I present my congratulations and thanks to W-G-N for presenting listeners with an unusual treat May 23, a program of songs by Jan Kiepura, sponsored by the United States treasury department. This program confirmed my belief that W-G-N maintains the highest consistent standard in presenting to the public the world's finest talent. JOSEPHINE FISHLEIGH.

CLEANING ONLY BEFORE ELECTIONS?

Chicago, May 22.—What's the matter with the city cleaning up the viaduct starting on 14th street and Damen avenue? It's thick with dirt, and could use a good whitewash thruout. Must it only be cleaned around election time? Why can't something be done?

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

CONTRACT TO SELL.

Chicago, May 21—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I owned a piece of property in Highland Park up to November, 1941. I listed this property with two real estate firms there and one in Chicago, giving no exclusive option, nothing in writing. In November, 1941, one of the Highland Park real estate operators sold the property and now [1] the other real estate party there is suing me for a commission on this sale.

2. I have paid the firm that sold the property their commission. This case is brought in Waukegan and I live in Chicago.

3. I cannot see why I should have to pay two real estate people when only one sold the property and I had given no exclusive right to any one or any option.

2. The broker whom you have paid presumably has the facts and hence is in a better position to advise you than we are.

3. It may be that the other broker is claiming that you gave him an exclusive agency or is claiming that he was the one who produced the customer. See preceding answers. You should employ an attorney to defend.

MORALS SQUARE OFF WITH MORES AT POLICE TRIAL

Commissioner Green Puts Sociology Into Case.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Sociology entered the civil service hearing of charges against Policeman James E. Kehoe yesterday. Assistant State's Attorney Ralph Clare wanted to talk about whether Kehoe failed to do his duty because he didn't close many gambling resorts. Civil Service Commissioner Wendell Green had other ideas.

Kehoe was formerly attached to the morals division of the police department. When Green started talking about the mores of the people, Clare, as he afterwards admitted, understood the word to be morals. Later Clare and at least one other person had to consult a dictionary to discover that "mores" means customs, or manners.

Wonders About Social Attitudes.

"I wonder if the social attitudes or the mores of the people have any bearing in this case," said Green during a lull. Green is a Negro attorney appointed to the commission as a Republican, but he is now a Democratic candidate for election in November as a municipal judge. He was presiding at the hearing.

"It keeps reverberating thru my mind: Can you divorce the mores of the people and the issues involved in this trial?" Green continued.

"If the commissioner is inquiring into the attitude of the people toward gambling, he should ask the state's attorney," said Attorney Thomas D. Nash, representing the policeman. "He will tell you that convictions for gambling are few and far between."

"I object to this," said Clare. "The question involved here is one of neglect of duty and the making of false official reports. We have a police officer on trial. Is he guilty or not guilty?"

Green Offers Suggestion.

"Perhaps this policeman was caught in a whirlpool of gambling," Green suggested.

"Suppose a police officer was caught in a whirlpool of crime," argued Clare. "Would he be compelled to tolerate crime?"

"What about the 25,000 people who went to the horse races on Decoration day?" suggested Nash. "I can't see why it is legal to make a bet a few miles outside the city and illegal in the city."

"Again I say the right or wrong of gambling does not enter into this hearing," Clare reminded the trial board.

"I'm just throwing out these ideas informally since the hearing is recessed," Green explained.

Introduces Kehoe Reports.

"Well, I have a few more reports I'd like to introduce into evidence before the recess," Clare stated, and he was permitted to produce a number of daily reports made out by Kehoe as head of an anti-gambling squad of four policemen who had jurisdiction at one time in the loop and again on the north side.

The hearing was started yesterday to accomodate a number of witnesses called to tell of operating legitimate businesses at addresses which Kehoe reported visiting frequently. By agreement certain others records were admitted as evidence, and today the state's attorney's office expects to conclude its case. Courtney's investigators are to tell of finding open gambling at addresses which Kehoe reported as being closed, Clare said.

DEFENSE CALLS FIRST WITNESS IN DR. EVANS' TRIAL

Atlanta, Ga., June 2 [Special].—W. R. Neal, chief engineer of the Georgia highway board during the administration of former Gov. E. D. Rivers, testified in Fulton county Superior court here today that neither Rivers nor O. G. Glover, former state purchasing agent, ever asked him to favor Dr. Hiram W. Evans in large scale purchases of sand asphalt.

Neal, who flew here from South America where he is building airports, was called as the first defense witness in the trial of the former imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan.

Evans is accused of conspiring with Rivers and others to defraud the state of unspecified sums in the sale of sand asphalt at controled prices thru companies he owned or represented.

John W. Greer Jr., former purchasing agent for the Georgia highway department, was found guilty today by a jury in United States District court here on three charges of conspiracy to fix asphalt prices. Judge E. Marvin Underwood postponed sentence.

Greer was indicted by a federal jury along with Evans and three companies selling road material. All defendants except Greer pleaded nolo contendere to the charges and paid fines approximating $30,000.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and personally, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries. Persons are asked to keep their letters short because of the volume of mail.]

C. A. K. asks: "Would I pass the physical examination given by the navy if I wear glasses? What is the minimum and maximum height for the navy?

ANSWER: If you have a minimum vision of 15/20 without glasses you would be eligible. The minimum height for the naval reserve is 5 feet 2½ inches and for the regular navy, 5 feet 3 inches. The maximum height is 6 feet 4 inches for both branches.

J. A. E. writes: "A few months ago I tried to enlist in the navy but I did not pass the physical exam because of defective color perception. Is there any branch of the service I can enter? I am 18."

ANSWER: Your color blindness would not prevent your enlistment in the army. The army is seeking young men of your age and is offering them their choice of enlistment in any branch.

Miss T. L. writes: "My fiancée enlisted in the army. He desires to take out the $10,000 military insurance policy and make me the beneficiary. He has been told this is impossible and even if we were to marry now I could not be named as beneficiary. He was told we would have had to be married before he enlisted to make me beneficiary. Has he been informed correctly?

ANSWER: The information he received was only partly correct. It is true he would not be permitted to name you, his fiancée, as beneficiary. However, upon marrying, whether or not it was before he enlisted, he could make you beneficiary. If, before the marriage, he had named some one else beneficiary he still has the right to change the beneficiary.

L. L. writes: "I would like to join the Illinois Reserve militia. Where can I enlist? Also, if I join would I be affected by the draft?"

ANSWER: You can apply for enlistment at the Illinois Reserve Militia armory nearest your home. The armories are at 1551 North Kedzie avenue, 2653 West Madison street, 5917 Broadway, and 3517 Giles avenue. The latter is a colored regiment. Members are not exempt from selective service.

H. E. F. writes: "My vision prevents me from joining the army air corps as a pilot. What can I enlist in for ground crew work besides that of mechanic? I am 19 years old."

ANSWER: Other specialist jobs you might qualify for include aircraft armorer, airplane machinist, metal worker, or welder, parachute rigger, radio operator and mechanic, weather observer or forecaster.

AUTO MECHANICS WIN UNION FIGHT OVER CITY WORK

Machinists Ordered to Reinstate Group.

The city's original stand that members of the auto mechanics' union have a right to vehicle repair jobs in municipal garages was again upheld yesterday by Harvey W. Brown, international president of the International Association of Machinists. He also stressed the view in a talk to more than 100 officials and representatives of local machinists' and mechanics' unions at Machinists' hall, 113 South Ashland avenue.

The meeting dealt with a year old controversy. It started when the city hired six auto mechanics to do maintenance work in one city garage. Previously all mechanical work on city vehicles had been done by members of the construction machinists' union. The auto mechanics receive 50 cents an hour less than the machinists.

Fear Sabotage; Capitulate.

The machinists protested and won their point. Lloyd Johnson, commissioner of streets and electricity, discharged the auto mechanics recently because sabotage of city vehicles was feared.

The auto mechanics carried their complaint to the executive council of the machinists' association at Washington, D. C., and won a decision in their favor. Both unions are members of the council. Meanwhile, the machinists voted the mechanics out of the local machinists' council.

Orders Mechanics Reinstated.

Brown arrived in Chicago Monday and called last night's meeting of officials of the local council. Altho no officials would disclose what transpired at the session, it was learned that Brown and other international officials ordered the local council to reinstate the auto mechanics' union and reiterated the Washington ruling that mechanical work on city vehicles comes under the jurisdiction of the auto mechanics' union.

An organizer for the international association, Joe Ramsey, was left in Chicago by Brown to "see that things run smoothly in the local council." The auto mechanics have not yet been rehired by the city, but it is expected that they will be after Johnson receives official notice of the meeting today.

Fake Telephone Calls Cause Air Raid Alert

Portland, Me., June 2 (AP).—Fake telephone calls, attributed by police to some one with "a ghastly sense of humor," put Portland under a "yellow" air raid alert tonight. Two war industry plants blacked out, 60 civilian defense workers manned posts, and at least 2,000 others called divisional chiefs for orders before the hoax was stifled. Evacuation of a theater and a hotel was prevented when the managers checked mysterious telephone orders with civilian defense officials. Police sought the coöperation of telephone officials to trace the calls.

MILK COMPANIES TO VOTE ON PLAN FOR SAVING TIRES

Associated Milk Dealers of Chicago yesterday were offered three alternatives under which they may conform with the government order reducing tire consumption 25 per cent. The members were asked to indicate their preference so that the group can take united action at a meeting Friday night.

The three plans, outlined by Paul Potter, executive secretary of the milk dealers' associaion, were: Every other day delivery to homes and six days a week delivery to stores, restaurants, etc.; delivery to homes on a six instead of seven day basis, with no change in store deliveries; and allowing each distributor to work out his own program for reduced delivery.

In Chicago, as in New York, the milk dealers and the drivers' unions have been unable to agree on a plan, altho the reduction order was effective June 1.

Of the three plans presented in Chicago, it appeared likely the dealers would choose the every other day delivery system. This method is said to be favored by Washington officials of the Office of Defense Transportation.

The unions have objected to the system since it would materially reduce the number of drivers needed. The plan favored by the Chicago dealers will be submitted to the ODT and the drivers' union for approval, Potter said.

PLAN BUREAU TO HUNT JOBS FOR RELIEFERS

Plans for the reëmployment of persons on relief in Chicago and rural downstate areas were speeded yesterday following the creation of a job placement and counseling service by the Illinois Public Aid commission.

The commission has voted to set up a work project within the Chicago Relief administration to help those on the relief rolls find jobs. In the downstate areas where there is an acute shortage of farm labor, the commission has changed its procedure on the formation of reëmployment committees and now will ratify the appointment of the committees as fast as they can be formed.

In Chicago the work project is to have a staff of 24 employës and will supplement the work of other job-finding agencies. The unit will establish direct relations with employers and will work coöperatively with Gov. Green's reëmployment committee and the United States employment service.

THE TRIBUNE TRAVELERS' GUIDE

TRIBUNE OFFERS SUMMER TOURIST SECTION SUNDAY

Pertinent Facts in Travel Outlook Set Forth.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.

The carefree days of other years, when a traveler could go wherever he pleased, are over for the duration, but—barring the unexpected—there will be no absolute priority on domestic travel this season.

This being so, THE TRIBUNE will celebrate the opening of the summer tourist season by devoting a section to the subject next Sunday.

Not since the first World war has there been such confusion in the travel industry as has existed in the last few weeks. Tourist agents, railroad, airplane, bus, and inland steamship agents, motor club officials, resort owners, and the tourists themselves have been bewildered by a maze of edicts pointing out the need of recreation and vacations for wartime workers—and other edicts letting it be known that the facilities for taking care of that need are about to suffer a blackout.

How Picture Shapes Up.

Out of this confusion have come, within the last two or three days, these more or less definite pronouncements:

1. Nationwide gasoline rationing is a distinct possibility for on or about July 1. Until that time, however, the middle western motorist may make as many trips as he wishes.

2. Subject to the provision that the service men and the arms plant workers are to be taken care of first, the railroads will stand ready to carry the vacationists to nearly all the resort areas ordinarily reached by rail in this country, Canada, and Mexico. Luxury equipment on the roads is to be officially frowned upon, and gradually curtailed.

3. The national parks will remain open. Sightseeing by bus within the playgrounds is out, but the buses will be there to carry visitors from the trains to the hotels and vice versa, with stops at the scenic points en route.

Bus Lines to Ease Up.

4. Like the railroads, the major bus lines are to ease up on their luxury tours and devote themselves to the more prosaic business of merely getting their passengers from one place to another.

5. The air lines will devote most of their equipment to the job of transporting persons engaged in the war effort.

6. Steamer service on the inland waters, such as the Great Lakes, will be reduced, but not blotted out.

7. For the time being, at least, the federal government will not clamp down on so-called pleasure travel.

Under this seven-point program, next Sunday's TRIBUNE will seek to tell the public about where to go, how to get there, and the accommodations available in the places still open to the public.

For the task of assembling and spreading this information, a large number of staff writers has been called upon.

Word from Washington.

Hal Foust, for instance, is sending the latest word on the position taken by official Washington. Bob Becker is writing about fishing, camping, and canoeing conditions up north. Other phases of the current scene are to be covered by Philip Hampson, Percy Wood, George Tagge, Edward Wilson, Guy Murchie, Mason Warner, Anson Brown, Chester Holway, Harriett Pribble, Dorothy Schmidt, and Pearl Anoe.

With such an array of talent, the section should be worth reading. And it may be the last one of its kind for quite a while.

Two Promising First Novels Deal Poignantly with Elemental Forces.

BOOKS

"The World at My Fingertips" Is an Inspiring Autobiography of Blindness.

2 First Novels Admirable for Sensitive Prose

"Hurricane Caye," by Margaret Shedd. [Harpers, $2.50.] Published last Saturday.
"The Sun Dial," by Richard Austin Smith. [Knopf, $2.50.] Published Monday.

Two first novels which promise much for their authors' futures and provide present satisfaction to their readers are these. They have more than the week of publication and the literary debut of their authors in common. Both are fictional records of elemental forces, of the effect upon human beings of natural phenomena, and both are distinguished for their delicate and sensitive prose.

Margaret Shedd has chosen the heart of the Central American jungle where, as one character observes, "there's too much life, too many things are blooming. You can smell them. So in the end there is also too much—death."

Death . . . and lush life crowd these pages. Swift, sudden death, and slow, lingering death shadow the lives of the men and women and resolve their destinies. The book is not, however, a tale of death, but of vivid life, typified best perhaps by the vivid pink camellias which grow wild against the drab sun baked walls of the company settlement.

Margaret Shedd. Richard Austin Smith.

There are three women in "Hurricane Caye." There is most memorably the little motherless 17 year old Rosita, half Yucatanean, half Swiss, who has been brought back from her father's Swiss home town on account of the war into a life utterly alien to the quiet pension where she had lived since she was 3 and to a father who looks upon her with indifferent disapproval. To Rosita, "like an elegant icebox, very elegant, but cold, cold," comes the warmth of true love's fire —for one day. Death quenches the fire, but cannot chill the tender warmth.

There is the minor Mrs. Talbot, who gave a man at first sight "the masculine joy of watching a woman who was not a lady show she was not." And there is the major Kate, wife of one man, loved by two others, an ardent youth and a death marked older man. In Kate's life, too, death plays the resolving rôle.

Death lurks in the jungle and in the salt sea, and not the least memorable parts of "Hurricane Caye" are those which describe the epically violent storms which are death's playthings.

Violent storms are the flashlights also of "The Sun Dial," which is actually a series of vivid and often poetical pictures in the life of a man who left the sea for love of a woman and quite literally went back to it forever.

Soren, as the book opens, is a fishing seaman off the coast of Maine saying farewell to the sea and dreaming of a long, happy life with his Suzanne on an island off the coast. Dramatically, fate decided otherwise, and the description of the hurricane thru which they lived, and the subsequent wrenching of rocks in which Suzanne died, is something no reader will forget.

Numb, Soren goes into a shipbuilding yard in Searsport and then again to sea—to Colombia, on a gold dredge in 1905; to Montevideo and thru the Strait of Magellan on a swift race for Chilean nitrates in 1914; into port in Denmark thru the British blockade; thru [in a few paragraphs] the war which "in its strange way had brought him fulfilment, even distinction" because "the sea-obsession in his heart gave him immunity to lesser fears, as furnace-hardened steel is impervious to cooler fires." Finally, in one last dramatic moment aboard an abandoned destroyer being used as a radio controled target, he gave himself finally and permanently to the sea.

Like the shadows on a sun dial, the epochal periods of old Soren's life are marked in this novel which, like Margaret Shedd's, is memorable especially for its author's sensitive and beautiful prose.

Margaret Shedd is a niece of Gen. Charles G. Dawes, and thus, altho she never lived here, one of us. Her novel is one of six first novels which mark the celebration of the 125th anniversary of Harper and Brothers, publishers. F. B.

Essays on Eating

M. F. K. Fisher, whose amusing "How to Cook a Wolf," is reviewed below.

"How to Cook a Wolf," by M. F. K. Fisher. [Duell, Sloan & Pearce, $2.50.] Published a week ago Monday.

The wolf which the author of this enchanting book refers to is the big bad wolf which is outside a great many doors these days, what with the rising tide of our eagerness to help win the war by saving in every way we, or any one else, can think of. Miss Fisher's theory is that the wolf at the door, or whatever else is handy, would make a savory stew, and she tells you how.

But, altho this book probably is classed as a cookery book and certainly has some highly luscious sounding recipes in it, it is primarily a series of extremely sophisticated and subtle and often highly amusing essays on the universal business of eating. A sample of Miss Fisher's lifting of the subject of food out of the commonplace is a paragraph in her highly instructive [and amusing] chapter on "How Not to Boil an Egg." She says something that all of us agree is a truth that few of us have stated: "Probably one of the most private things in the world is an egg until it is broken."

Her luscious ideas concern themselves with such divergent things as how to live on 50 cents for "three days to a week, depending on how luxurious your tastes" and a final chapter on extra-extravagant delights of the palate just to help "forget it [this troubled life] for a time."

"How to Cook a Wolf" is that rarest of books, one full of excellent and sage advice which will unquestionably pay you dividends in money if you follow it, and one that is such fun to read that it's worth the investment anyway. And that, my hearties, is the best recommendation that could be given to a book that costs five times what its author shows could feed a man for a week. F. B.

Inspiring Story Tells Triumph Over Blindness

"The World at My Fingertips," by Karsten Ohnstad. [Bobbs-Merrill, $3.]

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"Blindness does not set a man apart from the world any more than strawberry blonde hair or flat feet," concludes the author of this most fascinating and stimulating autobiography of blindness. How one young man made himself a useful, integral, self-supporting part of the world, despite the blindness which threatened to cut him off from life, is the subject of "The World at My Fingertips."

"In those weeks in the hospital," he writes, concerning the first few weeks of his realization that his sight was gone, "I had given up certain things which I had expected to be important parts of my life: reading, writing, athletics, music, handwork, book education. Now in three years I had got them all back. As I approached my graduation [from the school for the blind] that great fact outweighed all the irritation I had felt, all the complaints I had uttered."

Karsten Ohnstad wanted to be a writer. He is a writer today. He skis, he skates, he swims, he runs, he plays baseball. He sang in the famous St. Olaf choir. He discovered that hearing music became, for the blind, a visual as well as an auditory pleasure. He saw "a riot of scintillating colors" when he heard his first symphony orchestra.

He became an expert piano tuner, and earned enough during his four years at college tuning pianos to hire a sighted person to read his lessons to him, and thus to get thru college.

Autobiographer

Karsten Ohnstad, who tells of his conquest over blindness in his autobiography, "The World at My Fingertips," reviewed on this page.

He learned to drive nails, to make perfect cubes, do all sorts of handiwork. He typed his own manuscripts. He had not only his college degree, but worked for his master's degree, and thus had his "book education." He worked as a librarian, taught school. The reason that young Karsten Ohnstad has all these things now is because he had dauntless courage and an indomitable will not to let his handicap be a handicap.

One of the most indelible pictures in this book full of surprisingly vivid descriptions is the one where he tells of reading Braille, of the numbness which overcomes the finger tips, and then pays this unrivaled tribute to the power of great literature: "Occasionally new books with sharp dots came back to the library with blood on the pages. Some one, absorbed in the story, had read until the skin of his finger wore thru."

This is the most interesting record of the way that a person feels when he is faced with blindness, the most sensitive picture of the blind person's reactions to life, the most gayly human life document that this reader has come upon in years.

Family Stories Stir Memories of Bygone Era

"Family Album," by Agnes Rothery. [Dodd-Mead, $3.]
"My Yankee Mother," by Herbert E. French. [Vanguard, $2.50.]
"It Runs in the Family," by James Lee Ellenwood. [Scribners, $2.]

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

Agnes Rothery writes of her New England family with delightful humor, charm, and vivacity. Her father reminds the reader a little of Clarence Day's masterful parent, tho Mr. Rothery is not such an egoist.

The home in Wellesley and the summer place on the cape were the centers about which the four lively Rothery youngsters and their mother and father revolved, both houses usually overflowing with friends and relatives. The author's portrait of her grandmother, who lived with them, is one of the choice chapters of this book, as is also the very first, a touchingly tender episode called "The Orange Tree," in which Miss Rothery sets the scene for her reminiscences.

Mr. French includes the entire family in his narrative, "My Yankee Mother," but it was she, staunch and indomitable, who controled every situation. It was she who learned to drive an automobile in the days when it was considered first cousin to a bucking broncho; it was she who determined to move her family from the country to the city, chose the house, and engineered everything. Mother was a true matriarch.

That James Lee Ellenwood has a keen sense of humor as well as a large measure of workable philosophy is demonstrated from beginning to end of "It Runs in the Family," the saga of his own household. A more jolly, effervescent group of old and young would be hard to find.

In the midst of blaring radios, the ringing of the telephone, and the general confusion of teen age youngsters coming and going, the author sits down to record his thoughts on such modern problems as the "boy-girl business" and how late is "early" for the breakup of a party.

MISS LORAINE CARROLL.

When Miss Loraine Carroll, who is now Mrs. Robert Witherell, surveyed her wedding gifts she discovered there was not a single cook book among them. Fortunately, the book shop which she manages in the Palmer House had a wide selection, so she was able to take care of that vital matter. But, says Miss Carroll, many a bride can't fix the situation up so easily, and her friends would do well to remember that a cook book is one of those obvious necessities which is often overlooked by gift buyers. Just the right cook book can be had from Miss Carroll at the Handy Palmer House Book Shop [Lower Arcade].

CHAPTER 37

CHAPTER 37

IN 1936 Manuel Quezon, President of the Philippine Commonwealth, knowing the high esteem in which Douglas MacArthur was held among the natives of the Philippines, commissioned him Field Marshal of the Philippine Army. In this capacity it was his duty to enlarge, train and develop the native forces for defense.

Douglas MacArthur's great popularity in the Islands brought young Filipinos at once rallying to his call. He introduced American methods to the Philippine Army and trained the natives in the most modern defense tactics. They soon became adept in the building of pontoon bridges and in other similar engineering feats for which MacArthur was so widely known.

It was General MacArthur's hope that by 1946 the defense of the Philippines would be

MAUDLIN CRONES, TACKY GIRLS AT BARRYMORE RITES

Brother and Daughter Only Kin Present.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 2 (AP).—Several hundred women, drawn by curiosity and alternately maudlin and ribald, saw John Barrymore carried to his final earthly resting place today.

The actor said he found women delightful thru his 60 years of life. He would have been amazed at the women and girls who leaned against a restraining rope outside the mausoleum of Calvary cemetery. Many were shabby, sloppily dressed. They ranged in age from crones to 'teen age girls; to small, noisy, dirty children.

Some Carry Cameras.

A few carried cameras. Just after the service ended a large section broke into ribald laughter.

Barrymore, who died Friday night, was buried with a brief, simple Catholic ceremony. Approximately 100 invited guests were admitted. The Rev. John O'Donnell, pastor of Immaculate Heart Catholic church, said the requiem mass and read the committal ritual. He received the actor back into the Catholic faith—the religion of John's birth—last week.

Daughter Is Present.

Only relatives present were brother Lionel and daughter Diana, who had seen her father only half a dozen times since infancy and hardly knew him. His sister, Ethel, was unable to make a plane reservation from Boston, where she closed a play Saturday night.

Elaine Barrie Barrymore, John's fourth wife, attended with her mother, Mrs. Edna Jacobs. Her eyes were dry, but sad.

Invited guests included big-name movie figures, little known actors, and workers of whom the public never heard but whom Barrymore befriended.

Former Houseboy Invited.

The theatrical personages among them included: David O. Selznick, Cecil B. DeMille, Fredric March, Clark Gable, Ian Keith, Norma Shearer, Harpo Marx, Rudy Vallee, Earl Carroll, Herbert Marshall, Marshall Neilan, Errol Flynn, Katharine Hepburn, Greta Garbo, Louis B. Mayer, Spencer Tracy, Helene Costello Le Blanc, Maurice Costello, William Powell, Ronald Colman, James Kirkwood, and Marak Nishimura, his former houseboy who recently went to the Manzanar reception center.

Active pallbearers were Gene Fowler, author; John Decker, artist; Actors E. J. Mannix, and W. C. Fields, and makeup met C. J. Briden and Stanley Campbell.

Barrymore left his property to his three children, his attorney disclosed tonight. The estate of the veteran actor, who made an estimated million dollars during his long years on the stage and screen, consists of perhaps $10,000 in cash, an automobile, household furniture, and bric-a-brac, it was stated.

Silkworms on Display at Museum of Science

DAY by DAY on the FARM

by BOB BECKER

Ducks Divide Labor.

June 2, 1942.

A PAIR of ducks on the Wheaton farm, one a mallard and the other a Muscovy, apparently are firm believers in that old adage that "turn about is fair play." They are practicing coöperation in this way; each incubates the others eggs!

When we were on the farm the other morning one of the farm residents showed us these two birds. Their nests are in the duckhouse about four feet apart. One day the mallard will be incubating her own nestful of eggs and the next day she'll sit on the Muscovy nest. The Muscovy just follows the mallard's lead, and if she goes into the duck house and the mallard is on her nest she calmly walks over and perches on the mallard's smaller eggs.

Wild Bird Joins Flock.

Keeping track of the duck population in the barnyard is almost a full time job now that the mallards and Muscovys there are hatching out every day, but so far there are no additions among the waterfowl on the farm ponds. A number of mallards are nesting there, as well as one or more Canada geese and a white swan, but so far none of the men has seen any new ducklings, goslings, or cygnets.

There is an extra goose on the big pond, but it is a grown bird and not a newly hatched member of the waterfowl community. When the men made a waterfowl count recently they discovered that there was one more goose there than they recorded last fall. The only conclusion the men can draw is that a flock of wild birds must have dropped down for a rest during the spring migration and one of their members decided to make the pond her permanent home.

One of the readers of the farm diary brought up the question of albinism in animals this week by writing to tell us of a litter of squirrels which is attracting considerable attention near his home.

Not Uncommon Sight.

The letter is from I. W. Furby, Onarga, Ill., who states that a pair of red squirrels have a litter which includes two young ones with white tails and another which is nearly all white.

None of these squirrels is a pure albino, but all three have albinistic tendencies, usually called semialbinism or partial albinism. This is not a rare occurrence, since it is noticed often in squirrels, deer, rabbits, chipmunks, and in other mammals. Usually albinos or semialbinos fall easy prey to natural enemies because the whiteness in their coats is such a contrast to the vegetation that they are more easily noticed.

PROBE BERWYN TEACHERS' BRIBE GIVING CHARGES

Assistant State's Attorney Gordon Nash promised an immediate investigation yesterday of complaints by three Berwyn school teachers that they paid money to two members of the board of school district No. 98 in return for jobs. A fourth teacher said she had been solicited for payment but refused. William Kalal, president of the Berwyn school board, said he knew nothing of the complaints, but would ask that the board inquire into them at once.

According to affidavits filed with Nash by Attorney John Ligtenberg for the teachings, the bribes were given in 1939 or prior to that time. Miss Della Cesario, one of the complainants, said in her affidavit that she paid $200 to an unidentified board member thru a cashier's check.

Miss Vera Prochaska, 310 Southcote road, Riverside, a teacher in the Jefferson and General Custer schools, said in her statement that she paid $150 in December, 1939. She named the board member, as did a former music teacher, Mrs. Rosella Lettsome Schroeder, who said her father paid $175 to obtain her position.

The fourth affidavit was from Miss Ruth E. Buch, 1634 Wesley avenue, Berwyn. She said she was solicited for $150 in December, 1939, refused, and later was given a job in the primary schools, altho her credits qualified her for a high school job.

VICE FIGHTERS TELL PROBLEMS RAISED BY WAR

Prostitution, like war, has become mechanized, bringing unexpected problems to agencies fighting to stamp out venereal diseases among service men and transient war plant workers, members of the Committee of Fifteen asserted at a luncheon in the Union club yesterday.

H. H. Haylett, executive director of the vice fighting organization, told how prostitutes operating in trailers and automobiles keep up with workers and soldiers shifted to new plants or camp sites. He said legislation providing for confiscation of trailers and cars used by prostitutes will be submitted to the next session of the Illinois legislature.

The committee is expanding its activities downstate to include boom towns mushrooming at war plant sites, he added.

Dr. David Elliott, veneral disease control officer of the United States public health services, said, "Our biggest problem lies not with organized prostitutes but with lone women, often runaway minors spellbound by a uniform, found in taverns, hotels, and in cabs, and those soliciting by telephone."

A Typical June Day Today for Romantic News

BY JUDITH CASS.

TODAY'S romantic news keeps pace with the traditional June onrush with two weddings and two engagement announcements to hold the center of attention. Mr. and Mrs. George E. Boynton of Lake Shore drive are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Joanne, to Ensign Edward Chrisman Jr. In Evanston Dr. and Mrs. William R. Whitley are telling of the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ann, to another young ensign, David H. Nelson. Today's brides are Miss Harriett Street, daughter of Mrs. Harry L. Street of Winnetka, and Miss Maxine Neushul, daughter of the Ilya Neushuls of Winnetka.

Miss Boynton will be graduated on Friday from the Girls' Latin school, where she has been president this year of the student council. Formerly she attended the Sacred Heart convent. Ensign Chrisman, son of Mr. Chrisman and Mrs. A. L. Roudebush of St. Louis, Mo., was graduated from St. Louis university and the naval reserve midshipmen's school at Northwestern university. At present he is serving with the armed forces, and his fiancée plans to continue her studies until his return.

Miss Whitley's Fiance Is Now on Duty at Sea.

Miss Whitley is a senior at Northwestern university. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Nelson of Lunt avenue, was graduated from the Francis W. Parker school and received his degree from Yale university in 1939. After receiving his commission from the naval reserve midshipmen's school here he took four months of further study at Annapolis and at present is on sea duty.

For her marriage today to Lieut. Eric C. Lambart, Miss Street will wear the gown in which her mother was married 33 years ago. Of deep cream satin, the handsome dress has a bodice and sleeves of mellow rose pointe lace. Both the dress and the bride's veil and headdress also were worn by one of her sisters, Mrs. Thomas H. Knorr.

The ceremony will take place at 5 o'clock in the chapel of the Winnetka Congregational church. Guests at the ceremony and reception to follow in Mrs. Street's Winnetka home will include the bride's two grandmothers, Mrs. John A. Wakefield and Mrs. Charles A. Street; her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Reid Shannon of Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Bauduy Corby of St. Louis, and Miss Marjorie Boulton of Beaumont, Cal.

Marjorie Street Will Be Sister's Maid of Honor.

Miss Marjorie Street will be her sister's maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids will be Miss Lucy Trumbull, Miss Nancy Burley, and Miss Peggy Sargent. Lieut. Lambart, son of Capt. and Mrs. Harry Lambart of London and Hollywood, Cal., will have Victor Harding Jr. as best man. Ushering will be Lieut. Carl Olson, Lieut. Jay Berwanger, and Ensign William Gillerlain. Lieut. Lambart and his bride will have a southern wedding trip of several weeks before he has to report for sea duty.

Miss Neushul and Ensign Robert Bernal MacLean will be married at 4:30 o'clock today before their families and a few close friends, gathered in the Winnetka home of the bride's parents. A reception will follow at 6 o'clock in the Winnetka Woman's club. The wedding plans were made suddenly when Ensign MacLean was granted a seven day leave.

Mrs. Robert Braucher of Massapequa, N. Y., and Mrs. Timothy Campbell of Iowa City, Ia., will be the bride's attendants. Richard MacLean will be his brother's best man, and Hal T. Benham of Indianapolis, Ind., will usher. Also here for the wedding are the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil J. MacLean of Tampa, Fla.; the bride's aunt, Mrs. Charles Pratt of Flint, Mich., and Mrs. M. T. Mantell of Cumberland, Md. Ensign MacLean must report back for duty this week-end. His bride plans to follow him shortly.

Theodore W. Robinsons' 51st Wedding Day Today.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Robinson won't be giving a party today to observe their 51st wedding anniversary. Instead they'll spend the day quietly with their children and their two house guests, Mrs. Samuel D. Trimble of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Lunt Gardner. The Robinsons will be in Lake Forest for the summer, coming back to their Lake Shore drive apartment in the fall.

Mrs. Edward D. Shumway and her niece, Mrs. Matthew Rockwell, are going east for the graduation on Saturday of Mrs. Shumway's daughter, Miss Grace Shumway, from Vassar college. Miss Shumway, who carried the daisy chain during her sophomore year, prepared for college at St. Timothy's. The Shumway home is one of the five to be opened on Saturday and Sunday for the Lake Forest Garden club tour.

Mrs. Samuel D. Flood's and Mrs. Robert H. Gardner's emotions on hearing that S. Douglas Flood was not aboard the Drottningholm when it docked in New York on Monday bearing diplomats home from Europe were mingled ones. Altho disappointed that young Mr. Flood, a brother of Mrs. Gardner and son of Mrs. Flood, was not en route home, they were delighted to learn he had been reassigned as third secretary in the United States legation at Lisbon, Portugal. Mr. Flood's last post was in Naples, Italy. Since this country went to war with the axis powers, he had been detained in Italy.

Help Raise Money for Charitable Project

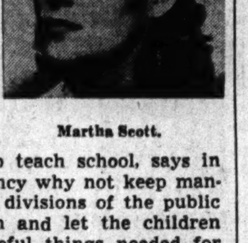
If Taffy looks contented, it's no wonder, with two such competent companions as Joan Spring (left) and Theo McGuire to look after him. Joan and Theo have been helping their mothers, Mrs. Frederick J. Spring and Mrs. Charles McGuire, raise money for their favorite charitable project—the Oak Park and River Forest auxiliary to the Chicago Commons—by "walking" the neighbors' dogs. Other small services offered by the auxiliary range from minding babies to baking cakes. The group will report on its unusual project at a tea tomorrow in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Potter of River Forest.

Looking at Hollywood . . . By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., June 2.—Bette Davis is a trial to her studio. Every time she goes on location something happens—like the time in Death valley when she sat on that cactus and injured more than her pride. At Lake Arrowhead last week, on the first two days shooting for "Now, Voyager," she tripped on a pine root and took all the hide off her shin, blistered her mouth on a hot potato in a campfire scene, and took on such a sunburn they have to put on her grease paint with a trowel! Warners are thinking of changing the title to "Now, What?"

Smart Idea.

When Martha Scott got a wire from Metro to hustle back and make a test for "The Man on America's Conscience," she wired, "Sorry, but first I have a date with some marines down in Quantico, Va." . . . Martha, who used to teach school, says in this emergency why not keep manual training divisions of the public schools open and let the children work on useful things needed for home defense? That way parents would know where they are, and they'd be helping. . . . It won't be long before Margaret Hayes, formerly engaged to Jeffrey Lynn, will be flying to the altar with Leif Erickson, recently divorced by Frances Farmer. . . . Ho hum, just when we were getting ready to announce that John Payne and Sheila Ryan were engaged he ups and takes Jane Russell places . . . and the night George Montgomery stopped going with Hedy Lamarr, John Howard bought her dinner at a drive-in.



Martha Scott.

Bit of Doing.

Major studio wants Theodore Dreiser to do an original story on the man of the hour, Joe Stalin, and Director Wyler tells me he'd like to do as his next major assignment a picture on Russia. There's talk here that the Russian picture, "Girl from Leningrad," will be remade with Merle Oberon. 'Twould be a great pity, for it's stark realism, and no one here would wear clothes that made her look like a polar bear . . . This year you have Frank Morgan, ex-soldier. Next year, no doubt, it will be Morgan, ex-farmer. He bought a few hundred acres of cactus near Hemet . . . Charlie Winninger, who had just signed in the 45-65 class, received orders to report at once. Charlie was strutting all over the place—till he discovered it was a young guy in Tarzana by the same name they were after.

What a Welcome.

Maureen O'Hara and Husband Will Price don't know whether it can be arranged, but they're planning a trip to Ireland to meet Maureen's folks. Now Maureen has a cable from Gordon Grimes, offering her the star part in a film to be produced there. Quite a step up, because only a few short years ago she was playing bits with the Abbey players. If she goes, she'll entertain our boys stationed there. . . . How would you like to hear a jumble of voice in a strange language, then push your face thru the shrubbery over your own back yard and yell, "Hi, neighbor!"—and have Carmen Miranda come dripping out of her swimming pool and yell, "Oh, baby! this is wonderful!" Well, that neighbor was Elsie Janis.

Morale Lifted Sky High.

The Mesa Rotary club pays the expenses each week-end for the soldier with the highest record at Williams field, Ariz., to visit Hollywood. Guy Howell from Cherryville, N. C., was the first chosen, and was the guest of the Dean Jaggers. He was taken thru studios, then to Pat O'Brien's cocktail party. Joan Bennett, Olivia De Havilland, Joan Blondell gathered about him—finished that off with a tour of night clubs. When he left for camp, he said, "If the Japs get me now, it's O. K. What the heck? I've seen everything!" . . . George Hurrell's first glamor shot on assignment for the United States treasury will be of Mary Healy. Wish he'd photographed that gold in Fort Knox. A sight of that shiny metal again might give us all courage.

Something to Remember, Girls.

At the David Selznicks' barbecue, Ingrid Bergman proved again that wearing a peasant dress made her look superglamorous. When I was talking with Designer Orry-Kelly, he said, "She's extraordinary. In 'Casablanca' she's supposed to be very dressy. I've tried some flashy things that would be outstanding on other girls, but make her look cheap and tawdry. She's such a natural beauty, when you put anything bizarre on her it throws her character out of line. But when you dress her simply, she's got our glamor girls beat a mile." . . . In the book "Kings and Pretenders," there's a line that could be applicable to Hollywood in wartime. A fashionable English lady of the past century returned to the city of Bath, and sighed, "Never was there a town with so much scandal, yet so little sin!" Ain't it the truth!

Ingrid Bergman.

He's Confused Me.

It's strange that without any political experience Will Rogers Jr. would stick his neck out by running for congress. Will's a nice boy and he's got a grand name and heritage, but for the game of politics you've got to be lion hearted and chested. . . . Harry Seymour, dialogue director, composed "The Yanks Are Coming Again," which Gracie Fields is making famous in New York. Around Warner's they call him "George M. Seymour."

Good Morning!

[Reading time 1 minute.]

This is the most remindful musical comedy!

Red Skelton reminds you of Bob Hope; Bert Lahr looks like George Arliss and acts like Schnozzle Durante; Tommy Dorsey is next thing to the spit'n image of Kay Kyser; his soloist looks like Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and sings like a wistful angel; Virginia O'Brien resembles a zombie—and Eleanor Powell a girl in our society department. . . .

The picture has a spy plot with backstage atmosphere and a cruising pleasure steamer as locale. . . . The heroine, Tallulah Winters, star of a troupe bound for an engagement in Puerto Rico, becomes an innocent tool in the hands of enemy spies posing as F. B. I. men. . . . Later she turns into a boomerang and knocks her employers galley west. . . .

Red Skelton plays delightfully and BobHopefully a hypochondriacal author on the cruise for his health, accompanied by his Man Friday [Mr. Lahr]. . . . Virginia O'Brien is the latter's dead pan heart's desire. . . .

The picture abounds in laughs, surprises, catchy music, AND Eleanor Powell's inimitable dancing. . . . Land, how she does get around on those beautiful long legs! So far as I'm concerned, her tapping spells taps for most of her competitors!

See you tomorrow.

Thru the Looking Glass

For the occasions when your purse is a sheer nuisance there is a neat little cosmetic kit that you can strap on to the belt of your dress. It's small enough to fit in your pocketbook when you carry one but it has real usefulness for the times when you can't.

If you live in the country, for instance, and dress casually the little swagger kit, fitted with rouge, lipstick, and a loose powder compact, can do very nicely. There's space in it for more stuff, such as handkerchief and keys, but it's so flat and compact that it never seems a burden.

You can wear it on the belt of dress, suit, or slacks when you go for a day of shopping that entails carrying packages in the wartime manner. Defense workers can use it, too; it's unobtrusive and tailored and won't look incongruous with the most utilitarian costume.

This is in gabardine, in khaki, navy, and a softer shade of blue. It was designed originally for women in uniform, so you can imagine how smartly cut it is. It's a find for them by the way. A fussy pocketbook is utterly incongruous with any uniform—fortunately against regulations with most of them.

The lipstick in this kit is a good one not inclined to smear or feather, and in a range of beautiful shades. The powder compact is so well made it should serve you for a long time. and that's something to think about in the face of the future, when we'll be without metal ones. The rouge, of the cream variety, is in a thin, round plastic case.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY KATE MASSEE.

Character Part.

The reception room of a Chicago advertising agency was crowded as usual the other day with radio time salesmen, talent for auditions, and the like. The buzz of conversation suddenly ceased when an imposing looking man of the Clark Gable pattern asked the receptionist: "Do you want me to be the echo in the washtub this week?" Milton P. Rasmussen, who told us of the incident, adds that the man is a big time network actor, big, too, in the sense that he will handle even the smallest part.

Likely to Succeed.

Something new in bulletin board ads greeted the students at Rosary college one recent morning. Petite Mary Birch, a member of the graduating class, had composed this little placard: "Is there some junior with a largish head and a shortish height who would consider buying a cap and gown from me after June 8? If so, please see me."

Ave at Vale.

Excerpt from a postprandial speech at the annual faculty luncheon at St. Philip's High school, as relayed by F. E. Munsch:

"And I wish to say how happy I have been with my associates, instructors, both masculine and feminine, proper and common, active, passive and supine, definite and indefinite, perfect and imperfect, regular and irregular, abstract and concrete. May our friendship never decline."

Like a Glove.

Our vote for the most appropriate fashion show title goes to "Two Weeks with Pay," a preview of vacation clothes for career girls, to be held tomorrow and Friday evening in a State street store.

Recovery.

Before catching the 5:17 for home one afternoon, a Chicago business woman cashed a check for a considerable amount, to pay the tradesmen's bills. Soon after she alighted from the train at Davis street, Evanston, she discovered she'd left her purse behind. Scurrying back to the station, she was told that the train was by then in the yards. She went over, and asked a pleasant faced colored man whom to ask whether her property had been found. He said he was the one, being the car cleaner, and, after she'd identified the contents of her purse, he handed it over to her. The man reluctantly accepted a reward, but was prouder of the letter of commendation the woman wrote to officials of the company.

The above recalls the experience of a Chicago man on a business trip to England several years ago. In the general excitement of debarking at Southampton, he gave the dock steward what he thought was a half crown. Hours later, at his hotel in London, he received a telephone call from the White Star line office, saying that the steward had returned the coin. It turned out to be a $20 gold piece which the man's father had given him on his 21st birthday.

Backstage Battle.

The newest craze among the cast of "Good Night, Ladies" is battle checkers, the beat-the-axis game for armchair strategists. It's played with anti-aircraft guns, infantry, planes, tanks, submarines, and battleships, and "kings" are bombers which can jump all the way across the board. June Knight was so absorbed the other evening driving Buddy Ebsen's men from Latin America thru Bulgaria that she almost missed a cue.

British Losses Laid to Failure to Use Natives

Failure to use native man power is the cause of British defeats in the far east and the same blunder in the near east will bring similar results unless the empire consents to an army of 200,000 Jews in Palestine. This was the warning Pierre Van Paassen, author of the best selling "Days of Our Years," and other speakers delivered before 550 persons who last night attended a meeting in the Congress hotel.

Sponsor of the meeting, billed as a testimonial dinner to Van Paassen, was the committee for a Jewish army of Palestinian and stateless Jews, of which he is national chairman. It achieved an enthusiastic response to the committee's aim: Mold public opinion so that congress will adopt a resolution filed last November demanding that the British permit formation of the army.

"The fundamental trouble is not military at all," said Van Paassen in speaking of far east defeats of the British. "It is political. There is no lack of man power. There need be no lack of equipment in the richest war products producing regions in the world.

"There is no lack of reserves. The Dutch East Indies alone could, without a single bomber, have swallowed 10 times the Japanese army of 20,000 men that took Java.

"There can be 10 million Indian guerrillas barring the way of the Japs tomorrow if England gives the word.

"Gen. Rommell, commanding the Nazis in Libya, has 100,000 men. The British have 50,000. But if England gives the word there can be 100,000 Jews rushing to the side of the British and Poles in Egypt."

Telegrams were received at the dinner from a number of officials, including six members of parliament, and Sir Josiah Wedgwood, who recently caused a furor by making a short-wave broadcast from London to Jews here in which he said:

"The Arabs are an excuse, not a reason! Ask no more from Britain. Ask America to give you arms and mandates."

Sen. James E. Murray [Dem., Mont.] declared that calls have been coming to America regularly from the Libyan battleground asking for more man power. We have supply bases and a token force there now, but lack ships to transport the men wanted, he said.

"As a matter of cool logic then, a Jewish army 200,000 strong based on the middle east is practical," he said. "Then all that America need furnish is equipment, for we know that the bulk of this army is in the middle east. Furthermore, we know that these men are partially trained, know the terrain, and above all, have a fanatical urge to fight the common foe."

In the midwest the campaign is led by Irving Taitel of Chicago, a lawyer, who declared that to the Jews who would form the army it is a "holy war."

Dark Chiffons Make an Ideal Hot Day Garb

BY REA SEEGER.

Flattering dark sheers are summer life savers for every woman, especially those who must stay in town during the weeks of wilting heat. With such smooth, cool dresses, dramatized with wide hat, wash gloves, and cool, dark pumps to match the dress, you have a costume that is flawless. The new arrivals are ready for the first rush of shoppers. Most of them are Spartan plain in streamline and adornment. All of them have short sleeves, some very brief sleeve caps. Skirts are short and gathered, not casually like the dirndls [altho these still may be found], but shirred at the sides and flat in front.

Filmy black or navy chiffon, together with a stunning new shade of copper-brown, comes in simple street and dress parade dresses . . . the dress parade models are trimmed with black lace, either on the dress itself or on the underslip. Some have fluttering apron panels in front edged with lace, some have deep hems for subtle contrast in skirt, neckline, and sleeve edges. Some are tucked from shoulder to hem in vertical lines, a slim trick that works every time.

If you must avoid lace in your life try the sheers that are tailored or the shirtwaist types. One tailored beauty is cut with a surplice bodice, long bell sleeves gathered into cuffs with pearl cuff buttons, and slightly flared, gathered skirt fastening with dark buttons from belt to hem at the side.

The peasant type dark sheers are other alternatives, practically a sleeveless blouse drawn close around the neck with a draw string and slit down in front. The skirt is gathered to a band and that's all there is to it.

"The Girl Who Stood Alone"

By Roy Vickers

Copyright: 1942: By Roy Vickers

SYNOPSIS.

Just preceding the present war, the London company June Clayton works for as secretary has become an armament factory. Thru her failure to destroy some spoiled sheets of a confidential report, the report is stolen by Henry and Jacob Ferrer, who have been selling similar information to Germany. Jacob escapes with the report but Henry is arrested and claims June aided them. She is questioned by Glenday of the British secret service who, believing her innocent, promises to shield her if she will work for him. She quarrels with her fiancé, Ralph Eddis, because she cannot explain her new work, and soon finds she likes Glenday better than Ralph. Glenday orders her to cultivate Frank Rawlings, a German spy in charge of sabotage. Rawlings falls in love with her. But Matarasso, who works with Rawlings, is suspicious of June. She pretends to be an Irish-American girl who took a little money from the Ferrers in exchange for information they could sell to Germany. This explanation satisfies Rawlings, who takes June into his confidence and gets her to help him in his work. But June reports all she learns to Glenday and, one by one, Rawlings' men are being caught, while June narrowly escapes being exposed. One of the tightest spots she gets into is when a woman calls on June in the middle of the night and insists that June accompany her to Jacob Ferrer's hideout. June finds Glenday there, handcuffed. Jacob demands June secure his brother Henry's release from prison before he will consent to let Glenday go free. June realizes Glenday's rescue is hopeless without her knowing the address of Jacob's hideout. But Rawlings unwittingly gives her the address when he tells her about Matarasso having her trailed in the van. She returns the next day to the hideout and demands Glenday's release and the return of the stolen report. Frightened by thought of the police, Jacob obeys her orders. June then tells Glenday she is quitting the service. But she feels obligated to continue when Rawlings gives her a baggage check and asks her to pick up the bag for him, which Glenday finds contains explosives. Nonexplosives are substituted in the bag before June gives it to Rawlings. After a dangerous job together, Rawlings asks June to marry him, and Glenday insists she become engaged to him. But June is terrified when Rawlings wants to marry almost immediately. He sends June to Matarasso's apartment with a package of cocaine, and she walks in on Jacob Ferrer talking to Matarasso. Ferrer, thinking Matarasso has double crossed him, forces Matarasso, at the point of a gun, to help him escape.

INSTALMENT XXXIII.

MISPLACED TRUST.

They were walking down the stairs, Matarasso in front, Ferrer behind, ready to shoot at the first alarm.

June followed them, keeping at a safe distance. At the hall they turned towards the back of the house.

June ran the rest of the way down the stairs, swung open the front door—to find Frank Rawlings getting out of his car.

"Danger!" she said in a quick undertone. "Back into the car and take me with you—anywhere."

He drove at high speed along the embankment, then turned into a maze of side streets, somewhere about Fulham.

"There's no one on our tail, darling. What's it all about?"

"That's all right, then!" she said with relief. "Jacob Ferrer was there with him."

"Well? He's not our bogeyman, is he?"

She had to invent, and invent quickly.

"Do you remember pointing out a man to me the other night whom you called the blue-eyed boy of the secret service?"

"Glenday!"

"Yes. That's the name. Well, when you went away to telephone, to see whether I was lying, a woman came to his table and spoke to him. As I was leaving Matarasso's house I saw that woman on the stairs."

It was, she thought, a brilliant little invention, and he accepted it.

"That's darned odd!" he exclaimed. "What's Glenday's game, I wonder? She wasn't walking in to arrest Ferrer. Glenday must have planted her as a double."

"I daresay, and you'd better leave him to it. You don't want to get mixed up with that." Her one thought now was to keep him from contact with Matarasso for as long as possible. She added lightly: "If you're going to take on the responsibilities of matrimony, you must start being careful. You can keep away from Matarasso for a bit! Or can't you?"

He laughed and squeezed her arm. "Good Lord! I didn't know you were going to turn out the bossy sort."

"You're showing me a new side of your character. I'm glad I fixed it with the registrar. At noon on Thursday week you will take an oath of obedience to me."

"While you're parking, I'll tidy up," she told him. She had chosen the Parnassus because she knew there was a telephone box in the ladies' room, and with all possible speed she rang Kilvern street.

Glenday was out and she had to speak to Miss Flinders.

"As soon as Matarasso and Rawlings meet," she finished, "that's an end of my work. It's also the end of me, as I expect I shall be murdered."

"Glenday is at the Yard with Segrove. I'll speak to him at once. Keep Rawlings with you as long as you can. Ring up again in an hour and for heaven's sake, be careful," said Miss Flinders with sudden humanity. "They really will murder you if Glenday can't manage anything in time."

"I think Glenday will," said June, as she cut off.

When she reached the lounge, she saw Rawlings stepping out of a telephone box.

"You've been doing some work!" she accused. A light tone masked the dread that he had been speaking to Matarasso.

"I counted on your being longer," he returned, and not until they were sitting at tea did he speak again.

"Mat hasn't been arrested," he told her.

It required all her self control to ask with the necessary nonchalance: "Did you warn him about that girl?"

"I didn't speak to him." She choked back a sigh of relief. "One of his tame thugs answered. He said Ferrer was only in the place about 10 minutes and then he left with Mat. The only girl he knows anything about is you."

This looked like an extension of the reprieve. But the handsome face opposite her was grave.

"Are you worried about anything?" she asked.

"A lot of darned funny things have happened in the last few days," he said, after a pause. "There's this funny girl of Glenday's coming into the house in a funny way. Then it's funny that the thug didn't see Ferrer and Matarasso leave, altho he was supposed to be standing by in case of trouble. They must have slipped out quite suddenly. Why? Mat wouldn't want to be seen in Ferrer's company—it was a fool risk from his point of view."

"Perhaps he or Ferrer knew Glenday's girl," suggested June. "Anyhow, I don't see that it need trouble us. If they arrest Matarasso, can he do you any harm?"

"He'll try thundering hard, if they pay him enough or frighten him enough," answered Rawlings. "He'd do anything for money. I've warned my own government against dealing with him, but they won't take my advice. He's a sort of broker, buys stuff from traitors. And as he's sometimes useful to us, I've been instructed to work with him. But I've never trusted him an inch. He can't pin anything on to me."

"But he knows the kind of thing you do."

"So does Glenday. But they don't know how I'm doing it and they can't get any evidence."

Somewhere out of sight the orchestra was playing a sentimental waltz. They were on a divan in a corner of the vast lounge. Drifting to and fro, without disturbing their privacy, were the "comfortable, safe people." But for June there was neither comfort nor safety.

"It looks as if they're rather closing in ou us, girlie, but I'll be able to look after you. If we're unlucky together, I may be able to shoot a way out for us. And if I can't, I can always pretend I've terrorized you into helping me. After we're married, you'll get off almost anything, on the plan of a wife acting under the domination of her husband."

Little did he dream she'd resolved to be nowhere near London at the time set for their wedding, so well had she played her part as counterspy and nominal fiancée! And even if he did want to marry her to further his own secret plans and schemes against her country, he seemed to love her just the same. June felt a shrinking from her rôle that was almost a physical nausea.

Yet—that very morning he had brought explosives into England! So how could she help being "all split up," as she'd told Glenday she was? Split up and utterly miserable.

"What's my gorgeous girl frowing about?" asked Rawlings, tapping her on the shoulder.

"Was I frowning? I didn't realize it, but I have so many things to think about."

"So have I. And you don't know what a godsend you were to me today on the stunt. The feeling that you will do what I tell you without caring what it is, that I needn't be guarded. The absolute certainty that you'll never betray me."

Coals of fire that burnt right into her soul—and the lifetime she had lived during the last few days! Her own personality had died a dozen deaths. She dared not wonder what she had become. And she dared not turn back. Those explosives which she herself had wound up on the windlass would wreck another factory unless she did her work.

"The beastliest part of my job," he went on, "is not the fear of arrest. I risk the gallows pretty regularly for rather less than I could earn as an instructor in aviation. This gives one back a little self-respect. It enables one to sneer at men like Matarasso. The beastly part is that you mistrust everybody. The secret services in all countries attract the best and the worst types of humanity. And when you know that it is the best who are the most dangerous—it is the best who stab you in the back—you get into a state in which you can't trust anybody. And then I met you, and you were among the worst," he said, and they both laughed. "That trick you played on Tarlinghouse—you ought to be ashamed of yourself! Every time I think you're prefect, I remind myself of that."

"You needn't keep rubbing it in."

"Of course I must! It was that you were just a silly, vain little darling. Otherwise I would have been afraid of you. You might have been one of 'the best' British agents—abominable Matarasso still thinks you are."

Three Sewing Machines Are Needed Today

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

In these days of conservation and economy, none of us can afford to permit any useful item to stand idle. If you no longer use your sewing machine, won't you pass it on to some needy mother, rather than store it away in a basement or attic? Such machines can save many hours of tedious labor, and ease the burden of busy mothers who have endless mending and remodeling to do to keep their children decently clothed.

Mrs. N., on the far north side of the city, would be very grateful for a sewing machine. She has three small children to care for, and since her husband's salary is barely adequate for food and shelter Mrs. N. makes an effort to save all she can by making clothing for the youngsters.

Mrs. B., also on the north side, has four children to feed and clothe. Her husband is ill and she is now working to support the family. They receive no relief or other assistance and meeting all expenses is a problem. She has little time for household tasks, and a sewing machine would help her to do her mending and sewing with less loss of time and energy.

The S. family, on the south side, lost almost everything in a fire last winter. There are a number of children, and a very small income. It has been difficult for them to replace necessary items, and altho a machine is needed, it is impossible for them to purchase one.

[Copyright: 1942: By The Chicago Tribune.]

You can buy veal shoulder roast with the bone in or with bone removed, the meat rolled compactly and tied. In either case, you roast the meat in an open pan, with no water, at a temperature of 300-325 degrees, about 25 minutes to the pound.

Do not make the mistake of searing veal before roasting. Searing will dry the surface of the meat and make it hard and tough. Beef may be seared if you like the rich, brown color [searing does not, as we used to think, "keep in the juices"], but never veal! Veal is lacking in fat, and if you have a few spare bacon strips it will do no harm to place these over the roast while it cooks. Salt and pepper the meat before or during cooking, as you please.

To prepare cabbage au gratin, first cook the coarsely shredded cabbage in salted water until barely tender, not a minute longer. Drain, saving the water for the sauce. Make a medium white sauce, using the cooking water in place of a part of the milk, and pour the sauce over the cabbage in a greased casserole. Sprinkle fine, toasted bread crumbs over the top of the dish, dot with butter, and brown under a broiler, or bake until bubbly and browned in a 375 degree oven.

The term "au gratin" refers to crumbs, not to cheese, as many persons assume because of the frequency with which cheese appears in addition to crumbs on a dish so labeled. You may add cheese if you wish. A good, sharp, process cheese, shredded, or a grated cheese may be mingled with the crumbs before browning the dish. Cabbage au gratin should please even the person who swears he hates cabbage.

Frozen custard is a healthful dessert for children and adults. Make it with white or brown sugar, or with honey, corn sirup, or maple sirup as the sweetener.

Frozen Maple Custard.
[Serves five]
1¾ cups milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup maple sirup
¼ teaspoon salt

Scald milk in the top of a double boiler. Add to combined eggs, sirup and salt, and cook in the double boiler until the custard thickens enough to coat a clean spoon. Stir constantly during the cooking. Place in freezing tray. Freeze rapidly, stirring two or three times during the period. Best results are obtained if the custard is chilled quickly, so from the saucepan to the freezer is the thing.

If you use sugar or corn sirup, add a teaspoon of vanilla to the recipe.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

Baked Bananas.
[6 Servings.]
6 bananas
½ cup orange sections
⅛ cup white corn sirup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons orange juice

Peel and cut bananas lengthwise and place them in a baking dish. Remove the membrane from the orange sections. Arrange slices of oranges atop the bananas.

Mix the orange, lemon juice, and corn sirup. Pour over the bananas and bake at 300 degrees for 45 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

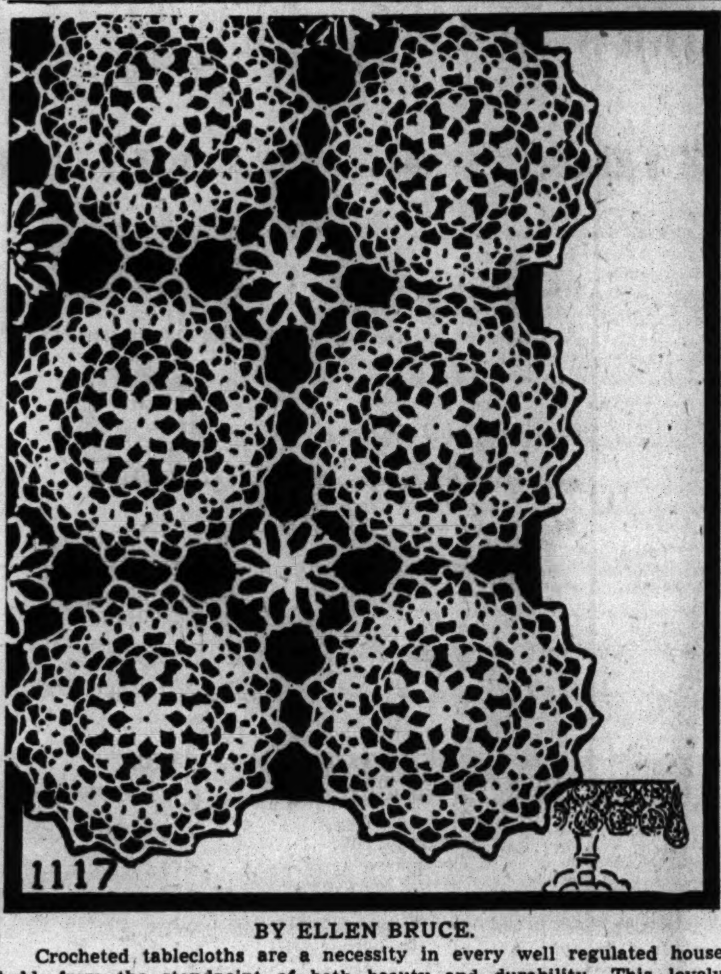
Cloverleaf Tablecloth Design



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted tablecloths are a necessity in every well regulated household, from the standpoint of both beauty and durability. This lovely, cloverleaf medallion is not a difficult pattern, but one which is most effective when set together with a lace motif. The medallions are joined together as work progresses and the tablecloth may be any size desired.

For instructions in crocheting the cloverleaf tablecloth, No. 1117, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

A Giggle for the Girls.

It may not make you laugh, but in the private dining room of a large office building where the "bigsters" lunch daily is a portrait of a . . . wolf. [And the girls giggle over it.]

Just a Typewriter.

"An Artificial Machine or Method for Impressing or Transcribing letters Singly or Progressively one after another as in Writing whereby All Writing whatsoever may be engrossed in Paper or Parchment so Neat and Exact as not to be distinguished from Print"—thus was described the invention of the typewriter when application was made for a patent in England in 1714.

On Wings of Oratory.

The admonition to the after-dinner speaker, "Forget Your Audience" was followed recently by an insurance man. Accustomed to addressing audiences of men, his shyness before a large group of women quickly disappeared as he warmed to his subject. Carried away on the wings of his oratory he ended his speech by urging "you men" to buy insurance.

At least three white collar girls were seen to get out their mirrors and take a long, searching look at themselves.

Time Wasters.

A survey of business practices ascribes time waste by chief executives to be due, generally speaking to three causes:

1. Lack of complete information in usable form.
2. Excessive interruptions for matters not urgent.
3. Unnecessary personal handling of operations which should be routine.

Achievement.

From Frances Peterson comes a story of achievement. An instructor and authority on Indian pottery, Mrs. Stuart Patterson, made a window display of half-finished pottery and also of finished work for the public to see. Many mornings thereafter she noticed an elderly woman studying the pottery. One very cold morning she went out and invited her in, told her she had noticed her so many times, and curious as to her interest, tried to draw the woman into conversation. At last she began to talk . . . said she always wanted to make pottery . . . that was all. Mrs. Patterson offered to teach her. O, no, she couldn't think of it! Her husband might not like it. But, coaxing prevailed and the new pupil began her work.

And then came the day when, out of a piece of clay, emerged a most lovely figure of a dancing girl. A beautiful thing! The instructor scarcely could find words to comment when the old lady explained: "You see, I've always wanted to be a dancer." Thru the years her vivid imagination had cherished the idea of a dancer so that her fingers, unconsciously, followed her thoughts. Today, shelves of original pieces make her home a joy to visit.

Please, Boss.

"Will you please tell my boss to consider my digestion?" writes Florence D. "One day I go to lunch at 11 o'clock; the next day I go at 1:30, by which time all hunger pangs have disappeared. I'm not a slave to the 'inner woman,' but I'd feel—and work—a hundred per cent better if only I could 'eat regular.'"

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1942: By Ely Culbertson.]

At times the temptation to "cover an honor with an honor" is almost irresistible, but that still does not make it the correct play. In today's hand it was only because a defender surrendered to temptation that a game contract was fulfilled.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	Pass	1 heart	Pass
2 clubs	Pass	3 clubs	Pass
5 clubs	Pass	Pass	Pass

West, with three potential diamond tricks, attempted to safeguard them by removing dummy's trumps. His opening lead of the club ten was logical enough. Dummy's club king was put up and the singleton diamond was led, declarer putting in the ten spot. West false-carded with the queen, and followed up his original plan by leading another trump. Declarer captured East's nine spot and then laid down the diamond king. This was where West stubbed his toe—hard! Still holding the A-J-2 of diamonds, and convinced that the king would be allowed to "ride" if not covered, West put up the ace, and wrecked his own team. Dummy ruffed, the heart ace was cashed, declarer discarding a spade, and the closed hand was reëntered with a spade. East's last trump was extracted and declarer then made West a present of his cherished diamond jack, after which the defenders were out of the running.

Granting that West's diamond holding was impressive, and made the covering of declarer's honors seem attractive, it was nevertheless the case that refusal to cover the diamond king would have defeated the contract. Yes, declarer would have let the king "ride," but to no avail. West would have to cover a third diamond lead, dummy would ruff with its last trump, and East would overruff! That would be the defenders' second trick, and West still would have an inescapable diamond trick.

The crucial point in the defense was to delay declarer's use of dummy's last trump until East, having gotten rid of his diamonds, could bring up the heavy artillery of the overruff.

War Benefit to Be Given by Swedish-Americans

Swedish-American dancers and choral groups will take part in a program to be given at Orchestra hall next Friday evening as part of the "Wings for Norway" rally of Chicago's Swedish-Americans. Speakers will be Carl Sandburg, noted Lincoln biographer and poet; Archibald MacLeish, director of the Office of Facts and Figures in Washington, and Lieut. Col. Ole Reistad, commander of the royal Norwegian air force in Little Norway, Canada. Swedish-Americans have organized on a national scale to raise $300,000 for the purchase of training planes for escaped Norwegian youths who are in training in Canada.

Today's column starts with a letter on a familiar theme.

"My dear Mrs. Bevans:

"We are the parents of lovely girls, ages 8, 12 and 14, and have always felt proud of their obedience and good behavior, not thru their fear of us, but due to our mutual love and understanding.

"Altho I have expected that, in due time, the girls would grow older and their ideas would vary from ours, I never thought I'd have such strong opposition as I now have from my oldest daughter.

"As yet, I've had no trouble with the younger girl. With the older one it is an entirely different story. Altho she is a sweet-tempered and intelligent child, she is as stubborn as a brick wall, and I really don't know how to cope with her at times. I'd like to give her a certain amount of freedom, but I feel that, due to her youth, this freedom has to be limited.

"She is quite popular and has many friends who come from nice families. They all are about the same age, not more than a year older. Week days I'd like to have her in at 9; Saturday nights, party or no party, I want her in at 10:30; and on special occasions I allow her until 11. I think that is fair enough, but she insists that these are baby's hours, and at times prefers to sit at home and sulk instead of going out and coming home at the aforementioned hours. She claims that her friends' parents allow them to come home much later.

"Another argument is that their parties should definitely be chaperoned, and that they should not be given the run of the house during the absence of the adults.

"My husband and I are far from old-fashioned. We were married when we were very young, and still like our fun and good times, and realize that children should be happy, too."

To this mother I wrote:

Your letter is very understanding of a young girl just entering her teens, because you do expect a change to take place, and you expect that the new longing for independence, and the interest in boy-and-girl companionship, will make your daughter see things with different eyes from yours and your husband's. I believe many parents like you need to be encouraged to "stick to their guns."

A great many parents are having the same trouble you are, but because you are so very reasonable in the hours and restrictions that you place on your daughter's social doings, I think you should be absolutely firm in that respect.

If the other parents allow later hours, they are very foolish. Also, you are quite right in thinking that the parties of 14 year old children should be held with some older person in charge or, at least, present in the house.

Indeed, you are not at all old-fashioned in your ideas. It isn't either modern or intelligent to turn teen-age children loose. How can we expect children as young as your daughter to be able to take care of themselves independently of their parents and of all control and advice? The answer is that we cannot, and that far too many parents are letting their children run wild because they shudder at the possibility that they will not be popular. Late hours don't make for popularity.

In going over all this with your daughter, try to treat her as a friend and companion, but, at the same time, try to let her realize that you and your husband are older and wiser, and intend to have her conform to your very reasonable requests, which are for her health and happiness.

How can the teacher help the untruthful child? Should sex be a matter for discussion at home or at school? These are just two topics which Gladys Huntington Bevans presents in her new 28 page booklet, "Talks with Teachers." Now available at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 S. Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents. Postpaid, 7 cents.

Women in War Work . . . . By India Moffett

"Please inform me whether an individual who registers for the officer training in the WAAC and is unsuccessful in entering is required to enter the regular training camps by virtue of her having signed the application. Your articles have been most enlightening and interesting and have done much to promote interest in this project," writes M. W. from downstate.

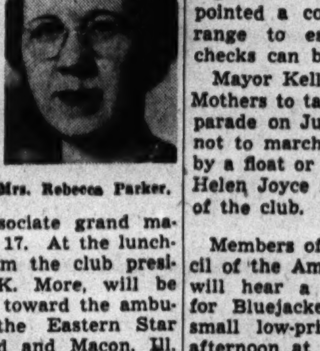
No, a candidate for the officers' training school of the women's army auxiliary corps does not automatically become a private if she is not accepted for the school. But, if she is chosen to go into the school and then fails to get her commission she will become a private, for she enlists in the corps when she enters the school.

Applications for the school, by the way, must be received by the Army Induction center, 515 South Franklin street, by tomorrow when recruiting for the school ceases. About 60 will be chosen from the 6th corps area to enter the school at Fort Des Moines, Ia. No definite date is set for the enlistment of privates, but it probably will be in September.

"I am wondering if the officers' training school of the newly organized women's army auxiliary corps is open to people of the colored race as well as others," writes R. E. D., continuing: "There has been so much discrimination, even in fighting for our country, that it leaves one in my position totally at a loss. I am colored, 23 years old, in good physical condition, with a fair amount of education and experience."

As this writer must know by this time, for it has been published many times, 40 of the approximately 450 women accepted for the first officers' training school will be Negroes, and two of the first eight companies will be composed of Negroes. Each unit will have about 150 women in it.

War stamp flowers will be used for table decorations and for corsages at a luncheon to be given by the Chicago Esther Gielow club of the Eastern Star today in the Grand ballroom of the Hotel Sherman. Mrs. Rebecca Parker, worthy grand matron of Illinois, and 17 grand officers will be the especial guests. Mrs. Esther Gielow, associate grand matron, is one of the 17. At the luncheon, donations from the club president, Mrs. Lala K. More, will be given Mrs. Parker toward the ambulance fund and the Eastern Star homes at Rockford and Macon, Ill. Two ambulances will be given to the Red Cross by the Eastern Star.



Mrs. Rebecca Parker.

The Navy Mothers' club has outgrown its quarters at 335 North Michigan avenue, so it holds its meetings in the Hotel Sherman, but starting next Sunday the new Navy Fathers' auxiliary will meet in the clubrooms. There now are more than 500 in the mothers' club and the fathers' auxiliary is starting with 40 members. At a meeting of the club Monday night it was decided that the mothers would assist in the navy recruiting drive by giving letters of introduction to boys who want to enlist. The letters will be addressed to recruiting officers and will provide shy lads with contacts that will make enlisting easy. The mothers will not urge any one to enlist, tho, for they feel that that is a responsibility they cannot assume.

Housing is another war measure that interests Navy Mothers and they have made a survey of the situation in Chicago so they now can give a list of decent, inexpensive rooms to parents who come to Chicago to visit their sons. This information can be obtained from the headquarters, and also there is information pertinent to housing in Pensacola, Fla., where many Chicagoans go to visit their sons in the naval aviation. It is planned to extend this service and obtain information about housing conditions at all the big naval stations.

Still another situation in which the Navy Mothers want to be helpful confronts many a sailor boy in Chicago on Saturday afternoons. He cannot find a place in which to cash his pay check. So, at the Monday night meeting Mrs. Philema McCullough was appointed a committee of one to arrange to establish centers where checks can be turned into cash.

Mayor Kelly has invited the Navy Mothers to take part in the Flag day parade on June 14. The club voted not to march but to be represented by a float or something similar. Mrs. Helen Joyce is the founder-president of the club.

Members of the Cook county council of the American Legion auxiliary will hear a discussion of Bundles for Bluejackets and inspect a new small low-priced ambulance Friday afternoon at the Hotel Sherman.

Mrs. E. W. Palm, 6711 Stewart avenue, 1st vice president of the council, will take the rôle of radio interviewer at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. She will talk to Mrs. Walter J. Kelly, women's coördinator of conservation of waste fats for the Chicago metropolitan area.

Mrs. Kelly's particular part in war work is to translate grease into ammunition. She has set down her task in a mathematical statement. She says: "We figure that 12% of all fat is glycerine. Glycerine is necessary for the manufacture of explosives. There are 30 million housewives in the United States. If each one would save two ounces of grease per week, that amount would produce 450,000 pounds of glycerine. And it is priceless stuff these days."

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and will answer questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

Never have summer rugs been better styled, more attractive than this season. Some of them, indeed, are so good looking that they might be used in informal rooms the year around. Special praise goes to peasant-craft rugs, inspired by old Pennsylvania Dutch creations. They are washable and reversible and come in a variety of sizes, up to 9x12. They are distinguished for their unusually artistic colors and their simplicity. Blended and contrasting tones form broad stripes across the width. One of the nicest is carried out in tones of yellow, beige, and brown.

Keep the Family Out of Your Own Marital Battles

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The young wife writes: "Several months later I divorced him, trying to hurt him the worst way. Instead, I think I hurt myself far more. I was desperate about him. Happily now, we are going around together again and plan to remarry just as soon as we can get a place of our own. I don't believe I ever would have divorced him if my family, who felt he was not treating me right, hadn't put pressure on me.

"I'm wondering if it wouldn't be a good thing for you, Miss Blake, to warn young people not to let family interference drive them to divorce. They must understand that young couples will have fights, but they'll make them up again if they're left alone without the family barging in to make trouble a whole family affair. I know a girl whose family is doing everything to break up her marriage. Her husband is a nice fellow. He has faults, as we all have, of course, and the girl will have the same experience I had if she goes thru with the divorce, because she loves the fellow a great deal.

"One's own family is likely to forget that the child, or sister or brother, may be the one that is driving the mate out of her life. I know now that's exactly what happened in my case. I held onto my job after marriage when I didn't have to. My man wanted a real home and a baby. Well, that's exactly what he is going to get when we set up our second home, and there'll be no more nagging or demanding about what he does when he goes out nights with the boys.

"I'll believe him next time. I'll believe that he was putting in time, just because my own hours of work used to keep me on until nine. I don't know why I should have expected him to be sitting home patiently awaiting my return, or meeting me at the corner to escort me home.

"True, I should have had the stuff myself to resist my family's pressure. I shouldn't have talked to them about my husband the way I did. I realize now how wrong I was. Anyway, I think an article from you, Miss Blake, would help. —Signed, Sorry."

It seems to us, Sorry, you've done a neat article yourself, forceful because of unfolding a first hand experience.

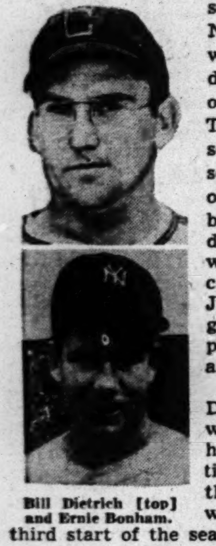
BONHAM FACES SOX TODAY; 8TH IN ROW IS GOAL

Bill Dietrich Meets Yankee Ace.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 2.—The White Sox's projected enterprise of sweeping the series with the New York Yanks was reduced today to a matter of two victories. The weather man sent rain today, so the scheduled opener was set back as part of a double header when the Sox come here in July. Single games will be played tomorrow and Thursday.



Bill Dietrich [top] and Ernie Bonham.

Manager James Dykes said he would stick by his pitching routine, which means that Bill Dietrich will make his third start of the season against the champions. He will be opposed by Ernie Bonham, that large person who has won seven and lost none this season for Joe McCarthy's outfit. Bonham has pitched four shutouts, including a 1 to 0 affair in Comiskey park on May 21.

Dietrich Did Well, but Lost.

Dietrich did fairly well in his two starts against the Yanks, tho the loser on both occasions. Here on May 3, before 68,394, he was beaten by Atley Donald, 3 to 1. The Yanks scored an unearned run in the first inning on an error by Myril Hoag. The other scoring inning was the fourth, when Bill apparently suffered a slight and justified touch of jitters after watching the Sox in their fourth waste a single, a walk, and a double on a fancy ruling by Umpire Rommel which resulted in Dykes being chased.

With the Sox one run behind, Hoag opened with a single and was forced by Joe Kuhel. Kuhel was out trying to steal second, but Sam West walked. Bob Kennedy then knocked a hit considerably more than 400 feet to the wall in left center and West ran from first and slid home. All eyes but Rommel's were focused on Kennedy as he tried for a triple. That Bob didn't make it to third was apparent enough. The surprise came when Rommel ruled that West's tying run didn't count because Kennedy had been retired at third for the third out before West slid home. The circumstance was all the more remarkable because Kennedy's shot was an apparent extra baser the second it left his bat and West was running at the crack of the bat.

Movies aren't taken of all maneuvers in baseball as they are in football, so Rommel had a cinch for his unusual ruling. Even if he had been wrong, no one could have proved otherwise, as even the Yank catcher was backing up the play at third.

Dykes Infuriated.

Nevertheless, Dykes, former roommate of Rommel's on the Athletics, was infuriated, on the basis of many things, including circumstantial evidence. He let out an awful yelp, even kicked dust on the glistening boots of his former teammate. James, by the way, was fined, not suspended.

Well, the result of the de luxe demonstration of alertness Rommel gave the 68,394 home fans apparently had its effect on the high strung Dietrich. When the home half of the inning started Bill Dickey bashed a double. Phil Rizzuto was hit by a pitched ball. Then Dickey scored and Rizzuto went from first to third on a wild pitch. Rizzuto scored when Tresh dropped Moses' perfect throw after Frankie Crosetti's short fly. That was all the scoring New York did or needed.

The Yanks have lots of ways of beating teams, but the foregoing is set down to give you some idea of how they beat Bill Dietrich, tomorrow's pitcher, the last time he pitched in Yankee stadium.

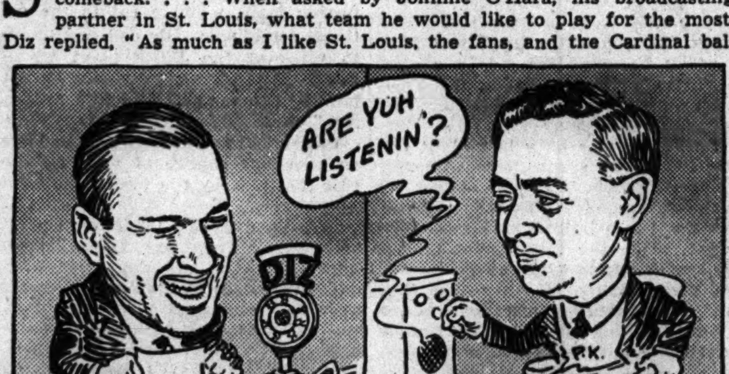
In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

SINCE that one inning pitching stint at Wrigley field in an exhibition game a week ago last Sunday, Dizzy Dean has the urge to make a comeback. . . . When asked by Johnnie O'Hara, his broadcasting partner in St. Louis, what team he would like to play for the most, Diz replied, "As much as I like St. Louis, the fans, and the Cardinal ball club, I still would want to pitch for the Cubs. Mr. Phil Wrigley is the finest fellow I've ever worked for, and I ort to give him first call on my services, since I'm now a free agent." . . . Jack Root, first boxer to earn recognition as light heavyweight champion, will receive a monthly check for $365 the rest of his life from annuities he took out when he retired from the ring in 1907. . . . Gene Bossard, new groundkeeper at Comiskey park, comes from a family of grass growers. . . . His father, Emil, is groundkeeper emeritus of Cleveland's Municipal stadium and League park, his brother Harold is groundkeeper of those two parks and another brother, Marshall, is assistant groundkeeper. . . . Leo Crowe of the famous Notre Dame family of basketball and football Crowes, has been named head basketball coach at Central Catholic High school of Allentown, Pa. . . . Tony Ancona, twice winner of a Chicago Golden Gloves lightweight championship, is attached to the military police battalion at Fort Riley, Kas. . . . Lloyd Cheatham, for two years voted the best blocking back in the Southeastern conference while playing for Alabama Polytechnic, is a member of the Atlanta baseball club. . . . Joe Cronin, manager of the Red Sox, rates Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees the best right handed bunter he has seen. . . .



Women baseball fans at Boston's Fenway park are said to be a bit perturbed because some of the male customers in the sunny sections of the stands strip to the waist. . . . George McAfee of the Bears, widely recognized as one of the greatest running backs in football history, has a yearning to get a leave from the navy to play one more game with the world's professional champions. . . . He wants to face the College All-Stars in the ninth annual charity game at Soldiers' field, Aug. 28. . . . Don Hutson of the Green Bay Packers has the most extensive pipe collection in football. . . . If he can talk the lady of the household into one more little boost in weekly allowance, by the end of this month he will have brought his collection up to 65 with a nifty little hand carved creation from Java on display at the corner drug store. . . . Seven members of last year's University of Texas football team are in the navy or army air corps.

Vacation Thoughts.

Folksy feeling, I declare,
Chicago has it everywhere;
New York may have the ocean tide,
Chicago has the old lake side.

Return to Methuselah?

We've tried the sophistication
Of countless modern "isms,"
We've scoffed at the olden credos
And smiled on rents and schisms;
We've felt that the ancient doctrines
Were outmoded and passé,
Entirely without relation
To the tempo of life today.

All right, and so what happens,
What comes to take their place?
A weird confusion and chaos
Engulfs all the human race;
Perhaps the things we've discarded
As inept and without relation
Are the very ones we need the most
To achieve the world's salvation!

—JAZBO of Old Dubuque.

BROOKS HAS BIG DAY: 3 WINNERS AND 3 SECONDS

Jockey Increases Lead at Lincoln Fields.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Steve Brooks, the young Nebraska rancher who was the leading rider of the 1941 Chicago season, demonstrated yesterday that he's boss man of the jockeys at the present Lincoln Fields meeting. He had six mounts during the afternoon. He won with the first three and finished second on each of the other three, running his total to 17 winners, 9 seconds, and 12 thirds for the meeting to date. This put him well in advance of Les Balaski, Ovie Scurlock, Billy Pearson, and his other rivals.

Brooks was out of action in the second and eighth races yesterday, but he was mighty busy in the other six. He won with Latent in the first, Remembering in the third and Mistress Step in the fourth. Then he sent Sis Baker to the lead approaching the stretch in the fifth race and did his best to make her stay, but she weakened in the late stages and finished second two and a half lengths behind Take Wing. In the sixth and in the seventh he brought his mounts up from last place in strong finishing bids that caught all of his rivals except one in each case. With Burning Stick in the sixth, he didn't come anywhere near overtaking One Tip, who won off by himself by six lengths. With Oust in the seventh, he got within a length of the winner, Silk Yarn, but that was the best he could do on this one.

Brooks Is a Farmer.

Brooks, who was raised in the west, bought a 180 acre farm in Nebraska last December. When he's not riding at the tracks, he spends his time on the farm, where he raises cattle and feed. He was married in March, 1941, to a Dallas, Tex., girl. He'll be 21 years old in August. He began his riding career on small western county circuits in 1936 but has been riding on the big tracks since 1938.

Latent was the even money favorite in the first race, which drew a field of seven 3 years old fillies of the $1,500 class. Hadepine went out to make the pace in this six furlong dash, opening up a lead of five lengths over her nearest rival while Latent was moving along in fifth place in the early stages.

Wins in Last 50 Yards.

After saving ground as they approached the stretch, Brooks took Latent away from the rail for the drive to the wire. In midstretch Latent was second, but Hadepine still was four lengths in the lead. Thru the last furlong, however, the pacemaker tired steadily and Latent took command in the last 50 yards to win by a length and a half. Her prices were $4, $2.60, and $2.40.

Brooks had no mount in the second race, but in the third he came out on a 3 year old colt named Remembering. This was a 7 to 1 shot. Steve whipped his horse out of the gate and put him to severe pressure to get clear of his pursuers in the dash for the turn. After getting a lead of three lengths he steadied his mount on the swing around the curve.

After getting into the straightaway several rivals began closing ground but Brooks gave Remembering a good shaking up to convince the colt that there still was a lot of running to do. Responding well, Remembering went on to cross the finish line two and a half lengths in advance of Chief Bud. Gem W was third.

His Third Winner.

After resting up just long enough to change to the colors of J. D. Weil, Brooks rode out for the fourth race on Mistress Step. Hi Murt and Rose Bane engaged in a brisk duel for the lead in the earlier stages of this 5 furlong sprint while Brooks was keeping Mistress Step fairly close to the pace.

In the stretch he called on her and she began gaining slowly. As they reached midstretch, however, her rivals gave way and she moved swiftly into full command. Just before the finish she weakened but she still had enough energy left to stand off Distant Light to win by a length.

BRAVES' RALLY IN 9TH FALLS SHORT; CARDS WIN, 4 TO 3

St. Louis, Mo., June 2 (AP).—Weathering a two run rally in the ninth inning, the St. Louis Cardinals opened a 14 game home stand with a 4 to 3 victory over the Boston Braves tonight and increased their second place lead over Casey Stengel's team to three games.

Mort Cooper had allowed the Braves only six hits and one run until the ninth. Sebastian Sisti tripled to drive in two runs before John Beazley stopped the fireworks.

WARMERDAM TO PARTICIPATE IN EVANSTON MEET

Charles F. Hunter, coach of the Olympic club, yesterday accepted an invitation to referee the Pacific coast Big Ten track meet in Evanston, June 16. It will bring together picked athletes of the two conferences.

Hunter, invited to officiate by Tug Wilson, director of athletics of Northwestern, host school, said his world champion pole vaulter, Cornelius Warmerdam, would be available for a new attempt at the meet. Warmerdam is the American indoor and outdoor record holder with vaults of 15 feet 7¼ inches and 15 feet 7¾ inches, respectively. The latter mark also is the unofficial world record.

TEBBETTS SEEKS ENLISTMENT IN ARMY AIR CORPS

Detroit, Mich., June 2 (AP).—Maj. Tebbetts has completed the physical examination, he said, and the application has gone to Washington.

Tebbetts underwent the physical tests at Selfridge field, Michigan, yesterday before the Tigers headed east for a 14 game American league road trip.

Fans in Boston Jeer Red Sox Without Foxx; Indians Win, 7-2

Boston, Mass., June 2 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox today for the first time in five games, collecting 14 hits, including two home runs, for a 7 to 2 triumph.

The absence of Jimmy Foxx, sold to the Chicago Cubs yesterday, was jeered by some of the fans in the skimpy crowd of 2,717. One spectator jumped atop the Cleveland dugout and shouted loudly, "We want Foxx, we want Foxx." Many in the grandstand repeated his cries and then booed when police ejected him from the park. Earlier, Manager Joe Cronin drew a round of jeers when he stepped to the plate to pinch hit for Wagner and hit into a double play.

While every Cleveland player made at least one hit, the veteran Mel Harder held the Red Sox scoreless until the ninth inning, when they bunched three of their six hits to escape a shutout. Jeff Heath and Les Fleming each hit his sixth homer against Starter Charley Wagner.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The fourth place Giants chased Bill Lee off his comeback trial yesterday. They fairly riddled Bill and finally forced him to retreat, leaving behind a 5 to 1 beating for the Cubs as well as Lee's third setback of the season against an imposing seven victories. It was only the second time in the current race that the southerner had failed to finish.

Most of Lee's unhappiness originated in one section of the Giants' attack where Willard Marshall, Manager Mel Ott and Johnny Mize operate in succession. This trio shared equally in 9 of the 13 enemy hits, one off Rescuer Vern [Lefty] Olsen. But of the three Mize was easily the No. 1 annoyance. His three hits figured in the Giants' three scoring episodes and one was a double which knocked Lee into the bathhouse in the seventh.

Cubs Waste Their Hits.

The Cubs' nine hit attack against Hal Schumacher, who had to watch his step until his mates' three run drive in the seventh, was spasmodic, accomplishing little in the way of getting men around the bases. There were one or more on the bases in all except two innings, the first and eighth, but the only one to make the circuit did it under his own power. He was Rip Russell, who after hearing that Jim Foxx was coming on to take his first base job, retorted in the sixth with his first homer of the season.

The big leaks in the Cubs' offensive efforts were in the spots occupied by Phil Cavarretta and Bill Nicholson. Cavarretta had four chances to swing effectively but faded in each, three times with mates waiting on the bases. Nicholson was shut out, twice with a man or more waiting, and twice when he opened innings. But Lou Novikoff waddled his way into two singles, each with the bases empty. In his one chance to produce in a pinch he bounced into a double play.

Giants Get the Range.

The Giants softened up Lee by giving him a slight scare in the third. Schumacher doubled to left and tried to score on Bill Werber's sharp single to right, but was thrown out by Nicholson. This little fuss was followed by three New York hits in the fourth, the first run of the game resulting. Ott led off with a single to right and was shoved to third by Mize's single past Lee. Ott loped home on Herb Barna's fly, and altho Harry Danning added to Lee's discomfiture by singling, the next two batters were retired.

Lee was plastered with three more hits in the fifth when the Giants made their second run. It all happened after two were out. Marshall doubled to right and skipped to third while Ott was beating out a hit to Len Merullo in deep short. Mize again got into the fun by singling to center, Marshall scoring and Ott going to third. Cavarretta stopped the annoyance temporarily by spearing Barna's tall fly.

Cubs Miss Big Chance.

The Cubs had their first chance in the third when Lee singled and the next two fellows walked with one out. But both Cavarretta and Nicholson hit popups. Then nothing much happened until Russell deposited his homer in the left field runway after Nicholson had grounded out in the sixth. Novikoff singled and after Lou Stringer's fly to Ott, Clyde McCullough doubled to left, Novikoff anchoring on third. This put further scoring in the care of Lee's bat, but he produced only a fly to Werber.

Schumacher started the final attack on Lee by singling to open the seventh. Werber assisted with a pass. The Cubs figured Marshall was going to bunt, but he drove a cannon ball single past Russell, Schumacher scoring. Ott flied to Stringer but Mize again delivered, this time with his double on which Werber registered. Before Olsen could reduce the Giants to a calm state, Marshall made the third run of the inning on an infield out, on which Stringer might have turned into a double play if he hadn't been too leisurely about his relay to first base.

PAIRINGS MADE FOR 2D PHASE OF HALE AMERICA

72 Golfers to Start Play Friday for 14 Places.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Pairings and starting times for the second stage of the qualifying rounds leading to the Hale America National Open tournament, golf's No. 1 war relief event, were released yesterday thru the Chicago District Golf association.

This semi-final test in these parts will take the form of a 54 hole medal argument Friday and Saturday over Medinah's championship No. 3 course. Forty-eight professionals and 24 amateurs will travel the two day route over the west side club's rugged layout in an effort to win 14 of the places allotted to this district in the tournament proper, which will be held at the Ridgemoor Country club on June 18, 19, 20, and 21.

While the Medinah rounds, drawn from Chicago, Decatur, Quincy, Rockford, and from Iowa, Indiana, and Wisconsin are being conducted at Medinah, similar sectional examinations will be held over the week-end in 11 other centers thruout the country, these being Kansas City, Bloomfield, N. J., Los Angeles, Denver, Atlanta, Detroit, Minneapolis, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Tulsa, and Providence.

Profits to Navy, USO.

All of the sectional leaders will join with a select list of exempt players headed by Bobby Jones, Craig Wood, Victor Ghezzi, Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan, Lawson Little, Henry Picard, Denny Shute, Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy Demaret, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Ralph Guldahl, and others in the main event at Ridgemoor. The net proceeds of this struggle will be divided equally between the Navy Relief society and the United Service Organizations.

The original starting field of 1,540, largest ever recorded for a national open competition, was pared considerably with local qualifying rounds which were held on May 25.

Frank Perpich, the young amateur who formerly starred for Northwestern university and who led the Chicago area field with a 144 at Olympia Fields, draws two of golf's biggest names in the 54 hole test at Medinah. Frank will tee off at 10:10 on Friday and Saturday morning and at 2:25 on Friday afternoon with Tommy Armour of the home club and Dick Metz of Oak Park. The latter was one of the pros exempt from the local trials because of his participation in the PGA at Atlantic City.

Jim Turnesa to Compete.

Corp. Jim Turnesa of Fort Dix, N. J., yesterday wired his acceptance of an invitation to compete in the tournament. He will be exempt from the week-end qualifying rounds, but will play an exhibition in the trials at Bloomfield, N. J. Turnesa was the sensation of the National PGA last week, defeating Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson and carrying Sam Snead to the 35th green of the championship match.

The pairings and starting times follow, the first time indicating the teeing-off hour for Friday and Saturday morning and the second for Friday afternoon's second 18 holes:

LATENT, away well but unable to keep up, saved ground much of the race but came out in the stretch and, closing with good speed and determination, came up in the final yards. HADEPINE sprinted into command with a rush, saved ground, but weakened badly in the final eighth. MISS LETITIA went with good speed from the start, was taken to the outside before reaching the turn, and faltered in the late stages, but held the others safe. HILLFILLY was unable to keep up. BLUE CHIP began slowly.

GOOD GOSH drew out gradually while racing in hand, opened up a commanding lead when approaching the last eighth, and was not endangered thereafter, winning easily. TWO PLY was under energetic riding from the start, lost ground and finished gamely in his even effort. BLACK HIGHBROW, away slowly and blocked in the opening quarter, started up after swinging to the outside and, closing well, headed BLACK FLAME at the end.

REMEMBERING worked his way clear under energetic riding, was steadied around the stretch turn and, continuing well following a brisk shaking up soon after entering the final quarter, won with something left. CHIEF BUD, under good urging early, but taken in hand after reaching the turn, stood a drive gamely but barely lasted to beat GEM W. The latter bettered his position gradually and, finishing boldly, would have been second in another stride.

Winner trained by M. Lowenstein. Went to post at 3:49. At post 1 minute. Start good, from gate. Won driving, place same.

MISTRESS STEP went close to the early pace without need of strong urging, started up slowly entering the stretch, took command quickly nearing the last eighth, and weakened in the late stages but held the race safe. DISTANT LIGHT, forced to race wide early, and unable to improve her position the first three-sixteenths, closed fast on the inside and outgamed REWARDED. The latter raced wide thruout, rallied after reaching the stretch, and held on courageously but could not withstand DISTANT LIGHT'S challenge.

FIFTH RACE—One mile, chute. Allowances. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Jefferson. Went to post at 4:17½. At post 1½ minutes. Start good, from gate. Won easily, place driving.

TAKE WING, away slowly and not persevered with when badly outrun, was taken to the outside when starting up, continued near the middle of the track when closing with a rush and was returned to restraint before reaching the finish. SIS BAKER, under a strong hold for three-quarters, opened up a commanding lead before beginning to tire but had enough left to hold SHORTENING safe. Latter moved up gradually and made a determined effort in the drive.

SIXTH RACE—Mile and a sixteenth. Three year olds. Claiming. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25; to groom of winning horse, $10.

ONE TIP forced the early pace under strong restraint, took command easily as Uncle Mose began to falter and, continuing strongly without need of pressure, had speed in reserve. BURNING STICK, very sluggish the early part and raced wide the final half mile, withstood good pressure gamely the final five-sixteenths and outfinished ALDRIDGE. Latter, in hand for almost three-quarters, did not rally to pressure, yet held on in determined fashion to the end.

SEVENTH RACE—Mile and a sixteenth. Three year olds. Claiming. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

SILK YARN, close up from the start, took command without need of urging, swerved out in the stretch and, strongly ridden the final sixteenth, had little left. OUST encountered serious contention with a rush and weakened near the end but held the others safe. ALUMONT bettered his position gradually and, finishing well, was getting to the leaders.

Winner trained by J. D. Rodriguez. Went to post at 5:46. At post 1 minute. Start good, from gate. Won ridden out, place driving.

WICKED drew out gradually while racing in hand, veered to the middle of the track when placed to pressure entering the stretch, and weakened, was ridden out. HENO LION, under a good hold for almost seven-eighths and well up after the opening quarter, held on well under a drive. TORCH MARCHER, badly outrun early, was directed between horses while coming with a rush thru the last quarter.

FAIRARIS WINS BELMONT RACE; EQUALS RECORD

New York, June 2 (AP).—Fairaris, English bred colt that was third to Alsab in the Withers mile, came back into the spotlight today by equalling Belmont Park's record of 1:48 2-5 for a mile and a furlong in winning the third running of the Peter Pan handicap.

Fairaris was a $4.50 for $2 choice. Warren Wright's Col. Teddy was a length and a half behind in second place. Another English bred colt, Louis B. Mayer's King's Abbey, took third.

It was the third victory in four American starts for Fairaris, owned by R. S. McLaughlin, the Canadian automobile builder.

SMIDL, MIGDOW ENTER ILLINOIS TENNIS TOURNEY

Bob Smidl, Chicago youngster who won the national junior doubles title with Jimmy Evert last summer, yesterday entered the Illinois tennis tournament which will begin Saturday afternoon at the Fullerton club.

Smidl probably will team with Evert in the doubles. They won the state title last year and were ranked No. 1 in the Western association in both men and junior divisions.

The entries of Ben Migdow, state prep champion; Bobby Jake, Northwestern's No. 2 singles player, and Erwin Schultz, promising Chicago boy player, also were received.

Lead Oak Park in State Meet

Oak Park High to Make Strong Bid for State Baseball Title

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Oak Park's baseball team, champion of the Suburban High School league, has no spare time to reflect on how it will fare in the Illinois prep tournament starting tomorrow night in Peoria.

Frank Foster, Oak Park's coach for 21 years, believes there's nothing like hard work to keep his boys keyed up for their big chance. Yesterday they played Austin and won, 4 to 1. Today they were to have met Steinmetz, but the latter team will have to play Foreman instead in a west section contest. Steinmetz and Foreman were prevented by weather from meeting yesterday.

So Foster was busy last night trying to line up a substitute game for this afternoon. He also hopes to make arrangements for the team to work out in a lighted park tomorrow night, since the tournament opener Friday in Peoria against Normal will be under lights. If they win they will play Saturday afternoon and a victory in this one would put them into the finals that same night.

Team Average Is .372.

He's mighty proud of this team which won 19 out of 21 games. Its record in the Suburban league was 11 won and one lost, the defeat being suffered in a game against Morton, which last year went to the state tournament, losing to Streator, 2 to 0, in the first round.

"This team is so good I almost have to keep my fingers crossed when I talk about it," says the veteran coach. "As a team we're batting .372. The nine men who will start the first tournament game have a combined average of .395. I'm not kidding myself, tho, about those downstate boys. They play baseball for keeps in the smaller towns."

Coach Foster doesn't like to single out any particular players. But how can a coach keep secret the fact he has a .485 hitter? He is Bob Nussbaumer, center fielder, and his skill has become public property to such an extent that a big league team [not the Sox or Cubs] is after him.

Three Good Pitchers.

"One of the boys who really made us click this season," confided Foster, "is Richard Kemper. He caught last year for the Flint [Mich.] American Legion team, which went to the national semi-finals. His dad came here to work at the Buick plant which was a break for us. He's only 15, but how he can throw! And he's hitting .400."

Foster believes Oak Park will have an excellent chance of winning the title if it gets by the first game with Normal.

"We have three pitchers on a par," he says. "They are Dick Demir, Charles Alstrin, and Roy Wiedow, a left hander. Most high school teams have only one good pitcher at best, and will toss their best one into the first round games. We're certain of good pitching in each game, but, of course, you have to win that first one."

Sport Comes Back.

In his early years at Oak Park, Foster had some good teams, then their caliber dropped off.

"The kids started playing softball the town got bigger, and baseball suffered," he explains. "So we took a lesson from nearby Berwyn. I gave up my duties as basketball coach and started fall baseball, working with these kids and getting them interested in American Legion baseball, which has been the foundation for those strong teams at Morton. In other words, we learned from the conqueror."

The squad will leave for Peoria Thursday night. Oak Park is in the same bracket as Collinsville, defending champion.

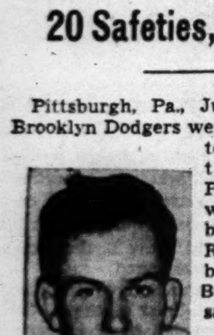
REISER GETS FIVE HITS—3 DOUBLES, HOME RUN, SINGLE

Dodgers Rout Pirates on 20 Safeties, 17 to 2.



Pete Reiser.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 2 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers went on a rampage today to scuttle the Pittsburgh Pirates, 17 to 2, with a 20 hit barrage while Rookie Les Webber limited the Buccaneers to five safeties.

It was the 10th straight defeat for the Pirates and their 16th in 18 games, extending back to May 14 when they cruised into Brooklyn as a challenging second place club and dropped a three game series.

Pete Reiser made five consecutive hits—a home run, three doubles, and a single—but suffered a slight injury to his left ankle while sliding into the plate in the seventh inning and retired without getting a chance at the modern major league record of six hits in succession in one game.

The Brooklyn assault was good for a total of 32 bases. Joe Medwick extended his hitting streak to 11 games. Score:

PHILS BEAT REDS, 1 TO 0.

Cincinnati, O., June 2 (AP).—Elmer Riddle and Si Johnson hurled shutout ball for nine innings today, but cellar dwelling Philadelphia took advantage of a Cincinnati error in the tenth to win, 1 to 0.

Until the blow-up Riddle had yielded but three hits over the regulation distance, walking but one man. Two singles, Substitute Third Baseman Joe Abreau's muff of Alban Glossop's bunt and Tommy Livingston's outfield fly, produced the winning run. Johnson matched Riddle's pace, allowing five hits. Judson Timm to Assist Odell in Yale Football

New Haven, Conn., June 2 (AP).—Howard Odell, Yale's new head football coach, tonight named three of his assistants, Ed Hirshberg of East Keesport, Pa., Judson A. Timm of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Stuart Clancy of Branford.

Hirshberg, captain of Pittsburgh's powerful 1931 eleven, was head coach at the University of West Virginia and Timm, former Illinois backfield ace, was in charge of football at Moravian college. Clancy, former Holy Cross star, played professional football until recently. The squad, led by Capt. Odell expects his assistants to arrive in a few days.

Prior to taking over at West Virginia during the last two years, Hirshberg assisted Jock Sutherland at Pittsburgh, Earl Blaik at Dartmouth, and also did some coaching at Scranton [Pa.] university.

Timm coached the University of Illinois backfield following his graduation and for nine years was head coach at Pennsylvania military college, leaving two years ago to take charge of Moravian.

Willie Joyce, Gary lightweight, has opened workouts in Trafton's gymnasium for an eight round encounter against Matt Daugherty of Milwaukee in Marigold Gardens Monday. Williams, winner of the 147 pound novice championship in the 1942 Golden Gloves tournament, will be trying for his 12th straight victory. The bout is scheduled for five rounds.

Passeau Faces Giants Today; Goes After 8th

Claude Passeau will wave his 7 and 3 record before the Giants today in the second of the series in Wrigley field. The Giants will send Tom Sunkel into the match against the Cubs. Sunkel, a southpaw, has won two and lost none.

Manager Jim Wilson's employment of former Shortstop Bob Sturgeon at third during Monday's game with the soldier team at Camp Grant, wasn't an idle experiment. Stan Hack can't go on forever, and Sturgeon at this time appears to be the logical successor.

T.F. O'Connell, Boxing Head of CYO, Dies

Thomas F. O'Connell.

Thomas F. O'Connell, director of boxing for the Catholic Youth Organization since 1932, died at 6 p. m. yesterday in his home, 4117 West 5th avenue. He had been ill for more than two years, but did not leave his post at the CYO center until two weeks ago.

In his 10 years of service with amateur athletics Mr. O'Connell contributed time and energy far beyond the immediate demands of his position, and the success of CYO contestants in Golden Gloves and other national competition was due in no small measure to his devotion to the training of Chicago youth.

Mr. O'Connell was born in Chicago 60 years ago. During the first World war he was war secretary for the Knights of Columbue and was stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training station. He continued in social work and came to the CYO after several years in the social and relief work of the Chicago Knights of Columbus.

Mr. O'Connell attended Holy Family grade school and St. Patrick's High school. He is survived by his sister, Sarah, with whom he made his home. The body will be in the funeral home at 5321 Madison street today. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

SIX TO DEFEND TRACK TITLES IN CENTRAL MEET

Campbell Kane Top Man at Milwaukee.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Six men will defend Central Collegiate championships Saturday night in Marquette stadium in Milwaukee. Of these, Campbell Kane of Indiana, Western conference title holder, is the outstanding athlete. Kane will seek to retain his honors in the half mile and mile, the events in which he defeated his Big Ten rivals last month in Dyche stadium.

Kane won the mile last year in the fair time of 4:16.2, and followed this with a better than average 1:52.8 for the half mile. Paul Kendall, Kane's teammate, returns to battle the champion in the mile. Kendall finished second last year. Kendall was fourth in the half mile, and in this event Max Lenover of Loyola again will try to beat Kane. Lenover finished second to the Hoosier star a year ago.

Roll of Champions.

Other defending champions are John Saunders, Miami [O.] university, 120 yard high hurdles; Harold Stickel, Pittsburgh, 220 yard low hurdles; Jack De Field, Minnesota, pole vault; James Milne of Michigan State, who tied for the high jump championship at 6 feet 2⅛ inches, and Ray Alsbury of Butler, broad jump.

Indiana's mile relay team will defend in this event, and since Ohio State, winner over the Hoosiers in the Big Ten relay, is not entered, Indiana should repeat its 1941 victory. Notre Dame will furnish the principal competition.

Western Michigan's half mile relay team won this event last year, but the 880 yard distance has been abandoned in favor of a 440 yard relay. Marquette's team, which was timed in :41.8 in the preliminaries of this race in the Drake relays, probably should be given the favorite's position.

Kane, Stickel, and De Field are expected to retain their championships. As usual, De Field will be hard pressed by Bill Williams of Wisconsin in the pole vault. Saunders' high hurdle title may go to Charley Hlad of Michigan Normal or Bill Cummins of Rice.

Alsbury Has a Job.

Alsbury is the Indiana state broad jump champion, but he cleared only 22 feet 6¾ inches. At least five entrants have better marks, including Maurice Gould of Illinois, who took second in the Western conference meet with 23 feet 6 inches. His teammate, Bill Lewis, was third in the same event, only one-eighth of an inch behind.

With Ohio State out of the meet [the Buckeyes have examinations this week] Indiana has a fine chance to retain its team championship despite the fact that Notre Dame whipped the Hoosiers in the Indiana state meet. Notre Dame's third and fourth place men in that meet probably will give little help Saturday in view of the caliber of competitors from 29 colleges and universities.

Notre Dame has won the Central meet five times since the games were started in 1926. The last Irish victory came in 1938. The Hoosiers have been victorious in 1934, 1936, 1937, and 1941. Marquette also has won four titles, finishing first in 1928, 1932, 1939, and 1940.

Jockey Injured Monday, Still Is Unconscious

New York, June 2 (AP).—The condition of Tommy Roby, 31 year old steeplechase rider injured in a fall from his horse at Belmont Park yesterday, remained critical today.

A report from the hospital said that Roby, ranking steeplechase jockey of 1941, still was unconscious. He suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries when Bayard Sharp's Knight's Quest rolled on him after tumbling at the eighth fence.

GRAINS WEAKEN ON PROPOSAL OF FOREIGN BUYING

Futures Break to Lowest Levels of the Year.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Grain prices tried to rally yesterday but uncertainty over the eventual results of the President's plan to purchase commodities in foreign markets and bring them into this country duty free overwhelmed buying influences. Futures fell to the lowest levels of the year with wheat the lowest since last October on a break of more than a cent a bushel.

Wheat closed 1 cent below Monday's level on the Board of Trade as late mill buying and short covering rallied prices fractionally from the lows. Corn closed 1 to 1⅛ cents lower; oats, ¼ cent lower to ⅜ cent higher; rye, 2⅞ to 3⅜ cents lower, and soy beans, ¼ to 1⅞ cents lower.

As was the case Monday, wheat turned weak after a break in the cotton market. Most oilseed markets broke sharply as it was feared that large quantities of competitive oils might be imported under the new executive order. Dealers said this reflected much of the weakness in soy beans.

Favorable crop news and reports of more and more new wheat arriving on the southwestern markets also were factors. James E. Bennett & Co., said its Fort Worth, Tex. office reported the new wheat arriving there was going into storage with prices to the producer ranging from 90 cents to $1 a bushel. This was about 20 cents less than the producer could obtain thru government loans.

Crop Estimates Raised.

The E. H. Miller statistical service estimated that based on June 1 conditions, winter wheat production this year would total 658 million bushels, compared with a government May 1 estimated of almost 647 million bushels. The service placed spring wheat production at 244 million bushels.

In the cash market, a car of Illinois barley sold at $1.05 a bushel, highest price since 1937. Demand for oats for eastern and southern shipment picked up and sales of 70,000 bushels were reported. Industrial consumers purchased most offerings of corn, much of it for deferred shipment.

ZENITH PROFITS RISE ON RECORD BREAKING SALES

Fiscal Year's Net Earnings Equal $3.32 a Share.

Sales of the Zenith Radio corporation broke all records in the fiscal year ended April 30, Eugene F. McDonald Jr., president, announced yesterday. Volume exceeded that of the preceding fiscal year by 44 per cent, wtih export sales at the highest point in the history of the company, one of the three largest producers of radio receivers in the country.

Zenith's net profit was $1,637,049, equal to $3.32 a share, compared with $1,236,438, or $2.51 a share, for the preceding fiscal year.

McDonald told shareholders that $750,000 has been spent on new Chicago plant facilities needed for increased production now and after the war, and predicted that with new developments radio will be one of the four great industries to lead business back to normal upon the return of peace.

All Facilities for War.

Zenith ceased producing radios for civilian use on April 22, turned its entire facilities over to war production, and will continue to operate at capacity, McDonald said. He declared the company is ahead of schedule on its orders.

Increasing taxes cut deeply into first quarter earnings of the General American Transportation corporation, which operates a nation-wide railway car leasing business from headquarters in Chicago.

Net income for the three months ended March 31 was $627,698, equal to 60 cents a share, compared with $1,165,853, or $1.13 a share a year ago. The company set aside $1,222,417 for the quarter's federal income and excess profits taxes and provided an additional tax reserve of $450,000.

Profit before federal taxes was $2,300,115, compared with $1,534,053 in the first quarter of 1941.

Warner Earns More.

Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., reported a substantial increase in net profit for the 26 weeks ended Feb. 26, with net income of $3,802,055, equal to 97 cents a share, compared with $2,782,544, or 70 cents a share in the corresponding 1941 period. The company set aside $525,000 for contingencies.

CRAWFORD FINDS WAR TREND TO RAILWAY POOLING

Denies Pullman Violated Anti-Trust Statutes.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 2 (AP).—David A Crawford, president of Pullman, Inc., told a three judge federal court today that wartime conditions have developed a trend toward a central pool of railroad equipment from which lines could draw if their own equipment was overtaxed.

He defended the company against government anti-trust charges that Pullman subsidiaries have exercised a monopoly on sleeping car service and restrained trade in the manufacture of railway cars.

Pool of Motive Power.

Not only are freight cars of various sizes and types collected and sent where they are needed regardless of ownership, but numerous small pools of motive power are in operation, Crawford said, terming this an entirely new thing in railroading.

Like Charles A. Liddle, president of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, Crawford denied the existence of any agreement requiring the Pullman company to purchase any or all of the sleeping cars it might require from Pullman-Standard.

Liddle declared his company would sell any kind of car which it is able to build to any company which is able to buy.

Traces First Streamliner.

E. Eugene Adams, vice president of the Pullman company and of Pullman, Inc., traced the background of the purchase of the nation's first streamlined train, the Union Pacific's "City of Salina."

Adams, then vice president of the Union Pacific, said he visited several car builders before recommending Pullman for the manufacturing contract.

He said "it was obvious that the company had had more experience than others in passenger car design and had done more research work in connection with lightweight cars and construction materials."

Crest Apartment Hotel on South Side Is Sold

INVESTORS' GUIDE

U. S. RUBBER.

I read recently that interest is mounting in stock of companies which stand to benefit from an early defeat of the axis. United States Rubber was among those mentioned. Please report on recent operations. Didn't the company have extensive holdings in the far east?—F. W.

Answer: Almost all the present production of the United States Rubber company consists of military supplies. The company also has undertaken construction and operation of a government owned munitions plant.

Under normal operating conditions more than half the company's sales consist of tires and tubes, the remainder about equally divided between mechanical and miscellaneous goods, and rubber clothing and footwear.

The company owns five plants in the United States and three in Canada. Far eastern holdings at the end of 1941 consisted of 131,000 acres of rubber plantations, of which 101,000 acres were in Sumatra, Netherlands East Indies, and 30,000 in Malaya. Export offices were located thruout the far east. Far eastern investments were carried on the year-end balance sheet at $18,873,000. Holdings in Malaya and the Philippines were partially covered by war risk insurance, and $1,400,000 was provided out of 1941 earnings for estimated war losses incurred prior to the end of 1941.

A record of recent financial operations follows:

	Sales.	Net income.	Dividends [com.]
1941	$315,345,328	$13,662,658	$2.00
1940	228,988,780	11,425,241	....
1939	195,310,847	10,218,849	....
1938	154,935,756	5,885,888	....
1937	186,253,188	8,607,903	....

Incorporated in 1892 in New Jersey, the company's capitalization is 1,739,092 shares $10 par common outstanding, 651,091 shares $100 par 8 per cent noncumulative preferred, and a funded debt of $37,947,000. Total current assets at the end of 1941 were $154,814,838, and total current liabilities were $66,464,919.

LONG DIVIDEND RECORD.

How long has the Pennsylvania railroad been paying dividends on its capital stock? What were total annual payments since 1937?—L. F.

SUPPORT VOTED STANDARD OIL IN ARNOLD ATTACK

Stockholders O. K. Farish's Stand.

James W. Gerard.

Flemington, N. J., June 2 (AP).—Stockholders of the two billion dollar Standard Oil company [New Jersey] gave their management an overwhelming vote of confidence at the company's annual meeting today after a small but vociferous group of share owners questioned the company's relations with I. G. Farbenindustrie, the German chemical combine.

Contracts with the German cartel and Standard's alleged failure to supply adequate information to the government regarding synthetic rubber had been the subject of charges made by Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general.

Agreements Are Terminated.

Company officials brought out that all the prewar agreements with the German concern had been terminated and a consent decree dissolving the contracts agreed to because they felt an attempt to obtain vindication would take time better spent producing war materials.

The resolution of confidence in the management came from stooped, gray haired James W. Gerard, who was United States ambassador to Germany at the outbreak of the World war. It came at a time when interest in the company's controversy with the government was comparable to that aroused 30 years ago when a federal anti-trust suit brought about a Supreme court decree dissolving the old Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

In a firm, clear voice that stilled the crowded room, Gerard likened the company's position to that of the biblical scapegoat that was turned out in the wilderness.

"I leave it to you," he said, "who is the goat in this case."

Brings Roar of Approval.

The resolution brought a roar of approval, but there were three unidentified voices which said nay.

It was Standard's fifth annual meeting at Flemington, a small community about 50 miles from New York, chosen in an economy move, it was understood. The meeting had the largest attendance in the company's history, old-timers said. Some 500 stockholders were crowded into the second story auditorium. The meeting thus was only a few steps from the Hunterdon county court house where Bruno Hauptmann was convicted of murder in the death of Charles A. Lindbergh's son.

Including the Rockefeller interests—which the company's president, W. S. Farish, said supported the management—67½ per cent of the stock was represented in person or by proxy, a total of nearly 19 million shares.

Philip Blumenthal, representing Mrs. Elizabeth K. Dooling of New York, who owns 206 shares of Standard Oil stock, arose to declare that Mrs. Dooling had been disturbed by the recent disclosures about the company and the German trust.

Asks Sworn Statement.

Mrs. Dooling, he said to Farish, wished to know whether the proposed directors had received any pecuniary return from the German trust in order that she might make an intelligent vote. Blumenthal suggested the directors make a statement under oath regarding any monetary returns received from the German trust.

William Ross of Brooklyn leaped to his feet and cried that the request was a direct insult to the president and the other officers of Standard Oil.

"I agree it is an insult," Farish said, "but we have to get used to insults."

Voluntarily, Farish told the suddenly quiet audience: "I swear under oath that I have never received any compensation or recompense from any other interests whatsoever including the Germans."

Others Deny Payments.

W. C. Teagle, Standard's chairman, raising his right hand arose and declared: "I have never received any sum from the I. G. Farbenindustrie except directors' fees of $75 for attending three meetings." Other executives present, Orville Harden, F. A. Howard, and F. W. Abrams, made similar statements. Each was followed by stockholder applause.

Leading the critical group of shareholders, William Floyd II., offered a resolution that the Standard management be required to answer fully and adequately the Arnold charges aired before senate committees. The resolution was tabled by a heavy vote.

'Leaner' Alloys on Market to Conserve Steel

New "lean" alloy steels developed by the War Production board to conserve vast amounts of critical metals have been made available to manufacturers for experimental purposes, Joseph T. Ryerson & Sons. Inc., Chicago, announced yesterday. So that manufacturers may test these NE [national emergency] alloys in their own plants, the company, a division of the Inland Steel company, announced that test lots have been added to its warehouse stocks.

According to Greswold Van Dyke, manager of the special steel department of Ryerson, the new steels are not "cure alls" but are designed to take the place of higher composition alloys wherever possible in tanks, airplanes, ships, and all kinds of tools and machinery.

Hope to Replace 80 Per Cent.

"Steel men and federal officials hope that as much as 80 per cent of the higher composition alloys now used for all purposes may be replaced with the lean alloys," Van Dyke said.

"The army, navy, and aircraft ordnance departments have been experimenting to determine all possible uses for these alloys in the production of war materials.

"During the last 20 years many different types of alloy steels have been developed, and many contained relatively large quantities of nickel, chromium, vanadium, and other elements.

"Since most alloying elements were plentiful, it was metallurgically sound to create these highly specialized steels to produce maximum physical properties. Because war needs are so great, the supply of alloying elements is entirely inadequate.

Arranged Thru WPB.

"This problem has forced the development of new steels containing a minimum of alloying elements but a composition balanced to produce adequate physical properties."

Ryerson officials said that heretofore these new steels have not been available for experimentation and it has been difficult to obtain even small lots necessary for determining the suitability of the steels. Thru arrangements with the WPB, the company announced it has been able to obtain small quantities for this purpose.

Bus Lines Cut Speed to 40 M. P. H.

Buses of the nation-wide Greyhound Lines today will cut their top speed to 40 miles an hour in a move to conform to the aims of the government's rubber conservation program, company officials announced in Chicago yesterday, after months of work on the system's complicated schedules. Most of the smaller bus systems had accomplished the task earlier.

L. G. Markel, chairman of the National Bus Traffic association, said that 95 per cent of the bus miles operated in the United States will be on the 40 mile maximum speed basis when the Greyhound shift goes into effect. Greyhound's general maximum speed has been 50 miles an hour, company officials said.

Running Time Increased.

The lower maximum speed will mean a moderate increase in the time required to make a trip. Officials said a bus which has been making the Chicago-New York run in 29 hours will require 32 hours. Running time between Chicago and Detroit will be increased about one hour. The bus systems eliminated all "express" schedules, effective today.

The bus systems began studying the operational problems involved in speed reductions as a voluntary measure early in March and held informal discussions with government authorities. Later President Roosevelt called upon the nation to cut the speed of all motor vehicles to 40 miles an hour or less. The program has been pushed with the aid of the governors of the states and the Office of Defense Transportation.

Expected to Fall in Line.

Markel said that bus operators in certain mountainous western areas have not joined in the move because they believe a top speed of 45 miles an hour on mountain roads saves more rubber than a 40 mile rate, but he said they are expected to fall in line soon. Mountain buses require much gear shifting if their speed falls below 40 miles an hour, and gear shifting is one of the major causes of bus tire wear, Markel said.

Officials of Greyhound and other lines said that plans for pooling their operations out of Chicago are being drafted.

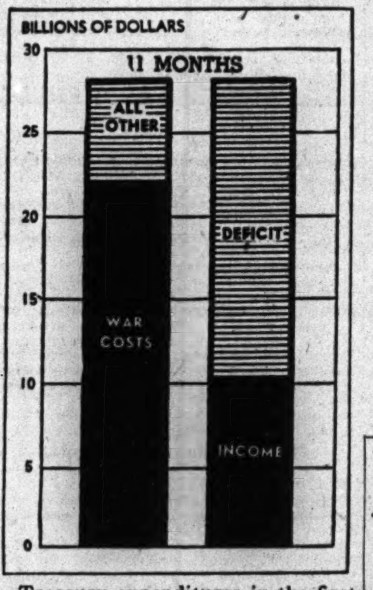
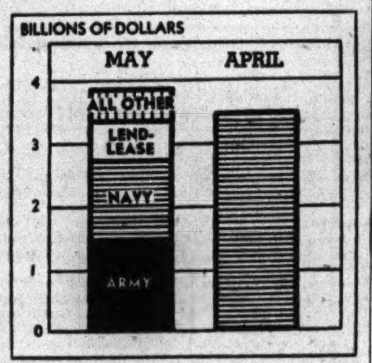
Mounting War Costs



Treasury expenditures in the first 11 months of the fiscal year, compared with income and deficit for the period.



The cash outlay for war and other expenses in May, compared with the April total.

3½ Billions in May

Washington, D. C., June 2 (AP).—The treasury's cash outlays for war activities reached $3,552,676,087 in May, a new high mark and more than 300 million above the April total. Indicating the steady step-up of war efforts, this May's war spending was more than four times that of a year ago.

It brought war costs for the first 11 months of the fiscal year which ends June 30 to the unprecedented total of $22,130,946,353.

Principal expenditures in May were $1,496,932,729 for the army, $1,228,379,580 for the navy, and $626,246,052 for lend-lease.

All other expenses of the government in May, including many nonwar activities which are connected indirectly with the war effort, cost 400 millions.

In 11 months total treasury expenditures for all purposes were $27,960,234,285. Income from taxes and other revenue totaled $10,306,802,877, leaving a deficit of $17,653,431,408.

Borrowing to pay for the deficit brought the total federal debt to a new record of $74,258,032,411.

AGREE ON PLAN FOR LOAN UNIT AS WPB DIVISION

Washington, D. C., June 2 (AP).—A senate-house conference committee today agreed on compromise legislation which would set up a new division in the War Production board with 150 million dollars capital to make loans to convert small plants to war production. The senate had approved a 100 million capitalization and the house 200 millions.

The conferees also rewrote and accepted a house amendment authorizing Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the WPB, after "consultation" with the attorney general, to permit small business to do or omit doing certain things he believed essential to prosecution of the war, without regard to the anti-trust and Federal Trade commission laws.

The bill retained a house provision making it virtually mandatory for government war agencies to award contracts to small enterprises certified as capable of handling them.

Bans Permits for Buildings Halted Under Priorities

Permits will be issued only when the prospective builder can produce an FHA or WPB certificate.

Dr. Palyi Fears Inflation Thru Flood of Cash

Dr. Melchior Palyi, former economic adviser to the Reichsbank, central bank of Germany, said yesterday that unless immediate measures are taken to curb rapidly accumulating cash reserves, runaway inflation may develop in this country after the war ends.

He said in an interview that Canada, Great Britain, Germany, and other European countries face the same danger in that their liquid reserves of money in circulation and bank deposits are showing an accelerating expansion.

Dr. Palyi, who came to the United States in 1933 and became an American citizen, said the primary source of inflation is "excessive liquidity," or the piling up of cash reserves. These reserves, he explained, include not only currency in circulation and on deposit, but war bonds, the cash surrender value of life insurance policies, and deposits in building and loan associations.

Further Increase Forecast.

At the end of last March, Dr. Palyi said, the total of these liquid reserves in the United States had reached 126.4 billion dollars, compared with 68.1 billions in June, 1933. He estimated that by the end of this month, the figure will have risen to 130 billion and by mid 1944, to 192 billion.

"Sooner or later after the war is over the situation will arise in which the average American will have an income such as at present but will no longer have any reason to build up additional liquid reserves," the economist said. "That will mean that a larger part of the national income will be spent on consumption. The strain on the price system may or may not be too great, but another and more dangerous process may get under way—the dishoarding of accumulated liquid reserves. If that happens no power on earth, short of a most violent deflation causing vast unemployment, could stop the inflation from growing to runaway proportions."

Canadian Problem Similar.

He said the inflation problems of Canada and Great Britain are similar to those of the United States. In Canada, bank deposits rose from 2.5 to 3.2 billion dollars between December, 1938, and February, 1942, while money in circulation increased from 175 to 510 million dollars, he said. Money in circulation in Great Britain rose to an all time peak of 755 million pounds [3 billion 20 million dollars], at the end of March from 2 billion 20 million dollars at the end of 1938.

Dr. Palyi asserted that hoarded currency in Germany constitutes a potential source of collapse for German morale. Reichsbank note circulation increased from 11.8 billion marks at the end of 1939 to 22.3 billion last month.

"Germans hoard because they think their money will be worth more after the war on the assumption victory will enable them to obtain more goods for their money," he declared. "As soon as the German people believe they cannot win the war, they will rush to buy and everyone will be bidding up the prices of essentials. All the price control laws in the world will not stop it."

RELEASE LUMBER FOR 100,000 WAR HOUSING UNITS

Washington, D. C., June 2 (AP).—More than 100,000 of the most "essential" war housing units under construction—involving 76 publicly financed projects in 25 states and 51,350 privately financed units in 20 states—were given the official go ahead signal by WPB today.

Work on nearly all would otherwise have been stopped because of the "freeze" of supplies of construction lumber, John B. Blandford Jr., national housing administrator, reported.

WPB WILL TAKE CONTROL OF ALL IMPORTS JULY 2

Forces Alien Ships Into War Effort.

Washington, D. C., June 2 (AP).—The War Production board tonight announced it would take control on July 2 over all imports, compelling foreign vessels to give preference to war essential cargoes rather than shipments transported primarily for profit.

Among civilian commodities classed as least essential imports which would be affected by the action are coffee, cocoa, bananas, and beef.

WPB spokesmen said the action, taken in a complete revision of previous import control orders, would establish a priority system on shipping space for imports thru controls over purchases in this country.

Former Control Not Complete.

Heretofore, controls have been exercised by the War Shipping administration thru the maritime pool of the united nations. However, some countries—notably, in the western hemisphere, Argentina and Chile—have not entered the pool and this government could not control use of their ships.

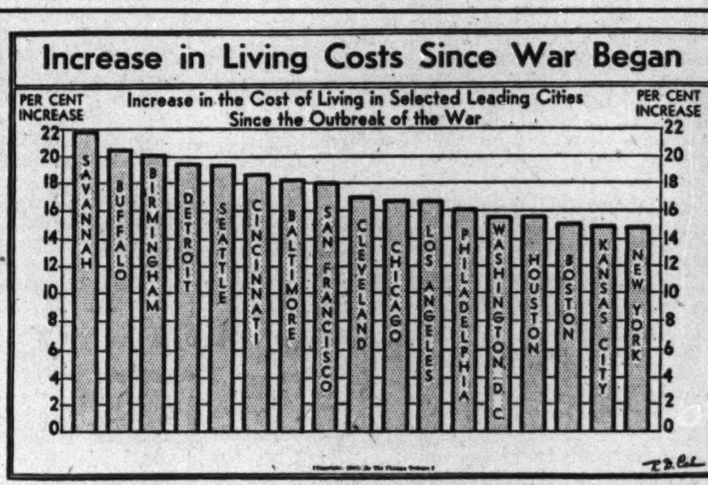
Commodities for import are listed in three groups, with strategic materials first, essential civilian commodities second, and items of least importance third. No person, except government agencies, may import items on any of the three lists without first obtaining specific permission from the WPB. The board will be guided in granting permission by the relative importance of the goods involved.

Rules for Selling.

After arrival in this country, items on list one may be sold only to government agencies or to others upon specific WPB authority. This is substantially the present method of handling these imports.

Items on the second list may be sold without restriction, insofar as the import order is concerned. Their domestic uses are controled by other WPB orders except where control is not believed necessary.

Imports may continue to be made on existing contracts for strategic and essential civilian commodities, but contracts for articles classed as least essential will not be allowed to stand. Specific authorization for these imports must be obtained for all items in the third group, regardless of existing contracts.



Arms Output Found Equal to Allied Demand

Washington, D. C., June 2 (AP).—Weapons are coming from American factories in quantities sufficient to supply our own army and meet the requirements of our allies, Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson said today.

Despite the huge expansion of the United States armed forces, and despite the fact the per capita issue of weapons has been increased, the major problem now is shipping, not production, Patterson said in an interview.

Solution Is Predicted.

"I am sure the production of armaments will keep pace with need, and ahead of shipping," he declared.

"We will be able to equip all the troops we can raise.

"I am not saying that this will not call for continuous effort on the part of American industry. Production problems have not all been solved. However, I am confident we will find a solution for all of them, and anticipate no real shortage of production of military weapons for the army."

Demand for Light Weapons.

The increased issue of small arms resulted chiefly from the new danger of attack by parachute troops, Patterson said. Such units as air corps ground troops, supply personnel and anti-aircraft gun crews, not previously equipped with small arms, are receiving them as protection against parachute troops, and the undersecretary estimated that these and other new requirements had doubled the army's demands for light weapons.

A serious shortage of certain raw materials still exists, he said, including rubber, nickel and copper, and there are still "tight situations" in the supply of such materials as aluminum forgings and parts.

CHICAGO AREA STEEL MILLS AGAIN BREAK PRODUCTION RECORDS

Chicago area steel mills broke all production records in May, according to announcements made yesterday. The Gary and South Works mills of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation — the two largest steel plants in the nation—established 23 new weekly and monthly production records.

Compared with March, when the previous records were set, the two plants produced 20,000 more tons of steel, enough to build 700 medium tanks. Blast furnaces at the plants exceeded their March output by 2,000 tons. The mills operated at 110.7 per cent of capacity last week.

L. B. Robertson, general superintendent of the International Harvester company's Wisconsin steel division, reported that the blast furnace department exceeded the five year record by more than 3,000 tons in May. The open hearth department bettered its record by 1,500 tons, and blooming mills beat their record by 350 tons.

VISION NATIONAL DOUBLING UP OF LIVING QUARTERS

A nationwide doubling up of living quarters was predicted yesterday by Earle Heffley, Chicago WPB construction official, in addressing a war problems meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce. The meeting, held in the Hotel La Salle, was called to discuss the WPB order issued last month to curb unnecessary building.

An analysis of construction under the war emergency, made for the association by a group headed by Gerhardt F. Meyne, was also discussed.

It was revealed that 45 examiners of the Home Owners Loan corporation are making a survey of Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Indana for the WPB to check violations of the construction stop order.

STOCKS UNEVEN DESPITE CHEER IN DAY'S WAR NEWS

New York, June 2 (AP).—Mildly irregular tendencies persisted in today's stock market despite further optimistic war developments. The list edged forward at the start on overnight news of the second 1,000 plane smash at the Nazis, but minor gains later were erased in many cases when rails, steels, and coppers began to give ground.

Wall street still was two-minded on the question of a long conflict or a comparatively early peace and the result, brokers said, was a disposition to step lightly on either side of the market fence pending more definite international events.

Average Closes Unchanged.

The Associated Press average duplicated its performance of the three preceding sessions, closing unchanged at 34.6.

Tobacco stocks picked up in the final few minutes, seemingly making belated response to the treasury's forecast that smokers would absorb higher taxes on tobacco products and continue heavy consumption of cigarets. Liggett & Myers B was up 1½ points and American B ½.

New bottoms for the year or longer were touched by Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Kennecott and Youngstown Sheet.

CHICAGO TRADE GAINS.

Trading volume on the Chicago Stock exchange rose to 16,000 shares in a session of irregular price movements yesterday. Twenty-seven issues closed higher, 33 lower, and 21 unchanged. Volume leaders included Chicago corporation, 1,400 shares, unchanged at 1; Middle West corporation, 950, off ⅛ at 3; Armour of Illinois, 750, unchanged at 2¾; Aro Equipment, 700, off 1½ at 6½, and Commonwealth Edison, 650, off ⅛ at 20⅝. In the final half hour of trading, Borg-Warner declined ¼ and General Motors advanced ⅛ from the New York close.

GAIN IN ILLINOIS SALES SMALLEST IN LAST 18 MONTHS

Springfield, Ill., June 2 (AP).—Illinois 2 per cent sales tax collections totaled $6,870,271 during May, an increase of $86,594 over April. Finance Director George B. McKibbin said that altho taxable retail sales were 9.44 per cent above those of May, 1941, the increase was the smallest in 18 months. Early this month, retail sales were running 20 to 25 per cent above the 1941 level.

"There is considerable evidence of a slackening in retail buying," McKibbin said. "Indications are this decline, due to wartime restrictions on some consumer goods, will continue with the result that state tax revenues will continue to drop."

Gasoline tax revenues in May were $3,871,557, a decrease of 6.92 per cent compared with last year.
